An Influence for Peace.

Samuel Gompers has a plan for uniting the workmen of all countries. If this is an influence for peace instead of strife it will be welcomed, but it has the aspect of antagonism.—Globe.

Any serious plan for uniting the workmen of all countries will have the aspect of antagonism to low wages, long hours and other things too numerous to mention which workmen of all countries consider undesirable. To secure better conditions is the chief, if not the only, object of uniting. At the meeting at Paris of the international trades union congress at which Mr. Gompers made his proposition, a resolution was adopted for an appeal to the unionists of the world to strive for the abolition of war. If this is not an influence for peace, what is it?

The Fall Fair.

The fall fair season will very soon be with us again, if indeed it may not be said to have commenced with the opening of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, which, with all its display and grandeur, is only a fall fair "of a larger growth," extended and glorified. While the big show has its big attractions and has a wide educational influence, the numerous county and township fairs of comparatively modest dimensions throughout the country are each year exercising a steady influence that is probably greater in proportion to their pretensions than that of the Toronto Exhibition. At the big show a larger percentage of the crowd attending are sightseers, without any particular interest in the exhibits, and the principal benefit at any exhibition is that received by the exhibitors themselves in conversation with each other, interchange of ideas and comparison of results, with the advantage of having illustrating material right at hand. Comparisons with a neighbor's achievements are of more value than comparisons with what has been done by somebody at a distance, where climatic and other conditions may be different. County and township shows should be encouraged in every way. Those having anything worth exhibiting should not neglect to bring it along to the local show. It is time that the I-left-something-better-than-that-at-home-because-I-didn't-think-it-was-good-enough-to-show spirit was dead and buried. Boost the fall fair.

(Correspondence of the Gazette.)

The recent showers put a stop to the harvesting.

Mr. Leslie Rutherford left here for the West on the 27th. Others would like to go but they have to stay home.

Last Tuesday evening the south-eastern sky was illuminated. Quite likely another barn and contents have gone up in smoke.

The school trustees held a meeting recently to consider a different plan of heating the school house in the future. Our opinion is they can't make the change to soon, as the cold weather will soon be here and find the trustees sleeping. During six weeks of holidays nothing was done. Trustees and township councillors are generally supposed to be natural born business men. Some don't believe it.

DENTAL.—Dr. Sims will be at the Exhibition from Monday until Friday, inclusive, and his office will be closed during that time.

WONDERLAND.—Wonderland is closed this week on account of the absence of the proprietor, Mr. Johnstone, who is taking a holiday. He expects to return on Wednesday next.

PIANO CLASS.—Miss Brown, A. T. C. M., of Lindsay, intends organizing a class for Piano and Theory pupils in Fenelon Falls. It is desirable that applications be made at once at Mr. W. T. Junkin's, Oak street, on Mondays or Tuesdays. Pupils prepared for examinations.

KINMOUNT FAIR.—A special train will leave Lindsay for Kinmount at 9.30 a. m. on Saturday, September 11th, the second day of the Kinmount Fair. Single fare for the round trip. The Lindsay band will be in attendance. Good horse races are on the programme for the day, besides other attractions, including the merry-go-round.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—The pastor, continuing his sermons on Daniel, will preach next Sabbath morning on "The King Who Became an Ox." The evening subject is "Modern Merop."...At a meeting of the managing board of St. Andrew's Church, Dr. Mason, M. P. P., in the chair, it was decided to hold anniversary services on Sunday and Monday, October 24th and 25th. On Sunday Rev. A. McMillan, M. A., will preach, and a Thanksgiving supper will be served on the 25th. Watch for further intimations.

PASSED WITH HONORS.—We extend our congratulations to Miss Dorothy C. French, who was successful not only in passing the second part of the first or senior leaving examination at Lindsay Collegiate Institute, but was the only candidate to take first class honors, and captured the only honor senior leaving the county secures this year. Principal Kirkconnell has sent his hearty congratulations to Miss French upon her brilliant success. Lindsay Collegiate is very successful with its candidates this year. The staff of teachers includes some of the most excellent in the Province, while in the Principal, Mr. Kirkconnell, it possesses a leader and teacher whose interest in his pupils, and efforts to secure their advancement in their studies, are deserving of the highest commendation.

LOST FOR SEVEN YEARS.—While working at the sidewalk on Bond street east one day last week, Mr. Thos. Scott found a good gold watch under a piece of plank upon which one end of a stringer had been resting. There were some leaves and rubbish on top of the watch, but the plank had kept it dry, and when wound up it commenced going and has been running ever since. The steel chain on the watch was considerably rusted. Mr. John Junkin, of Verulam, lost a watch about seven years ago near where Mr. Scott found the time-piece, and afterwards identified it as his.

Mr. Junkin had taken off his vest while putting up a fence, and when he went to get his vest the watch, which was in pocket, was missing. How it got under the sidewalk is not known, but it is supposed that somebody took the watch and hid it there, and either could not locate it again or was afraid to come back. Mr. Junkin is, needless to say, pleased at having recovered the watch, which is a good one, and apparently none the worse for its somewhat Ripvanwinkley experience. It was advertised in the Gazette at the time it was lost. Results from Gazette ads may occasionally seem a little slow, but they are awful sure.

W. I. MEETING.—The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. Minthorne at Rosedale locks, the steamer Hiawatha taking all who wished to go, arriving at three o'clock. The meeting opened in the usual way, Mrs. Dr. Gould presiding. All answered the roll call with interesting contributions to the programme. Some splendid pointers on pickling were given. Miss Flett and Mrs. Calder gave readings. The meeting was closed with the national anthem. Tables were set and all sat down to a sumptuous supper, which was much enjoyed, after which Mr. Cashore thanked the ladies for the honor of occupying the head of the table, he wished the W. I. every success and thought their motto a worthy one. A vote of thanks was tendered by the ladies to Mrs. Minthorne, also to Mr. Cashore for his kindness in conveying them to Rosedale. The party arrived about 7.30 well pleased with the day's outing.

The first rural mail delivery in the County of Peterborough was commenced last week, the people along the Communication road and in the Township of Ennismore, along the main road, being the first to have their mails brought to their homes. MR. Pat. Sullivan, driver of the Ennismore stage will be the postman on this route until October, when Mr. P. J. Scollard will have charge of it. The rural delivery will no doubt be greatly appreciated by the farmers. Most of them have put boxes on their gates and in these the mail will be left.
