

A MEDICINE FOR SPRING

Do Not Dose With Purgatives—
A Tonic is All People Need.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That's the way most people feel in the Spring. Easily tired, appetite variable, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Perhaps pimples or eruptions appear, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order; that the in-door life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble. Don't dose yourself as many people foolishly do with purgatives in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. What you need in spring is a tonic medicine that will make new, rich blood, build up the weakened nerves, and thus give you new health and strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the one medicine that can do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich, red blood, strengthens the appetite, clears the skin, and makes tired depressed men and women, bright, active and strong. Mr. Harry Huggins, Oshawa, Ont., says:—"I don't think there is anything equal to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a cure for nervousness, indigestion and a run down condition of the blood. For some time I was a great sufferer from these troubles. I tried several remedies, but nothing helped me until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before taking them I felt like an old man, but by the time I had taken four boxes my strength had returned, my appetite improved, my nerves were steady and I was feeling a renewed man."

If you need a medicine this spring—and most people do—try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and see how speedily they will make you feel like a new person. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CRIMINAL WAS A GENIUS MAN WHO HAD THE BRAINS OF A STATESMAN.

Driven to Crime by Environment—Principals of Criminology Told by Brain Expert.

A remarkable address on the cause and cure of crime was given by Dr. Albert Wilson, the brain specialist, during a private debate at the Sesame Club of London, England, recently.

Dr. Wilson had promised to bring one of the most notorious cracksmen of the Victorian era—now a reformed character—to explain the impulses which led him to crime. To the disappointment of everyone present the ex-burglar apparently did not care to face the ordeal, for he failed to attend. Dr. Wilson announced that in the course of a special study of the psychology of crime he had examined more than 200 criminals, including murderers, pickpockets, highwaymen and burglars.

"Of all the causes of crime," he said, "perhaps the most remarkable is that of multiple personality. I had a striking case in a girl of thirteen a few years ago.

"In one personality she became a simple child of two, who could not understand words and did not know her own name. In another personality she became blind and imbecile.

"I took her to Sir John Tweedy, the eye specialist, who pronounced her totally blind. Sir Thomas Barlow also declared her a hopeless imbecile, and said that she should be put in an asylum as soon as possible.

MANY PERSONALITIES.
"A curious fact was that in her blind personality she could draw pictures which she could not draw normally. In the third personality she was a criminal. Once while out for a walk she stole an orange, and when rebuked replied in the typical phrasology of a criminal, 'If you can't get an orange, why, nick it.'

"On another occasion in her criminal personality she pushed her sister into the fire, and only the sudden arrival of her mother in the room prevented a dreadful tragedy."
Dr. Wilson divided criminals into two classes:—

- (1) Perverts.
- (2) Inverts.

"We have to thank our present system of education," Dr. Wilson said, "for the recruiting of the inverts. Poor children with starved brains and bad heredity are forced to learn a lot of stuff at school quite useless for their environment.

"The result is that by thirteen or fourteen, when they leave school, they have no pluck or stamina in them."

The four chief divisions of criminals Dr. Wilson declared to be:—

- (1) Insane.
- (2) Unstable.
- (3) Sports (in botanical sense—only varying from normal type).
- (4) Criminals from environment or surroundings.

Unstable criminals were those who yielded to impulse, he said, and had no power of arguing out what the after-effects of their actions might be.

"SPORTS."

Sports, Dr. Wilson said, were harmless types of criminals, such as a burglar he knew who would slip the kilfeffen window catch, warm himself in front of the fire, and go away before morning without doing any real mischief.

"The father of this man," said Dr. Wilson, "was one of the most flourishing men in the city. He made £3,000 a year, but when he died he left no thing. That was a form of crime in itself.

"The burglar's mother also was a very neurotic woman. Of the six children of the marriage the daughter and two brothers went to the asylum.

"As regards the effect of environment on crime, I invited an excellent example to come here to-night. I am sorry he has not come. I must say he was the most daring criminal of the Victorian era.

