There are over sixty persons on the "Indian list" in Peterboro and License Inspector Stewart and the police are working hard to enforce the law in this connection. The result is that there is an "Indian" in the police court nearly every day.

Port Hope Guide:—Complaints are being made in many towns of the profanity that exists among boys and youths. Among men in frontier life, lumber camps and the like, profane language is common. Volunteer camps bring together men given to horrible language, and there appears to be always a certain class of youths who imagine profane language, a swagger in gait, and hat on one side to be sure signs of manliness. The use of profane language on the street is contrary to law and subject to a fine, and the Magistrate and Police of the country might well agree upon a campaign against this vile and disgusting habit.

Post:—On Monday morning Messrs. Killoran & Tough, of Haileybury, shipped sixteen fine horses to that point. Among them were Mr. P. Leddy's team of prize winners at Lindsay and other points, and for which the buyers paid, $550, a fine gray team, a brown team and a nice assortment of bays. Horse fanciers who saw the shipment declared it to be the finest sample of horse flesh shipped from this point for some time.

James Simpson, of Kilmount, was sentenced at Lindsay on Tuesday by Magistrate Moore to four months in the county jail at hard labor for selling intoxicating liquor without a license. He has been before the Magistrate several times recently on the same charge. The sentence is the first of its kind to be meted out to any local option hotelkeeper in Victoria County. Two spotters, Armenians, visited Kilmount vicinity a month or so ago, employed on government work, and partook of the proprietor's hospitality and paid for their "wet goods."

Concatenated Order of Hoo Hoos.

The Globe says: The Concatenated Order of Hoo Hoo held one of their regular "concatenations" in the Temple building last night, and when the mystic rites were concluded between twelve and fifteen men had been added to the rolls. Such was the information handed out by the Secretary of the organization, but he declined to explain the nature of the mystic rites constituting the initiation ceremony. Mr. J. L. Campbell of Toronto, the Vicegerent Snark for the eastern district, officiated. Seventy-five members from all parts of the Province were present, and at the conclusion of the aforesaid concatenation all sat down to a sumptuous repast.

While the members of the order are Hoo Hoo's among themselves, the strange name induces the public to regard them as Ha Ha's, and this they do not like.

Membership in the Order of Hoo Hoo is confined to persons interested in the lumber business or allied trades, and its objects are purely fraternal and social. According to prominent local members the order had its rise in Egypt in the days of Ptolemy II, when timber was plentiful along the banks of the Nile, and when the cat was an object of adoration by all Egyptians. It had, at that time, a great membership, and flourished until the people of the pyramids lost their standing in the race for power. Then the Order of the Hoo Hoo shed its brilliancy, and the only evidence of its former greatness that remained was the records deposited for safe keeping in one of the temples. About twenty years a curio hunter found these papers. He deciphered the writings as meaning that they referred to an order of Hoo Hoo, and seventeen years ago, in Gardon, Arkansas, the order was revived. To-day, while still lacking the power which its original may have possessed, it has become a flourishing organization, and boasts a membership of 25,000 in Canada and the United States. Among the Hoo Hoos initiated last night were men from Otter Lake, Wiarton, Brantford, Elora, and Toronto.

The yellow peril that is causing the most worry at present is the dandelion in the front lawn.

You may say what you like about good times, but this country is certainly going to grass just now.

There were few long speeches at the Postmaster's Convention recently held in Ottawa. Having licked up so much muckilage in their time the delegates are naturally close mouthed.

LONDON, June 1.—The Rev. Edward Lee Hicks, Canon of the Church of England, popular clerical figure in Lincoln Cathedral, has developed astonishing socialistic tendencies. Addressing a labor meeting he said:

"As a follower of one who had not where to lay His head, I have to consider how far I am justified in living on the unearned increment from the wealth I happened to have inherited. It is a hard problem but I intend to face it."

It is understood that Canon Hicks intends to surrender the whole of the income from his private fortune. He has arranged to sell his automobile and part with his carriage and he will depend entirely on his salary. His private means he will devote to the alleviation of suffering and want.

It is sufficient for some people that they drink anything called tea. Others prefer a standard brand like "Salada," which has a reputation for being good. The latter get more enjoyment out of life. In buying tea for satisfaction you expect to get from its use, it will pay to purchase "Salada." Avoid anything "just as good." Imitations are invariably of poor quality.

The infant mind has much to learn in order to comprehend the English language or the mysteries of etiquette. It frequently puts its instructor in a difficult position, especially if as in a case quoted in Everybody's Magazine, the instructor be a mother dressed to go out, with a waiting and impatient husband downstairs. "Where are you going, ma?" asked the youngest of the five children, from his bed. "I'm going to a surprise party, my dear," answered the mother. "Can't we go too?" "No dear. You weren't invited." After a few moments of deep thought, during which the mother was bidding the others goodnight: "Say ma, don't you think they'd be lots more surprised if you took us all?"
