

Let us show you how easy it is to shake the
"Hecla" Furnace

The "Hecla" has four grate bars. Each one can be shaken separately. This means that you can shake down just the part of the fire where the ashes are, without disturbing the rest of the coals.

With "Hecla" Triangular Grate Bars, you can get rid of all the ashes—save coal—keep the fire bright and clean—and do away with sifting ashes, because no fresh coal or half-burnt clinkers come down in the ashpan.

We would be pleased to talk over the furnace question with you and show you, part by part, just why the "Hecla" Furnace is the best for you to buy. Come in any time.

Made by the makers of "Peerless Peninsular" Ranges.

RETIRE, PLEASE, COLONEL.

A meeting in the interests of Col. Hughes was held at Kimmount one evening last week. In the course of that meeting Col. Hughes stated that, if it could be proved that he had ever said in the House of Commons that the people of his constituency were opposed to the proposal to make the regular passenger rate on railways two cents per mile instead of three cents per mile, HE WOULD RETIRE FROM PUBLIC LIFE. The Colonel no doubt thought himself safe, away back in the north country, in saying anything that sounded well, without a fear of its coming to the ears of people who knew better. Col. Sam made a wrong guess that time, however. Anyone who knows anything about parliamentary proceedings is aware that there is a publication called "Hansard," in which is published every word that is spoken in the debates on the floor of the House, and that the members themselves have proofs of their sayings submitted to them before the speeches are printed for publication. Hansard is, therefore, correct beyond all question, and is never disputed. Referring to Hansard, we find that, on July 5th, 1906, the question of inserting a clause in the railway bill making the rate for passengers two cents per mile was discussed. On the division Col. Sam. Hughes spoke against the two cent rate, and, amongst other things said: "I can speak for the people of Victoria county The people do not want it." (See debates of the House of Commons of Canada, session 1906, volume 4, column 7109.)

At the Kimmount meeting Mr. John Austin drew Col. Hughes's attention to this passage, and called on him to resign. And the Colonel answered him never a word! We herewith place the incident before the public, and publicly call on Col. Hughes to retire. He acknowledges the correctness of Hansard, and he cannot deny having made the statement at Kimmount. Now, if he refuse to retire, in accordance with his voluntary promise, he openly and publicly acknowledges himself to be what unbiased observers have long known him to be—an unblushing and deliberate trifier with the truth, and, consequently, an unworthy representative of the honest electors of Victoria and Haliburton.

The Same Old Lies.

Col. Hughes seems to have got the idea into his head that his success in the present campaign depends upon the amount of abuse he can fire at Mr. R. J. McLaughlin. Or, perhaps, he is just doing it in an attempt to bamboozle the electors, and thereby prevent them observing that he has no proper platform beneath his feet. Not having anything new to say about his one-time adversary, he is hawking around the old dead lies about the fees and commissions he received in the matter of the drowned lands around Cameron Lake. Col. Hughes brought this matter up first in 1899, when it was fully investigated by the Public Accounts Committee, and the following is a verbatim report of the finding of that committee:

2. The committee having had under its consideration accounts for legal services rendered in connection with claims for damages arising from the flooding of lands around Cameron Lake, along course of Trent Valley Canal:

Charges having been made by Mr. Hughes, M. P., that R. J. McLaughlin, of Lindsay, extracted from the farmers around Cameron Lake 20 per cent. of the sum paid them for damages to their land through flooding, such sums being paid out of the treasury of the Dominion of Canada, and, in addition to the above sum, had been paid his legal fees for his connection with the settlement of these claims; and, further, that he canvassed the parties having these claims, and, on account of being the political candidate in support of the present government at the last general election, he used his political influence to hold up the parties having claims aforesaid, for the purpose of extracting from them the 20 per cent. aforesaid; and further, that Mr. McLaughlin endeavored to bulldoze and persuade the valuers to force the price up to a point 20 per cent. in excess of the actual damage sustained. And, in connection therewith, have examined witnesses under oath; and the evidence reported, and upon consideration of the whole matter the committee beg to report:

THAT THE CHARGES WERE ENTIRELY WITHOUT FOUNDATION AND IN NO WISE SUSTAINED BY THE EVIDENCE.

For a fact, gentle reader, do not you think it is about time Col. Hughes got something new and true to talk about?

In the church an entertainment of high merit will be given, beginning at 8 o'clock. The ladies of St. Andrew's are sparing no pains to make this occasion worthy of themselves and deserving of public patronage.

MONEY STOLEN.—Upon returning from Fenelon Falls, where he had been selling some produce, on Wednesday of last week, Mr. John Wager, of Fenelon, handed $37 in bills to his wife, who put the money into a purse, which she deposited in a desk in a bedroom adjoining the kitchen. On Friday morning it was discovered that the money had been stolen, though the purse was left; and suspicion naturally fell upon a young man named David Tiers, who had been doing chores for his board at Mr. Tiers' for a short time past, and who decamped hurriedly on Thursday, crumming a collar and necktie into one of his pockets as he left the house. He did not return, and had plenty of time to get well out of reach before the money was missed. He came from England a good many years ago, and is not related to the families of the same name in this vicinity.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Fenelon Falls Gazette:

Sir,— I understand that Col. Hughes has been denying that Mr. McLaughlin placed a forfeit of $100 in my hands during the time of the last election, with the condition that if Col. Hughes could prove to the satisfaction of the Conservative Association that any of his defamatory statements in connection with Mr. McLaughlin were true, the amount should be paid to any charitable institution in the county that the secretary of the County Association directed. I wish to say that the money was placed in my hands, was held by me for about two months, and the challenge was published conspicuously in the public newspapers; and if any person believes Col. Hughes's statement, now, that he never knew anything about it, I think that person is ready to believe even the other statements he makes. Anyway, the Colonel states that he does not gamble, or, in other words, that he is not even mar enough to take up the challenge. I have seen Mr. McLaughlin to-day, and he is still ready to put up the $100, and still ready to leave the matter to the present Secretary of the Conservative Association.

Yours truly,
THOS. ROBSON.
