District Notes.

A Peterboro man has made a find of rich gold and silver ore in the northern part of the county, and is looking for capital to work the property.

A Scotchman was surrounded by wolves in a north Peterboro woods, and kept them at a distance all night by playing his bagpipes. It would be a pretty hungry wolf that would brave the music of the bagpipes for a meal.

The seven-year-old adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marston, of Lindsay, was enticed away from school on Thursday last by a woman supposed to be her mother, and who came from Toronto or Montreal. The child has not yet been located by the police who have the case in hand.

A Lindsay lady was badly burned, and her house narrowly escaped destruction, through the explosion of a can of aluminum paint with which she was painting a stove with a little fire in it. Aluminum paint is becoming popular as a covering for stoves and stove pipes, but, apparently, care must be exercised in applying it, as it seems to be of an explosive character.

A very fine concrete dam has just been completed at Gooderham, on the Burnt River, through the influence of Mr. McLaughlin, being built under the supervision of the Trent Valley waters. The new dam is about 150 feet long with two openings, giving a head of water of six and a half feet. The water will be used for floating logs and reservoir purposes for the Trent Valley system.—Post.

Nearly two weeks ago the Bank of Commerce of Lindsay, for one of their depositors, sent the sum of $300 through the post office to Mr. F. E. Gordon at Dunsford. A few days later Mr. Gordon began to inquire for his money, and it was learned that it never reached him. It has disappeared completely, and as is known, no trace of its whereabouts has even yet been learned. The Post Office Department is at work on the case, and hopes to locate the leak. Mr. Gordon, of course, will not be the loser if the money is never found.

Mr. W. M. Robson, of this town, at the Fruit and Flower show, held in Massey Hall, Toronto, from Nov. 12 to the 16th, exhibited an absolutely seedless apple, grown a few miles north of Lindsay. The tree, it is said, has produced apples for fifteen years without the sign of a seed in its fruit cells, which are located very near the flower end of this apple. This change of position is favorable to the thought that this apple is in a transitory state, and may ultimately crowd out the useless cavity and become a perfect apple, admired and sought after as much as the popular seedless orange.—Post.

The honor of being the first to cross Chemong Lake on the ice this season goes to the Whetung family of the Indian village, of course; but Mr. Dan. Whetung, who generally performs the feat first, was beaten this year. On Saturday night word was received in the village that one of Mr. Whetung's sons was ill in Orillia, and, accordingly, two of his brothers set out for Peterborough. The lake had frozen over, and they decided in their haste to risk the crossing. Cutting across the lake from the Indian Village to Bredin's, they reached the shore in safety. The ice was about three-quarters of an inch thick. The lake was still firmly frozen over yesterday, but with the mild weather of to-day it is not expected to last long.—Pet. Examiner.

Mrs. Wm. McKenzie's palatial yacht seems to be having an unfortunate career. The yacht is in winter quarters in a boat house on the canal. About a week ago the caretaker discovered that she had filled up with water during the night, and was on the bottom of the canal. The services of Mr. Hammond, the superintendent of our Waterworks with his diving suit, and Mr. Robinson, machinist, also of Lindsay, were obtained, who went to Kirkfield the latter part of last week. The diver first located all holes and closed them, and with the aid of a tractor on engine and a strong pump, the boat was cleared of water and was soon afloat. The damage was not very serious. She was sunk in the canal last spring owing, it is said to the water, on being let out of that reach of the canal, allowing her to settle on a sharp rock which punctured a hole in her hull.—Watchman-Warder.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. A post-master is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law), when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.
3. Any person who takes a paper from the post office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.
4. If a subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it he takes it from the post-office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.
5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
