Our Sam Again.

As a stirrer up of strife, Colonel Sam Hughes has always had an unenviable reputation; and that he is not growing wiser as he grows older, is evidenced by the following special despatch to the Globe on Monday last:

Ottawa, April 15.—After an announcement by Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster-General, regarding postal rates on British newspapers and magazines, Col. Sam Hughes brought a hornet's nest about his ears by endeavoring to explain away a remark he had made in the course of the debate on immigration on Tuesday last. When Mr. Armand Lavergne was expressing the hope on that occasion that some of the clergy who had been expelled from Franco would find their way to Canada, Col. Hughes interjected the observation: "A curse to the country." To-day Mr. Bourassa seized the opportunity to administer a severe castigation to the member for Victoria and Haliburton, and Mr. Lemieux, Mr. Talbot and Mr. C. Devlin joined in a vigorous protest against the expressions that had been used. To complete the colonel's discomfiture, the leader of the Opposition chided him in no gentle fashion for his impetuosity, emphatically repudiated his view, and suggested that the objectionable words be withdrawn. Col. Hughes, however, did not withdraw. He explained that he was not referring to the clergymen in their individual capacity, but maintained that men who had refused to obey the laws of France would not make desirable citizens of Canada. The incident then dropped.

It's a pity that Sam Hughes possesses such an injurious tongue, as it is constantly getting him into trouble. Still, "there's good in things evil," and the kind of language that naturally excites the indignation of Roman Catholics is "nuts" to the ultra-Protestants of Sam's constituency. Perhaps that's why he talks as he does.

Protect the Fish.

The close season for bass and maskinonge commenced on Monday, and it will be illegal to fish for or take these fish until the 16th of June. This close season is made to protect the fish during the time of spawning, and it is the duty of every person who wishes to have the fishing in our local waters continue as good as, or better than, it has been in the past, to see that not one fish is killed during the next eight weeks. In past years large numbers of maskinonge have been taken in Cameron and Sturgeon lakes, and even in the river, during the close season, and very little effort has been made to put a stop to the practice, for everybody knows everybody else, and nobody will tell on his friend—especially when his friend keeps him supplied with fresh fish. But it must be stopped—stopped now and stopped completely—if this village is to keep its place as a summer resort. The average summer visitor judges a summer resort by the number of fish he can catch, and the number of fish he can catch is governed by the number of young fish hatched. And it is not the fish the tourists catch that keeps the supply in the lakes from becoming more plentiful, but it is the number of parent fish taken by the so-called "sports" in the spring that does the trick. The taking of a few hundred or a few thousand fish in July and August would never make the fishing poorer if the fish were left undisturbed in April, May and June, when the killing of half a dozen parent fish will do more to deplete the waters than will a whole army of tourists.

The Board of Trade, at a meeting held a few weeks ago, appointed a committee to see about having a car of fish placed in Cameron lake. Without in any way finding fault with the action of the Board, who are doing the best they know for the village, we respectfully tender the following suggestion: There are already several carloads of fish in Cameron lake. Let the Board of Trade, backed up by every public-spirited citizen and every sport worthy of the name, do everything possible to prevent a carload of fish, or any part thereof, being taken out of Cameron lake, or Sturgeon lake, during the close season.

TRUDEL—O'CONNOR.

St. Mary's church, Lindsay, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on April 10th, when Mr. Archibald Trudel, of Fenelon Falls, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Alice O'Connor, of Lindsay, by Ven. Archdeacon Casey.

The groom was attended by Mr. James Callaghan, of Reaboro, while Miss Amie O'Connor, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. The bride was prettily dressed in a dark navy blue suit trimmed with braid. She wore a blue mushroom hat to match. The bridesmaid was attired in a cream suit and wore a large picture hat. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold pin set with pearls, to the bridesmaid a ring set with a magnificent ruby, and to the groomsmen a handsome scarf pin.

A Good Magazine.

