HARDWARE FOR HARD WEAR.

You can get hardware that does and hardware that does not wear well. The element of durability enters into hardware just as much as it does into clothing or shoes.

We make a point of selling hardware for hard wear. We aim to give you durability and service.

We have to keep some of the kind that doesn't wear well, but we prefer the other kind and put our best efforts into selling it.

Longing,
My soul today
Is far away,
But not on the
Vesuvian bay.

It does not ride
Out there in pride,
It's looking for
A different tide,

For it is out
Somewhere about
The center of

Would I could chase
My soul apace
And at the counter
Feed my face.

Would I were free
This hour to be
Down where the redhot
Waits for me.

SHELTER FOR THE FLOCK.

Sheep Can Be Made Comfortable At Very Little Cost.

As it is economical on the part of any owner of any animals to feed well during the winter and to keep the stock in the best condition, it is the best plan for him to provide good warm shelter for all his animals. This refers most particularly to a flock of sheep, says the American Sheep Breeder. It is commonly thought, and the thought is commonly expressed, that sheep, being provided with a thick woolly coat in the winter, do not require any other shelter than a board fence and a comfortable yard to pass the nights in. It is a very common accident for such persons to lose a few sheep and lambs every winter by exposure to cold and neglect. Animals suffer from cold when they are shivering in an exposed yard on a cold winter's night quite as much as their owners may do under similar exposure. And it is a waste of money, for food is the same as money to the owner of a flock of sheep. Of course this error reduces the profits from a flock of sheep that is exposed to the cold.

It will cost very little to make the sheep comfortable. A rough board shed that will break the force of the cold winds will be sufficient. It should have a tight roof that it may be dry. Dry cold is far more bearable than a much better temperature with a wet skin. But the wind of a cold freezing night when the sheep fleeces are water soaked will kill sheep that would be comfortable if their skins were dry and protected by the dry fleece. It is quite often thought sufficient that the sheep were sufficiently protected by their woolly coat although exposed to rainstorms which froze the fleeces on their backs. The truth is that the fleeces of a sheep should not be considered in this part of their management as any greater protection than the hairy coat of a cow, and the flock should have as much care for their protection as all other animals of the farm get.

Ventilation is a very important part of the management of all shelters for sheep—indeed, for all animals. The rule should be to give a square yard of floor space for every sheep in sheds or covered yards at the least. This is twice as much as the sheep will cover, thus leaving half the floor for moving space. The sheep will habitually lie close together, and thus there will be ample room for the wanderers to move about comfortably. Some of the sheep will bunch together, but this will be perfectly safe, for sheep may safely crowd together if there is ample room for all and none pile up on the others. The only safe rule in the management of sheep is to wholly prevent by sufficient precautions any risk of panics in the yards or sheds, as may happen by the presence of a dog in the place. Strange dogs should always be kept from the sheep. The home dog may go anywhere among them with safety, but a strange dog may cause a panic in which some sheep will be lost. Thus the fences of the open sheep yards should be well protected by two strands of barbed wire on the top.
