

Guides Must Have a License.

By an order-in-council and by the recommendation of the Minister of Public Works, the Provincial Government has enacted that no person shall act as guide for hunting or fishing parties without a license, for which a fee of $2 shall be paid. It is also provided that such guide shall be responsible for the extinguishing of fires that may have been kindled by the party employing him and that he is required to report any violations of the game and fishery laws that he may know of within one month after the offence has been committed, giving the name and address of offender, and such other particulars as shall lead to that offender's conviction. A failure to comply with these regulations shall be followed by the revocation of the license.

A "Tramp Farm"

Steps are being taken in New York State looking to the creation of a "tramp farm." To this farm all tramps falling into the hands of the State authorities are to be sent for an indefinite period, save that confinement is not to exceed two years. As soon as an inmate gives promise of becoming a self-supporting citizen release is to take place, and non-fulfillment of the promise is doubtless to be followed by a return to the place of detention.

This New York plan is, as the Brantford Expositor remarks, a decided improvement on the utter lack of plan prevailing in this Province. Tramps who strike Ontario towns are ordered to move on, or are committed to jail for a short term. In any case, a procession is kept constantly on the move, and those forming that procession are not only of no service either to themselves or the community, but, on the contrary, constitute an ever-present menace to isolated property, and in some cases to life itself. Sent to a "tramp farm," they could at least be made to provide the cost of their own maintenance, and some of these wasters might in time be transformed into reputable citizens. In any case, by the adoption of the idea society would be relieved of the cost of maintaining an army now idle and a grave danger to property would be largely removed.

Aid to Fruit Growers.

Perhaps the greatest aid to successful fruit production today is co-operation. Many small lots of good fruit are sacrificed in the wholesale market of our large cities because they are lost sight of in the great bulk of stuff arriving. Large consignments receive consideration that is scarcely worth while to give to a few odd boxes or packages. It would be a great advantage in shipping if the growers at one point could co-operate and send their fruit not as small individual consignments, but as car lots. Commission merchants are glad to come to the growers and buy at the railroad if they can buy from a company, society or exchange, but they have not the time to hunt up growers to buy small lots. An association of growers can employ an agent to keep in telegraphic touch with market prices, while few individual growers can. An association can secure uniform grades of fruit and can do a large business under a known brand. Baskets and fertilizers can be obtained by shipping associations at wholesale prices. Cars, rates and concessions can be obtained from the railroads by an association that no single individual could hope to receive.—Maryland Experiment Station.

THE HORSEMAN.

Every breeding animal requires exercise. This is especially true of the stallion.

When the mare is at work the colt should be kept in the barn or lot. It is better not to let it suckle until she has cooled off.

Watering the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night is a good practice.

If a horse is fidgety and nervous and lays back his ears while being harnessed, there is a reason for his conduct. It is more than likely that he has been frightened or abused by his former caretaker. Continual kindness will in most instances effect a cure.

Among the most important things in horse training is to cultivate a good disposition. It adds very much to the value and usefulness of a horse.

Does the collar fit perfectly? You know, a horse may be ruined by an ill fitting collar.

It matters little whether the horse is to be a trotter, a roadster or a draft horse, the treatment of the colt for the first year's feed is about the same. The best growth comes from the feed and care.

It is easier to keep a horse in shape than to make him well after he once succumbs to disease.

You can't harden a horse by making him endure hardship. The well bred, well kept horse is best.

Horses are classed as drafters when they weigh from 1,600 to 2,000 pounds; chunks, 1,300 to 1,500; expressers, about the same; carriage horses and roadsters, 1,000 to 1,200 pounds.

Do not teach the colts bad habits. What seems cute today may be vicious in a few months.

However good the pasture, colts will do better the second year if they have a small ration of grain.

A case of great interest came up in Division Court here on Tuesday, (March 16.) A couple of months ago Mark Holliday sold a cow to Messrs. Colwell & Hardy, drovers, the price being $15. The animal being shipped to Montreal was sold to a butcher there. When slaughtered the butcher noticed something wrong with the animal, the inspector was called in, whose verdict was that the animal had tuberculosis, and the carcass was burned. The drovers were compelled to refund to the butcher the price paid. The drovers refused to pay Holliday for the cow. Holliday sued in Division Court. Judge McCrimmon reserved judgement.—Oshawa Reformer.

"Onlooker" in the Beaverton Express says:—With the opening of spring the Government will put a cruiser on Lake Simcoe to protect the Lake from the pirates who are now depleting its waters of fish. What effect this will have remains to be seen, but I do not look for any very pronounced result. The gentlemen who follow the pursuit of fish poaching are a canny lot, and seem to be far removed from any fear of detection, appearing to be always perfectly advised as to the Inspector's movements, and we may expect they will also be of those of the cruiser. Along with the cruiser, the Government should also employ a detective or two for a couple of seasons, when I have no doubt some very surprising revelations as to who the real poachers are would result."