"He was so clever and intelligent that he might well have been Prime Minister or a Cabinet Minister. A more expert cracksmen never lived. He would don evening dress to perpetrate his crimes, and passing himself off as a peer, would mix in the best society.

"So daring and desperate a criminal was he that the Home Office gave orders that he was never to be dealt with single-handed, two policemen, heavily armed, being always commissioned for the purpose.

"His first sentence was for seven years, and his second for life. He was released when the King came to the throne, and has since reformed.

"The father of this man was a farm bailiff in Staffordshire. His parents died, and he came under the control of his grandfather, who was a drunken wretch.

"The treatment he received was so brutal that one day he attacked his grandfather with a poker, beat him up; he was nearly dead, and then made off with his grandfather's watch and £75 which he took from a safe. Thus when he was thirteen years old his career of crime began.

"It is one of the most striking cases of crime as the result of environment that I have met.

"Our system of dealing with crime is entirely wrong," Dr. Wilson concluded. "We want to make a clean sweep of our whole legal machinery and have it put in fresh. Each criminal has some peculiarity of his own which needs special consideration. At present we seem to aim at vengeance, not reform. "My burglar friend says that the only cure for crime is the indeterminate sentence."

GOOD ADVICE GONE WRONG.
Prison Visitor (to convict burglar)—"You say you are now serving your fourth term for burglary?"
Convict—"Yes'm."

P. V.—"Horrible! What could have induced you to repeat, for a third, and even a fourth time, a crime whose fearful punishment should have made you recoil from even a thought of offending again?"

Convict—"Ah, madam, it was the influence of a precept taught me in Sunday School."

P. V.—"In Sunday School? Impossible!"

Convict—"Nay, madam. Even now I hear it, as it were the voice of memory luring me back to my boyhood: 'If at first you don't succeed, try, try, try again.'"

AGONIZING PILES.

Cured by Zam-Buk.

Mr. F. Astridge, of 3 St. Paul Street, St. Catharines, Ont., says: "For five years I suffered untold agony with protruding piles. The pain was so great at times I would almost scream. I went down in weight and had no appetite. I tried everything I heard of for piles, but got no relief. I went to several doctors, but they would give me little hope of ever getting rid of them and I finally gave up in despair. One day a friend gave me a sample of Zam-Buk salve and told me of someone who had been cured. I decided to try it, and the relief I got was encouraging. I bought a box, and the piles kept on diminishing. I used three boxes and am now completely cured. One thousand dollars would be none too small an amount to give for such a cure as mine. I wish I could convince every sufferer of the value of Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, chapped hands, cold sores, itch, ulcers, eczema, running sores, catarrh, piles, bad legs, abscesses, face sores, spring eruptions, and all skin diseases. Of all druggists and stores, 50c., or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Sleeplessness.—When the nerves are unstrung and the whole body given up to wretchedness, when the mind is filled with gloom and dismal forebodings, the result of derangement of the digestive organs, sleeplessness comes to add to the distress. If only the subject could sleep, there would be oblivion for a while and temporary relief. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will not only induce sleep, but will act so beneficially that the subject will wake refreshed and restored to happiness.

The Flagging Energies Revived.—Constant application to business is a tax upon the energies, and if there be not relaxation, lassitude and depression are sure to intervene. These come from stomachic troubles. The want of exercise brings on nervous irregularities, and the stomach ceases to assimilate food properly. In this condition Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will be found a recuperative of rare power, restoring the organs to healthful action, dispelling depression and reviving the flagging energies.

WORKING ELEPHANTS.

The efforts of the Congo State authorities to domesticate the African elephant have brought out some interesting peculiarities of these animals. During the wet season, which lasts four months, the elephants are not worked, but are turned out into the forest. Instead, however, of rejoicing their wild kin, they seem to keep apart, as if conscious of the difference that their training has produced. On being brought back to their duties they show no disposition to shirk their work. Their presence sometimes attracts wild elephants to the vicinity of their scene of labor, but these wild animals are usually too old and intractable to be used as recruits.