It would be impossible to find a magazine containing more timely and interesting articles than the April number of the Busy Man's Magazine. This number on us with a character sketch of George W. Stephens, M. P. P., President of the Montreal Harbor Commission, and Canada's most successful young business man. A short history of the career of Sir Percy Girouard, a Canadian by birth, and recently appointed High Commissioner of Northern Nigeria, is also given. There are several strong articles on travel and description, such as Cobalt: The Goblin of the North; Nearest the North Pole; Edmonton, the World's Greatest Fur Mart. Goldwin Smith, in an article entitled "The Perils of the Republic," enumerates some of the dangers confronting the United States. This article is of great importance, since these same problems are confronting, or will in the near future confront our government. A host of entertaining short stories serves as mental relaxation for the tired mind. Other articles of special interest are: "Workmen's Gardens in France," "Heroes of Everyday Life," "The Man who Lives on his Nerves," "When Shall We Fly?" "World's Greatest Gambling House—Lloyd's," "Homeless England." In fact, the April Busy Man's contains much which no up-to-date person can afford to miss.

Kinmount.

(Correspondence of the Gazette.)

The evangelistic meetings being held here by Rev. Alexander Torrey, assisted by the local pastor of the Baptist mission, Rev. T. France, are well attended and very successful. Mr. Torrey's afternoon lectures to the children are exceedingly interesting and helpful, not only to the children but to the older ones as well. The body of the late Mr. Frank Askey, of Wyevalle, who died on Monday, the 15th, in the hospital at Midland, was brought here to-day (Tuesday) and will rest in St. James's church until to-morrow, awaiting interment in the Kinmount cemetery. Mr. Askey, who as one time served as an operator in India, held the position of first railway agent here with the old Victoria R. R. Co. In 1893 he moved to Wyevalle to take charge of the G. T. R. station there, which position he held until a few weeks ago, when he was stricken with a fatal attack of erysipelas. He will be buried to-morrow with Foresters' honors, having been a chartered member of the L. O. F. since the Order was first established in Kinmount. He leaves a wife and several sons and daughters, three of whom reside here—Mrs. David Bain and Messrs. John and Frank, to all of whom Kinmount extends its sympathy.

Mr. W. T. Craig, of the firm of Craig & Austin, returned to his home here on Friday of last week, after having a very successful operation performed in the Toronto General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Holmes left on Monday for Lindsay, where Mr. Holmes has accepted a position in Mr. Foster's grocery establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McGrath will leave on Wednesday morning for their new home in Norwood.

Miss Bertha Hopkins returned to her home here on Saturday, after a lengthy visit with friends in Chicago.

A large incubator arrived this week for the farm recently purchased by Mr. McCole, our new Tailor.

Powles' Corner.

We are again called upon to record the deaths of two highly respected residents of this section, Mr. John Gillis Sr. and Mr. Edward Johnston Sr., who, after lingering illnesses of some months, departed this life the first of this week.

The Postmasters' Associations of this and other provinces are urging the Postmaster-General to a sense of his duty, and the p. m. g. has promised to do something for an army of poorly-paid postmasters. This step should have been taken long ago, but it is better late than never. There is no honor in dying in a post-office.

Dr. A. Wilson, of Fenelon Falls, in the absence of Dr. Graham, came out to Mr. J. B. Powles's last Tuesday to attend one of his little girls who had an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daniel celebrated their golden wedding last Monday.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.—A meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Gould on Friday, the 26th inst., at 2.30 p. m.

MILL RUNNING.—Mr. M. Whaley is running Howie's saw-mill, cutting into lumber a large number of custom logs that were brought to the mill by farmers during the winter.

THANKS.—Mr. Griffith Hughes, of Somerville, who lost his team by drowning in Burnt River last month, wishes to thank all those who contributed so liberally to aid him in buying another team.

DECLINED WITH THANKS.—We received a few days ago an order for advertising from a Cobalt development company doing business in Toronto. The only asset this company appears to have is 500,000 shares of stock in an air castle, and even these they will give away at the extremely low price of $1 per share. As we believe it is best for the average person to let this class of investment severely alone, this advertising has been declined with thanks. This means dollars out of our pocket, but we don't propose to be a party to the lumbugging of any of our subscribers if we can help it.

