CZAR MUST BACK DOWN

Seizure of English Vessels Discussed in Grave Tones.

Russian Volunteer Fleet Steamer Described As "An Armed Pirate"—Palmerston Would Have Acted Promptly in Such a Crisis—Display Type in British Newspapers—Russians Lost 2,000 at Motien Pass—Japs Loss 300.

London, July 20.—Once again the leading English newspaper editorials are in the gravest tones on the Russian seizure of British vessels. Even the conservative Standard declares that the nation looks to the Foreign Office to take more effectual action than the ordinary conventions of diplomatic intercourse prescribe.

"The case is not one for fastidious treatment. If nothing is done officially to relieve the painful strain, the irritation of this country may grow into stubborn resentment. We cannot, even for the sake of peace, sit down under a series of undisguisedly provocative measures."

A similar warlike tone pervades almost every other paper. The Morning Post says Great Britain cannot tolerate the seizure of the steamer Malacca except by the abandonment of her self-respect as a great power.

An Armed Pirate.
The paper declares that either the volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg is an armed pirate or Russia has violated the Treaty of Paris.

"Palmerston," says The Post, significantly, "would not have required half an hour to make up his mind what to do in such a case."

All details in connection with the seizures of ships by the Russian volunteer fleet of steamers are printed in the most prominent type. No such bitter feeling has been aroused in the English press since the German Emperor's telegram to the Boers.

Intense Apprehension.
Intense apprehension prevails at Cardiff and other British coal ports, and the chartering of vessels for the Far East is practically at a standstill.

From all sides come urgent demands that the Government take swift action to prevent a recurrence of seizures by the volunteer fleet.

"Russian Piracy," as one paper heads it, takes precedence of all other news.

Admiral Sir Edmund Robert Fremantle, in The Daily Chronicle, says "The crisis no doubt is grave, but I hold that our safest course would be at once to inform the Russian Government that our cruisers have orders to prevent our merchantment being interfered with by vessels which we cannot admit to be men-of-war, and to request that their proceedings be disavowed, and that they be immediately recalled to Russian ports after their prizes have been released."

The Daily News declares that the Cabinet yesterday drew up a strongly worded protest which will be forwarded to St. Petersburg. The Cabinet, the paper says, had an interchange of views with the Admiralty and a program of action in the case of eventualities was decided upon. It was decided also to protest to Turkey.

Another Cruiser Goes.
London, July 20.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Mail, in a despatch dated July 18, says: "A Russian cruiser has just passed through Odessa with several guns covered with canvas on her deck. She also carried torpedo tubes."

Russians Lost 2,000.
General Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, July 20.— More Russian troops were engaged in Monday's battle at Maotien Pass than in previous engagements. There were probably double the number of those which took part in the fight at the Yalu River, while opposed to them were only one brigade and one battalion of the Japanese forces.
The Russian loss is estimated at 2,000. The burial of the dead continues. The Japanese casualties aggregated 300. The engagement has conspicuously demonstrated the wonderful efficiency of the Japanese infantry. They proved incomparably the better marksmen, with more initiative, and they outfought and outgeneraled the Russians on every point.

Japanese Losses Were 299.
Tokio, July 20.—The Japanese losses in the fighting at Motien Pass and its vicinity Sunday were 299 killed or wounded. The Japanese lost four officers and thirty-nine men killed and fifteen officers and 241 men wounded. The casualties all occurred in the second division. Gen.
Kuroki mentions, but he does not enumerate, the trophies captured. He estimated the Russian losses as exceeding his own.

When the Russians finally retreated, they were pursued by the entire Japanese line. Seven battalions of the enemy made a halt on the heights of Tawan and with four guns checked the Japanese pursuit.

Japs Fought on Without Officers.
The attack on Hsiamatang began at 8 o'clock in the morning. A battalion of Russian infantry and a squadron of cavalry assaulted the Japanese company on outpost there.
The Russians received reinforcements until they were a regiment strong.
The Japanese resisted doggedly. All their officers were either killed or wounded, but still the men fought on. The Japanese finally received reinforcements, and the Russians retired at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

That Fake Again.
The Foo, July 20.—A junk with eight Russians and fifty Chinese on board arrived here yesterday afternoon, five days from Port Arthur.
The Russians refused to talk, but the Chinese say that on July 11 and 12 the Japanese captured and occupied with 4,000 men one of the eastern forts near Port Arthur. Before reinforcements arrived the Russians cut off the 4,000 troops in the fort and exploded mines which resulted in the killing of every Japanese soldier there.

Russian Cruiser Sunk.
St. Petersburg, July 20.—A story has been going the rounds that three cruisers rejected by Germany were transferred to the Russian service, and joined the Vladivostok squadron. One of the cruisers and a torpedo boat, it is added, struck mines and went down. The story is not confirmed. The Admiralty has no news of any vessel having been lost at Vladivostok.

TASCHEREAU'S UTTERANCES Government Awaits Fuller Reports of His Speech Before Giving a Full Reply

House Proceedings.
Ottawa, July 20.—Sir Elzear Tas-chereau's alleged utterances in England concerning the Dundonald incident were brought to the notice of the Government by E. F. Clarke yesterday. Mr. Clarke said:
"I would like to ask the Government if the statement has been brought to their attention; if this statement has been authorized; if the Government approve of it, and if they will make some definite announcement as to the position of the Government, either now or at the sitting of the House to-morrow?" The Minister of Finance, who was leading the House, replied that he could not now or to-morrow give a precise answer to the question.

Waits For Information.
"We cannot deny," he said, "that our attention has been called to the matter, but it wouldn't be wise for us to assume anything to the disad-vantage of the distinguished chief justice of Canada on a mere cable report. I think before forming any opinion as to any utterance of Sir Elzear Taschereau, it would be wise for us to get fuller information. We have none at the present time upon the matter to which the hon. gentleman has drawn attention."

Col. Hughes Answered.
Col. Sam Hughes' statement made the other day in the House, to the effect that privates coming into the Ottawa camp for musketry training were made to do servants' work, drew from the Minister of Militia a long reply.
Lieut.-Col. Cartwright, director of the School of Musketry, had drawn up a report, which Sir Frederick read, to the effect that privates were not put at servants' work, but that men of the permanent force did fatigue duty, and it would be hardship to forbid them making a little extra as officers' servants.

Paid $300,000 For a Railway.
Hon. H. R. Emmerson brought down a resolution authorizing the purchase of the Canada Eastern Railway from Alexander Gibson at a cost of $300,000. The acquisition of this road will give the Intercolonial Railway direct connection with Fredericton, N.B. The Government has purchased with the railway the Fredericton and St. Mary's bridge, terms for the acquisition of which are set forth in the resolution.

Dog Fish in Commons.
Mr. R. L. Borden by a question brought up the problem of the dog-fish, the redoubtable enemy of the Nova Scotia fishing interests.

Hon. Mr. Frontaine, in a brief statement, expressed the hope that works might be established which would render dogfish of some commercial value for fertilizers, for oil, and other things. In some parts of Europe the people had no objection to eating dogfish, but in Canada they were regarded as too coarse.
The House made some progress on the estimates of the Department and adjourned.
