Pro Bono Hobo.

Whenever an outrage is committed anywhere in the country by a tramp, or anybody supposed to be a tramp, there is a general clamor for the suppression of the whole hobo fraternity. An agitation is now under way for the establishment of a system of rural constabulary, or mounted police, with the object of preventing or lessening crime in country districts. While it would be hardly safe to say that the proposed scheme would be no better than the present arrangement, it is good guessing that if any improvement in conditions resulted from the change, such improvement could not be of anything more than a temporary nature. As long as the conditions that produce tramps and degenerates exist, tramps and degenerates will exist. If suppressed in one direction, they will break out in another. The remedy for the tramp evil is not force. It is a readjustment of conditions. Under a sane system of conducting industry there would be no tramps or vagrants.

People are too hard on the tramps. If anybody can be justified in committing crime, the tramp can. If all the circumstances were known, it is extremely probable that only an occasional specimen could not reasonably be excused for being what he is. The railroads kill scores of people for every one killed by a tramp, yet there is no particular fuss raised about it, perhaps because there is once in a while a hobo amongst the number killed. The only thing asked from the railways is a two-cent rate, so that victims can get to the scene of the disaster cheaper.

The rural constabulary or mounted police proposition is not welcome to anyone who is working for a revolution in industrial conditions that will remove the cause of the existence of vagrants of all descriptions. Apart from this, it is very doubtful if the adoption of the scheme would produce the results its advocates expect it would.

The Falls Keeps the Trophy.

The second and final round in the Bobcaygeon—Stanton cup games was played on Monday. At Bobcaygeon the Bobcaygeon rinks were up five shots. At the Falls they were defeated by 24 shots. As the Falls rinks were two shots up on the first round, they have a total of 21 shots to the good, and retain the cup, which they won last season, and which is on exhibition in the window of Stanton's studio.

The McFadden—McDiarmid cup finals with Lindsay will probably be played next week. The Falls has a lead of seven shots in the first round for this cup. It would look all right in company with the other trophies.

The contest in the doubles is exciting keen interest. This is for the new McLean—Braunton cup now on view at Stanton's. Messrs. Jones and Moss have won out in the second and third stone games, and will play the winners of the Stanton—Pearce vs. Hamilton—Mark game, which is the only game left in the skip and lead series.

Mr. Akister is going to Saskatchewan in April. He had the misfortune to lose, on Friday last, one of the horses he had intended to take with him. The animal died of distemper. Mr. Akister has rented his farm to Mr. Albert Kelly.

Mr. John Akister, whose sale takes place at one o'clock to-day, Friday, the 5th, on south half lot 11, con. 6, Somerville, contemplates moving to Saskatchewan about the 16th of this month. He has rented his farm to Mr. Geo. Sheehy.

The monthly sales mentioned in last week's Gazette will be held at the McArthur House yards, instead of at the Syndicate farm, as stated. These sales are a good idea, and ought to prove attractive and a benefit to both buyers and sellers, as well as to the town merchants. The first sale will be held on or about April 10th, and will be advertised later. Parties having anything to sell will please notify Mr. Cashore at least two weeks before date of sale. Everything will be sold on commission.

Presentation.

A number of friends of Mr. James Jackson and family met at their residence in Fenelon on the 24th inst, and presented them with a stove and a lamp. Mr. Will Jackson and Miss Jackson were also presented with a pair of cuff links and a brooch, respectively. Mr. Jackson, who has been living on Mr. J. H. Lee's farm for the past seven years, is moving to a farm which he has bought near Woodville. Following is the address:

To Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Jackson and family.
Dear Friends,—We, a few of your many friends in this district, hearing of your intended early departure from amongst us, thought we could not permit you to leave without calling to pay you our regards. We feel that in your removal we are losing good neighbors, and the township of Fenelon a family of public spirited citizens; and we assure you that those of us who have enjoyed the hospitality of your good home will feel the loss indeed, and we will all miss your good fellowship and geniality of spirit. During your short stay you have made many warm friends, and we cannot allow you to leave without showing you in some tangible way the high esteem in which you are held. We therefore ask you to accept these presents in the spirit in which they are given. The lamp, we trust, will help to light your pathway as you descend life's western slope to the great beyond. During the cold and stormy nights, as the stove radiates its kindly heat and is an indication of warmth, may your thoughts turn to old friends in Fenelon and be convinced that you have left behind some warm hearts and a neighborhood which respects and reveres you and your family. In conclusion, let us wish you and yours a long and prosperous life and all the blessings this world can bestow.

Signed,

J. H. Brandon, Geo. Moynos, Dr. Mason, John Leo, Jas. Thurston.
