Our Next Governor-General.

A despatch from London, dated the 11th inst., says it is announced that Earl Grey, Lord Lieutenant of Northumberland, has been appointed to succeed the Earl of Minto as Governor-General of Canada. The following is an extract from a sketch of his career: "The new Governor-General of Canada, Earl Albert Henry George Grey, L. L. D., J. P., is an author, as well as a man of wealth. In 1899 he published a memoir entitled 'Hubert Hervey,' which was very favorably received. He is the owner of about 12,000 acres of good British soil. The best introduction he could have to the Canadian people is the fact that he is the brother of the present Countess of Minto, wife of his predecessor as Governor-General of Canada. Earl Grey is the fourth earl of his name and family, the first possessor of the title having been a distinguished commanding officer in the first American war. The new representative of the crown was born Nov. 28th, 1851, and in 1897 he married Alice, third daughter of Robert Stayer Holford, M. P. for Westbury, Gloucestershire. Earl Grey has won fame as the head of the organization which is buying up the saloons of Great Britain to conduct them under strict rules, so as to do the least possible harm to the drinkers. Only pure liquor is sold, and the bar is closed to everyone who the tender may think further drinking would intoxicate."

Enforcing the Regulations.

We take the following from the Toronto Star, and commend it to the attention of our readers: "The open season for black bass and June commenced on June 16th, as in previous years, notwithstanding reports that the close season would be extended to the end of the month. The recommendations of Mr. S. T. Bastedo have been adopted, and anglers need to bear in mind that this year it will not be lawful for one man to catch more than eight black bass or four 'luge' in any one day, and that no black bass under ten inches in length or 'luge' under thirty inches in length can be taken. This applies not only to small mouth but wide-mouth black bass as well. No person can lawfully catch more than thirty speckled trout in one day; nor that many, if a lesser number reaches a weight of ten pounds. In secluded fishing places it is customary for tourists to ignore the regulations and catch all the fish they can. There should be a local public opinion against those who slaughter fish. Last year reports came to the newspapers of big hauls of black bass from summer resorts in the lake regions; and, in several cases, the stories, if true, might properly have caused the boastful anglers to be heavily fined. Hotel-keepers in the summer resorts who hope to keep up their business, and cottagers who, having invested their money, expect to return to a district year after year, are very foolish to wink at violations of the regulations, which are based on Mr. Bastedo's knowledge of what is required in order that the supply of game fish may be kept up. The future of the summer resorts depends very largely on the preservation of these fish, and it is the extreme of folly to allow a few visitors to go in and kill all the fish they can."

How to Avoid Drowning.

This summer, as usual, there have been a great many drowning accidents, one of which happened on Saturday evening and the other on Sunday afternoon; both in the Toronto bay. As a majority of the victims are inexperienced canoeists, the New York Herald publishes the following instructions to persons who have been capsized: "As soon as the canoe capsizes, the thing to do, without getting excited, is to right her. Of course she will be full of water. Do not attempt to get any of the water out, because that is generally impossible, but climb over either the side or the end, and when you do this the chances are that she will sink under the water; but, as she feels the weight of your body lightening, she will rise to the surface, and it is then for you to lie down in the boat, resting your head on the thwart or crosspiece toward the end, where you can remain until picked up. The fact that your arm or arms may be out of the water, so that you can wave to persons on the shore or in passing boats, will not materially affect the flotation of your boat. Not only one person can do this, but two." The Toronto Star says: "As regards the danger of being drowned, people appear to learn little from the tragedies that occur, and yet those who give warnings should keep on doing so, in the hope that good is accomplished."

Presentation to Mrs. Garbutt.

At the regular meeting of the Willing Workers of the Methodist Church, on the evening of Wednesday, the 8th inst., the pastor's wife was presented with a handsome piece of china and the following address:

To Mrs. Garbutt,—

The members of the Society of Willing Workers desire on this occasion to express to you their appreciation of your fidelity to the interests of this Society during the whole time of the pastorate of your husband in the Methodist Church of our village. In view of a probable new field of labor at the call of the authorities of the Church to your husband, we trust that this brief expression of our recognition of your faithful service in this department, as well as in the general work of the Church here, may be a stimulus to fortify you in entering a possibly larger field of usefulness. We recognize that your position as co-worker with our esteemed pastor is one that deserves the fullest sympathy of the members of the Church with which it is your privilege to be identified. We pray that, wherever your lot may be cast, you may always be sustained by the conscious assurance of Divine guidance. We would offer this small memento of our sincere regard as a pleasant reminder of happy associations at Fenelon Falls.

The piece of china was presented by Mrs. Elisha Mark, and the address, to which Mrs. Garbutt made a suitable reply, was read by Mrs. Gould.