CONCERT.—The concert on Monday evening, under the auspices of the curling club, was not very numerously attended, but the curlers are a few dollars ahead on the transaction. Travelling entertainment companies don't take very well in this town. Some of them are better than others, and the one that had the stage on Monday night put on some number one acting that deserved a full house. But until the travelling entertainment companies learn that their "funny man" should be only funny, they will fail to draw crowds in Fenelon Falls. And ninety per cent. of them have it yet to learn.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—Next Sunday the Rev. C. Fournier, who was for some time a priest in the Roman Catholic church, will preach both morning and evening. Subject, morning, from Psalm 51: 2-3, "Conversion in General;" evening, "Work among the French," in which an account of his conversion will be given. On the following Sunday the pastor will continue the series of discourses on the Gospels. There will be five more sermons to be taken up on the following Sunday evenings. First, Matthew, the Gospel of Fulfillment; second, Mark, the Gospel of Service; Third, Luke, the Gospel of Humanity; Fourth, John, the Gospel of Divinity; Fifth, the Fifth Gospel, or the Gospel of Experience.

At Cooke's Hardware Store you can buy a number of 5, 10 and 15c. articles that will help make house-cleaning easy.

District Notes.

The steamer Stony Lake made her first trip to Lakefield on Monday, April 1st, and brought up 300 bags of cement.

The Onemee Mirror says that the engineering staff of the Trent Valley Canal, Peterborough, reported to Mr. J. D. Thornton that a sidewheel steamer will be on the waters just as soon as the ice has gone. Mr. Clarry, an old Millbrook boy, is on the staff, and is showing himself to be very much interested in the undertaking.

The new government steamer being built for work on the Trent Valley Canal is nearly ready to be launched, and it is expected that she will take the water very soon. The hull of the new boat is being painted red to the water line, and above that to the gunwale she will be dark green, while the upper works will be a pea green shade.

The government steamer Empire made its first voyage of the season on April 4th. It left its winter quarters at Lakefield, and sailed as far as Young's Point with apparatus for the government dredge, which is operating at the Point, immediately above the lock. The work of constructing a cement pier above the new bridge is progressing rapidly, as well as the cutting away of the bank.—Examiner.

On the morning of Sunday, April 7th, the little village of Dorset was visited by the greatest conflagration in its history, the whole business part of the village being completely destroyed. The fire originated in the kitchen of the Dorset house, which, together with the post-office, the store and barber shop of Mr. Frank Cassidy, the store of McKay & Co., directly across street from the Dorset house, and the Speers store were all destroyed. The loss is estimated at over $12,000, with insurances about $3,500. The occupants of the Dorset house had a very narrow escape.

One of the most destructive fires that ever visited the village of Hastings broke out shortly after 1 o'clock last Monday morning, destroying the main business portion of the town. The buildings burned were: The Coughlin House hotel, Buck & Buck's general store, the Howard block, O'Reilly's grocery, H. A. Wilson's gents' furnishing, Tracey's bakery, P. M. Howard's grocery and liquor store and Weldman's machine shop. The aggregate loss is estimated at nearly $80,000, partly covered by insurance.

MARRIED.

TRUDEL—O'CONNOR.—At St. Mary's church, Lindsay, by the Ven. Archdeacon Casey, on Wednesday, April 10th, 1907, Mr. Archibald Trudel, of Fenelon Falls, to Miss Alice O'Connor, of Lindsay.

TWOMEY—GRICE.—At the Roman Catholic church, Midland, by the Rev. Fr. Barsleau, assisted by the Rev. Fr. Grant and the Rev. Fr. Kidd, on Wednesday, April 17th, 1907, Mr. Dennis Twomey, of Camrose, Alberta, to Alice, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Didace Grice, of Midland.

DIED.

JOHNSTON.—In the township of Fenelon, on Sunday, April 14th, 1907, Edward Johnston, Sr., aged 80 years.

GELIS.—In the township of Fenelon, on Monday, April 15th, 1907, John Gillis, aged 79 years, 1 month and 10 days.

CUNDILL.—In the township of Somerville, on Tuesday, April 16th, 1907, Mrs. William Cundill, Sr., aged 70 years.
