Mrs. Smith—"Oh, doctor, my husband is very bad. Do you really think that there is any chance for him after this?" Doctor—"I certainly think so, madam. After this morning I shall only call once a day instead of twice."

Don't experiment with unsatisfactory substitutes. Wilson's Fly Pads kill many times more house flies than any other known article.

"Yes," said Mrs. Mugley, "I always try to retire before midnight. I don't like to miss my beauty sleep." "Really," said Miss Knox, "you should try harder. You certainly don't get enough of it."

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

"If it takes one boy one hour to do two errands, how long will it take two boys to do one errand?" Answer—Half a day.

Used according to directions, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial will afford relief in the most acute form of summer complaint. Whenever the attack manifests itself no time should be lost in seeking the aid of the Cordial. It will act immediately on the stomach and intestines and allay the irritation and pain. A trial of it will convince anyone of the truth of these assertions.

"Now, Harry," asked the teacher of the juvenile class, "what is the meal we eat in the morning called?" "Oatmeal," was the little fellow's prompt reply.

Beware of the truth crushed to earth, it is liable to rise up later and take a fall out of you.

THE CHINESE STARE.

Familiarity That is Not Rudeness—Code of Etiquette.

There is one thing in China that travelers, and especially ladies' find it hard to bear with complaisance. That is the Chinese stare. This aimless, imbecile look that meets you at every turn makes some sensitive people annoyed, but to become so only adds to the discomfort.

On our wupan whatever we did pass was an object of engrossing interest to the whole ship's company. Dressing or washing was especially an opportunity for a good long stare. At meals the crew hardly ever took their eyes off us, and probably if you had asked them what they were looking at they would be at a loss for an answer. Privacy to the ordinary Chinaman is an unknown thing. Everything that can be done in full view of the public is carried on and rather than feeling embarrassed by the situation he seems to enjoy the curious gaze of the multitude.

Familiarity is another trait that strikes a traveler on a wupan, but that the Chinese mean nothing rude is quite apparent. They examine carefully your books, writing, pencils or other things you may leave about, and feel the texture of your garments. If we speak Chinese, they would ask us our ages, are we married, our income, and various other questions which according to Chinese etiquette are quite proper and in order.

We have already learned that to take off your hat when you enter a room is bad manners, that if you wear glasses, no matter how short-sighted you may be, they must be removed, even at risk of falling over the furniture; that you must not stand at ease in the presence of dignitaries, but at attention, though not necessarily with your heels together, nor sit down until permitted; that the correct thing is to shake hands with yourself and if you wish to be very polite, raise them to your forehead; that tea is not to be taken until the host wishes you to leave, when he merely touches the rim of the cup; when you sip and depart; that even the smallest article at hand must be handed with two hands (one is exceedingly rude), because if a thing is worth doing at all it is worth doing well; and so on.

The Chinese code of etiquette is most elaborate, and all a foreigner can hope to do is to observe the little everyday courtesies of life.—Shanghai Mercury.

ORIGIN OF THE CHERRY TREE.

As a cultivated fruit the cherry is of Eastern origin. The first garden cherries, as well as the name, have come from an old Greek town on the southern shores of the Black Sea. The name of the colony was Cerasos and the inhabitants cultivated the cherry. So in Greek the cherry became cerasos, in Latin cerasus, in French cerise, in English cherry. Pliny relates that the Roman General Lucullus, conqueror of the great Mithridates, brought the cherry from Cerasos to Rome. A tree laden with fruit is said to have adorned his triumphal procession. In the course of the next 120 years the culture of the cherry had spread far and wide and reached even remote Britain.

TURKS KIND TO ANIMALS.

In the matter of kindness to animals it is said that the Turk cannot be surpassed. Thus at Stamboul the wandering dogs are treated with great gentleness, and when puppies come into the world they are lodged with their mother at the side of the street in improvised kennels made out of old boxes lined with straw and bits of carpet. And frequently when a young Turk happens to be flush of money he goes to the nearest baker's shop and buys a quantity of bread, which he distributes among the dogs of the quarter, who testify their gratitude by jumping up at him with muddy paws and sniffing muzzles.

WHAT HE REMEMBERED.

"An' ye fell from a window, Jerry? How far wuz it ye fell?" "Tin stories." "Well, well! That was a great fall. And what did ye think on your way down?" "Begorry, I didn't think of nothin' until I passed th' fift' sthory. Thin I remembered I left me pipe on the window sill."

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

HE WAS SURPRISED TOO.

While visiting a reformatory a New Orleans mission worker observed among the inmates an old acquaintance, a negro lad long thought to be a model worker. "Is it possible I find you here?" "Yassum," blithely responded the backslider. "I's charged with stealin' a barrel o' sweet pertaters." The visitor sighed. "I am surprised!" "Yassum," said Jim. "So was I or I wouldn't be here!"

Wilson's Fly Pads, the best of all fly killers, kill both the flies and the disease germs.