[The above was unavoidably omitted from last week's issue.—Ed.]

Mrs. John M. Hay, of Palmeston, left for home on Saturday, after a fortnight's visit to her sister, Mrs. M. H. McCallum.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stacey, of Yelverton, were at the Falls from Saturday until Monday, visiting their son, Mr. W. D. Stacey.

Powles' Corner.

(Correspondence of the Gazette)

Mr. David Smith lost his best cow about two weeks ago. The cow got on her back some time in the night and could not get up. A few days later she would have had two calves. Mr. Smith places his loss at $40. We would judge that the loss of a good cow at this time of year would be near $50.

Mrs. W. J. Graham, of Toronto, will spend a few months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Chidley.

Mr. N. Day spent part of last week in the vicinity of Norland.

Mr. Thomas Moffat and his sister Alice were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston last Sunday.

Miss Nellie Daniel spent a few days in Lindsay last week.

Mr. W. A. Gilis went to the Northwest on Tuesday, we learn on a prospecting tour.

Mr. T. Bentley of Verulam, is spending a few days at Powles' Corner. The old gentleman is quite smart yet at 90 years and 4 months, and Mr. William Powles still enjoys life at 94 years.

A SUCCESS.—The "Breezy Point" entertainment given at Kilmount on Wednesday evening by the Cataract Dramatic Company was very successful. There was a $40 house, the play was much appreciated, and the players were well pleased with their reception.

GARDEN PARTY.—The first garden party of the season will be given on the evening of Tuesday next, the 21st inst., in Mr. W. L. Robson's grounds, under the auspices of the young people of the Presbyterian church. Admission 10c.; excursionists free. The band will be in attendance.

LOOK OUT FOR HER.—The Peterborough Review says: "A woman swindler is going about the country, pretending to be a canvasser for a monthly paper which is giving a set of dishes with every $1.00 subscription. When she gets money she gives a receipt signed 'U. R. Danagan.' A number of persons have found that they were surely 'done again.'"

THE CENSUS.—The different opinions as to the population of the village have been set at rest by the census recently taken by Mr. Brock, which showed, on May 25th, 1295 inhabitants, 44 of whom were temporarily absent. It is estimated that, counting guests at the hotels and visitors in private houses, the population in summer is nearly 1,400.

UNFURLED.—The ceremony of unfurling the True Blues' handsome new banner took place in Twomey's hall last Friday evening, and addresses were delivered by Revs. Hanna and Garbutt, Mr. John H. Carnegie, M. P. P., Mr. Thos. Johnston and Mr. Thos. Lane. Vocal music was furnished by Miss Fanny Brandon and Miss Irene McDougall, to violin and piano accompaniments played by themselves.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—The "Cataract" Baseball Club will run an excursion to Bobcaygeon on the evening of Monday next, the 29th inst., per steamer Kenosha, leaving Fenelon Falls wharf at 7:15 o'clock, and calling at Sturgeon Point both ways. The band will be on board, and arrangements are being made for an entertainment at Bobcaygeon during the hour and a half that the Kenosha will remain there. Tickets 25 cents. The ladies may feel assured that good order will be maintained on the boat. Come with the boys.

THE NEW RAILWAY.—The Lindsay Evening Post of the 11th inst. says: "Owing to the extremely bad weather this week, the L. B. & P. track-laying gang did not make the progress that had been anticipated. Instead of construction work being completed to a point near the town, as was expected, the line will only reach Cross Creeks, five miles out, this evening. With fine weather, a mile and a quarter of steel can be laid daily, and, allowing for possible delays, the line will reach this town, and perhaps the station, by Saturday of next week."

THE BAND.—The Fenelon Falls brass band has been revived and reorganized. It comprises ten members, under the efficient leadership of Mr. Jamea Walton, and played several choice selections in the open air last Friday evening. Their uniform consists of black pants, white duck coats and white duck caps with detachable tops, which give them a very attractive appearance. The coats and caps were supplied by Mr. M. H. McCallum. We hope to see them frequently on fine evenings in the stand erected for them, two or three years ago, on the corner of Colborne and Bond streets. The band is affiliated with the village orchestra, and the two will be able to furnish us with plenty of music.

THE SAME EVERYWHERE.—The local paper of a Kansas town thus refers to a society event in that burg: "The new gown worn by Helen Gade at a dance last night was made of Chanute, and is said to have cost $40. Old man Glade owes Sim Keeey $60 for groceries, John Baub $60 for meat, Sam Brown $8 for milk, this paper $5 for subscriptions, and has a lot of other bills that have been running two or three years. Society appears to be about the same kind of mixture the world over." That's
