

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

When a man gets his just deserts it is hard for the neighbors to be sorry for him, even though they want to.

If the letter that never came had been a dun, one just like it, only more interesting, would have followed the next month.

A man doesn't fall in love with the woman who can't keep him guessing.

When a man is poor and honest often one is the cause of the other.

Some people are quite provoked about it if a spoiled child turns out right.

Before ordering plain soda water a man always looks around to see who is watching him.

A man has to see the world before he will believe it is simply his village hamlet on a larger scale.

It is impossible for a summer resort to live up to the advertisement, because if it did they would immediately make the advertisement stronger.

When a man has the toothache stepping on his corns should neutralize the pain, but it doesn't.

With the average man almost anything that is embellished with a few big words will pass for science.

You can make any girl think you are a man of good judgment by telling her she is pretty.

With the Fireflies' Aid.

On a pleasant summer evening,
When mosquitoes are not biting
And you need not spoil your temper
With the pesky insects fighting,
What is really more delightful
As the shadows come and go
Than when lovers in a hammock
Watch the fireflies' fleeting glow?

On an evening in midsummer,
With the lightest breeze caressing,
And the stars their ancient secrets
Seem at last to be confessing,
How they twinkle in the twilight,
When the day has almost flown,
Lightning bugs, bright and fantastic,
Just like stars familiar grown.

And the lovers in the hammock,
Every moment closer sitting,
Mid the calm, serene surroundings,
Are they tending to their knitting?
Let no prying eyes of peepers
Watch them in this hour of bliss.
Let us rather take for granted
That each flash calls for a kiss.

Underneath the spreading branches
Where the happy pair is resting
She is listening to the story
That is old, but interesting,
With the fireflies all unconscious
That she pictures in their gleam
Lamps to light the path of romance,
Diadems in love's young dream.

His Glistening Deeds.

"He left his mark on the world."
"Statesman?"
"No."
"Soldier?"
"No."
"Give it up."
"Whitewash brush artist."

The Reason.

Since Justice is blind,
She may not be to blame
For some of the things
That are done in her name.

Can't Forget It.

"There must be some mistake about old Bullion being a self made man."
"But I had always understood he was."
"Well, he talked to me for half an hour without mentioning it."

Knew the Sign.

"I can tell good piano playing when I see it."
"But you don't see music. You hear it."
"I can see the professor's hair cut, can't I?"

Like the Real Thing.

"We thought the men were going to hold us up, but it turned out they were just kidding."
"Captain Kidding is what I would call it."

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. A post-master is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law), when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment.

2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

3. Any person who takes a paper from the post-office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

4. If a subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it from the post-office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

A BARGAIN.
