Farmers and Soldiering.

Whenever the Hamilton Spectator refers to military matters it speaks derisively of "Doc" Borden and "Farmer" Fisher; and as it is particularly anxious to learn what Farmer Fisher knows about military matters, the Toronto Star thus enlightens it:

"Hon. Sidney Fisher is a farmer. He is also a graduate of Oxford, and therefore has an educated man's knowledge of affairs generally. But Ontario is crowded with farmers, not graduates of Oxford either, who know quite a bit about military matters as they affect this country. They know, for instance, that if this country spends twelve million dollars in one year in making a military splurge, the money must come out of the people's pockets, and that the farmers are the majority of the people. They know that if those among us who dream nightly of battle-fields and glory had their way, the country wasting its youthful strength in seeking to reproduce here the military establishments of Europe. They know, too, that there is a reasonable course, and that the present Government has followed it—resisting those who wished to see us instantly prepare for an imaginary war, and also not heeding those equally misguided persons who say that the necessity to defend ourselves is forever out of the question. The Laurier Government would not let Lord Dundonald have his wild way with the public funds, but yet, the country's resources being greater than at any previous period, the Government in seven years spent double the money on militia and defence that was spent during the last seven years of Conservative rule. The militia establishment has been greatly increased in strength and efficiency. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be attacked from opposite directions in this matter. The militia will be asked to condemn him for not doing enough, and the farmers will be urged to condemn him for having spent more on militia and defence than the previous Government used to spend. Already the Laurier Administration has been attacked from these opposite directions, and the campaign has scarcely begun. It is probable, therefore, that a very wise and moderate middle course has been followed, satisfactory to neither extreme, but deserving the approval of the general public."

Plot Against Colonial Bachelors.

A despatch from London, England, dated Sept 14th, says:

"London Truth, in an article respecting an advertisement addressed to bachelors which appeared in certain colonial papers, says: 'The advertisers called themselves Lloyd & Duncan, Anglo-American Agents, 91 St. Mary's Road, Leyton. On enquiry at that address, Truth's representative found that the house had been empty some weeks. The advertisers proposed to supply men in the colonies with suitable partners from thousands of good intelligent girls around Leyton. Any colonial with a fancy for one of those damsels was asked to remit five dollars. Truth fears that the only result of the enterprise was a number of dollars transmitted from the other side of the Atlantic to this side. The number of bachelors on one side and spinsters on the other remains unaltered.' Truth wonders that the possibility of this result did not occur to any of the colonial papers which published the advertisement. Truth has received several enquiries from Canada about the advertisement."

The advertisement referred to was sent to the Gazette, but we threw it aside, believing it to be a "fake," and knowing that it is not yet necessary to import "good intelligent girls" from England or any other country, as there are thousands of them in Canada as good as any in the world. It may be that in some parts of the Dominion there is a surplusage of bachelors, but a great many are foreigners who, if they sent over the ocean for wives, would prefer those of their own nationality. The papers that inserted the advertisement no doubt did so because they expected to be paid for it, without speculating as to whether it would have any matrimonial results or not.

Farewell Service and Presentation.

On Wednesday evening a farewell service was tendered Miss Agnes I. Dickson, B. A., who leaves shortly for China, by the congregation and Young People's Society of St. Andrew's church. The service was very interesting and impressive, and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Cameron, of Toronto, gave a very able address, and Miss Isabella Little, M. D., of Simcoe county, who goes to China in company with Miss Dickson, spoke briefly. Excellent music was supplied by the choir. During the evening Miss Dickson was made the recipient of a purse and the following address, which was read by Miss Fanny Brandon, and to which Miss Dickson replied feelingly, the presentation being made by Mrs. Chambers:

Dear Miss Dickson:

We, the congregation and Young People's Society of St. Andrew's church, feel that we cannot allow you to leave Fenelon Falls without endeavoring to express the deep love and esteem which we bear towards you. Your departure causes us both pain and pleasure; pain because your bright presence and willing assistance in our church work will be missing, and pleasure because you have been chosen and have been deemed worthy to serve the Master in the Foreign Mission field. A great honor has fallen upon Fenelon Falls, but more particularly upon St. Andrew's church, in being able to supply one willing to take up this most noble work, and the feeling of gratitude and pleasure in the course you have taken is universal throughout the village. Your path will not be easy; many trials must beset it, but the strong right arm of Him in whose service you are enlisting will never fail you. Your career will be watched by us with anxious, loving eyes, and we feel sure of not being disappointed in the great things which we expect of you.

We ask you in parting to accept this little gift as a slight token of our deep esteem, and to remember when in that far distant land that you are being followed by the earnest prayers of the congregation of St. Andrew's, Fenelon Falls.

September 21st, 1904.
Miss Dickson and Miss Little were designated as missionaries at Erskine church, Montreal, last Friday night. Their destination is the mission of Macao, in South China, and they will sail from Vancouver by the steamer Empress of China on October 31st. They go as the representatives of the Women's Mission Society of the Presbyterian Church of Montreal, and hold their appointments from the Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Powles' Corner.

(Correspondence of the Gazette.)

Once more death has come, and has taken from our midst Mr. Charles Stroud, in his 74th year. Mr. Stroud was highly respected by everyone within his acquaintance and left no enemies behind him. He was kind and affectionate to his family, who have the sympathy of the whole community. The departed was interred in Eden cemetery on Sunday last, and was followed by a very large concourse of sorrowing friends.

Mrs. Thos. Daniel is steadily improving since the accident which befel her on the 11th of this month.

We are told that the Government gives the owners of automobiles the privilege of running them on the public highways, and no matter how much damage is caused by them, or how many people are killed, the owners are not responsible. But should a poor man pasture his cow on the road and the animal be the cause of an accident, the owner is responsible for every cent of damage that is done. This is a great piece of injustice.

Mrs. N. E. Johnston is enjoying a few weeks' visit at Boskung.

Mr. R. B. Stroud, of the township of Tiny, was home for a few days.

Mr. John Gillis has decided to sell his farm stock and implements some time about the middle of November. It will be about as profitable to sell stock in November as to winter it over, if we should have another winter like the last.

Mr. H. Perrin, of Cameron, came down with his corn binder last Monday afternoon and commenced Mr. J. B. Powles' corn, and on Tuesday morning the work of cutting and elevating it to the silo commenced. Mr. Geo. H. Dunn, of Cameron, furnished the power with his traction engine.

Mr. P. Barker, who has been laying the bricks for Mr. Fell's new house, has made good progress. He is doing the work well, and will finish this week.

Fell's Station.

(Correspondence of the Gazette.)

Harvest is about over in our vicinity, and the "toot, toot" of the old threshing machine engine is already heard in almost every direction.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Moise, of Port Hope, are the guests of Mrs. Win. Mitchell, Fairview.

Miss Annie Hughes returned to Toronto last week, after enjoying her summer vacation at her home (Green Mountain Home.)

Mr. Will White, of Detroit, Mich., is at present visiting Mr. G. Hughes, and is calling on old friends and neighbors.

Mr. Wesley Hughes and Mr. John Bulmer took a trip to Haliburton this week, having secured a situation in one of Mr. Geo. Martin's camps. Every success, boys.

Mr. C. H. Moise, of Toronto, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, Fairview, and is enjoying a few days' fishing.

Mrs. Griffin Sr., of Burnt River, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Griffin, Fell's Station.

Weddings have been quite numerous in our locality for some time past, and more are expected in the near future.

William Deyman, Jr., and Thomas Minor were driving to the Falls between five and six o'clock on Wednesday evening, a bear crossed the road through the swamp east of Moffatt's hill.