ABOUT THE SIZE OF IT.

"All men are born equal," quoted the moralizer. "Yes," rejoined the demoralizer, "and the equality stops right there."

"Poor Waggs! He was a most genial soul." "Yes, indeed he was. The only thing he ever took seriously was the cold that carried him off."

'Tis a Marvellous Thing.—When the cures effected by Dr. Thoma's Electric Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvellous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six simple ingredients which enter into its composition. A trial will convince the most skeptical of its healing virtues.

ONLY CASE ON RECORD.

George—Do you believe the woman ever lived who could truly say to her lover that he was the first man she had ever kissed? Madge—Yes; Eve.

BICYCLISTS, young or old, should always carry a bottle of Painkiller in their saddle bags. It cures cuts and wounds with wonderful quickness. Avoid substitutes, there is but one "Painkiller"—Perz Davis'—25c and 50c.

REVERSE PROCESS.

"How did Smith act about his salary when he found he was cut down?" "He seemed very much cut up."

Faultless in Preparation.—Unlike any other stomach regulator, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the result of long study of vegetable compounds calculated to stimulate the stomachic functions and maintain them at the normal condition. Years of use have proved their faultless character and established their excellent reputation. And this reputation they have maintained for years and will continue to maintain, for these pills must always stand at the head of the list of standard preparations.

Slimpurse (airily)—"Aw, me good man, is it customary to tip waiters heah?" Head Waiter (condescendingly)—"Not unless you are better off than the waiter, sir."

THOSE ANGLO-SAXON NAMES.

Two recruits had just been brought in by the sergeant. Eliciting Officer (to first one)—What's your name? Recruit—Watt, sir. "What is your name?" "Watt, sir." "What's your name? I ask you?" "My name is Watt, sir—W-a-t-t." "Humph! Where do you come from?" "Ware, sir." "Yes, dunderhead! Where do you come from?" "I come from the town of Ware, in Hertfordshire, sir." "Oh! That'll do." Turns to second recruit. "What's your name?" "Mee, sir." "Yes, you, thickhead! Will you give me your name?" "My name, sir, is John Mee." "Humph! And where do you come from?" "Hoo, sir." "Confound it, you blockhead! Don't you understand? Where do you come from?" "Hoo, sir." "Well if ever—" Sergeant (interposing)—"The man comes from the village of Hoo, near Chatham, sir." "Oh, I see!"

A BOY'S HOLIDAYS.

The ardent controversy which has been waging in England and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway System to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents, as to what to do with the public and preparatory school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled, "What shall a Boy do with his Vacation" thoroughly covers the ground and solves the problem of the best way for a schoolboy to enjoy his holidays. A copy may be obtained for the asking by applying to Mr. J. D. McDonald.

FOUND WHAT HE WANTED.

"I started out on the theory that the world had an opening for me, and I went to find it." "Did you find it?" "Oh, yes. I'm in a hole."

Impurities of the Blood Counteracted.—Impurities in the blood come from defects in the action of the liver. They are revealed by pimples and unsightly blotches on the skin. They must be treated inwardly, and for this purpose there is no more effective compound to be used than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They act directly on the liver and by setting up healthy processes have a beneficial effect upon the blood, so that impurities are eliminated.

NOT EXACTLY.

"I suppose you are getting a good rest at your summer cottage?" "A good rest? Would you call sleeping on the floor a good rest?" retorted the head of the house.

The microscope in the hands of experts employed by the United States Government has revealed the fact that a house fly sometimes carries thousands of disease germs attached to its hairy body. The continuous use of Wilson's Fly Pads will prevent all danger of infection from that source by killing both the germs and the flies.

IN SELECTING INVESTMENTS

INCLUDE SOME BONDS

Standard Canadian Bonds have long been important assets of our Financial Institutions, of large Estates and of individuals of wealth.

First Mortgages on farm property formerly made the favored form of investment to persons of limited means. To many, an issue of bonds was not well understood.

To-day such investors, knowing the merits of our Canadian bonds, knowing that they are fractional mortgages—representing a larger mortgage secured through a Trust Company—are making a distribution of their interests. An ideal division of surplus funds, we might suggest, would be—a mortgage—a municipal debenture—a railroad or public utility bond—an approved bond of a manufacturing concern.

Bonds afford a number of important advantages over mortgages, among which might be mentioned

- Safety—Issues recommended by us are purchased only after rigid investigation by experts.
- Good interest return.
- Prompt and regular payment of interest; coupons will be cashed at your bankers.
- Long investment—bonds run from one to thirty years.
- No expense for investigation.
- Readily marketable.
- Can be used as bank collateral.

We offer the services of our organization for assistance in selecting your investments.

Some Railroad bonds yield 5 to 5 1/2%. Some Utility bonds yield 4 1/2 to 5 1/2%. Some approved bonds of Manufacturing Companies yield 5 to 6%.
