

SIX THOUSAND DOLLAR FINE

The Magistrate Says Hudson's Bay Company is an Old Offender.

A despatch from Sudbury says: Geo. T. S. Train, manager of the Bisco branch of the Hudson's Bay Co., on the main line of the C. P. R., was fined by Magistrate Fournier in Sudbury on Thursday, a total of $6,150 and costs, or twenty years and six months in the penitentiary. This is a fine of $50 and costs for each of the 123 beaver pelts seized, or two months' imprisonment on each charge, the terms to run consecutively. The lawyer for the defence pleaded for leniency, as this was Train's first offence, but the Magistrate took the view that the real offenders were the Hudson's Bay Co., who accepted the furs, and as this was not their first offence he imposed the fine. Crown Attorney Clary, for the prosecution, explained that Train was only a figurehead, and the Hudson's Bay Co. were glad to get the furs. They had been convicted time and again without effect. It will cost the Hudson's Bay Co. about $7,000 for the 123 beaver pelts, valued at about $1,000, and the furs will be confiscated.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

DIET OF "STRIPPINGS" IS ALL CREAM, NOT MILK.

Dr. B. J. Kendall, Geneva, Illinois, Has Tested It With Best Results.

The most certain method ever adopted for the cure of the "Great White Plague" is through the diet used as per directions given below which can be taken at home and comes within the reach of the poor as well as the rich.

The modus operandi is to force the body to take on fat, a desideratum long felt by the medical profession but never before attained to.

During the last fifteen years I have prescribed this diet in hundreds of instances and where directions have been followed strictly it has raised the weight and increased the strength and vitality of the patient rapidly up to a normal condition, thus enabling nature to assert her sovereign right to be the dominating force in the body and the germs causing consumption have been overcome and the cure accomplished. Some have gained a pound a day and would gradually take on less until they would not increase in weight more.

THE ALL IMPORTANT THING

is to drink large quantities of milk strippings (the very last of the milking, which is all cream when a proper cow is selected). This seems so simple and easy that many have refused to follow directions and demand medicines to cure them; but there has not yet been discovered any medicine that is a specific for consumption.

To get best results a healthy cow should be selected, one that does not cough and one that gives very rich milk. A Jersey cow is preferable. The milk should always be tested, to be sure that there is a large per cent of cream in it.

The last quart should be milked into a separate dish which rests in a larger vessel containing warm water just sufficient to prevent the strippings from cooling below blood heat. The cow should be thoroughly cleaned to prevent any dirt getting into the milk so the patient can blow back the froth and drink at once without straining as this cools it too much.

HOW MUCH TO DRINK.

Begin by drinking nearly a pint in the morning and the same at night and increase the quantity gradually so that in 10 or 15 days a full quart will be taken twice a day. It should be taken immediately after milking before it has had time to cool any. All should be taken that can be without too much discomfort and then rest 2 or 3 minutes and drink more and rest again, and so on until a full quart has been taken as soon as it can be conveniently. In about fifteen minutes the patient should eat at the table such articles of food as are known to agree with the stomach. At noon eat as usual.

When the strippings are not allowed to cool below blood heat and taken immediately after it is milked a full quart will be transferred into the circulation in a remarkably short time.

I never have seen a case but could take the strippings without any discomfort worth mentioning when above directions were followed strictly, although some have declared they could not before trying it; but when they delayed taking for half an hour and the milk had cooled ten degrees I have seen half a pint make them very sick.

of success with it is in taking it immediately after milking and not allowing it to cool below blood heat, taking a full quart morning and evening and having milk that is very rich.

The following is a typical case. Mrs. A. E. was suddenly startled to find her weight was forty pounds below normal. She was coughing terribly and soon had a very profuse hemorrhage from the lungs that came near taking her life. I at once began the use of the milk strippings after hemorrhage was stopped and in a few days, about ten or fifteen, she had gained nearly a pound a day and was soon able to get out of bed and go around the house. She gained quite rapidly and as her weight and strength increased her cough decreased. When she had gained thirty pounds in about three months her cough left her. I had her continue the same diet for 6 or 8 weeks longer and she gained ten pounds more and then would not take on more flesh. She was then as well as ever had been and continued well after the strippings were discontinued.

SHE TOOK NO MEDICINE

after the hemorrhage was stopped excepting a little pepsine and some other digestive to aid digestion and a simple cough remedy to ease the cough; but tar, lobelia, opium, tartar emetic and such medicines as disturb the stomach and interfere with digestion were carefully avoided.

It is easy for those on a farm to carry out this method, and on several occasions parties who lived in the city purchased a suitable cow and after complete recovery, in every instance, they sold the cow for nearly as much as was paid for her.

I do not remember any case that followed the directions strictly that was not cured, but several persisted in declaring they could not take it until so much valuable time was wasted that they lost their lives by it.

I have found the same diet when above directions were carried out carefully, equally successful in increasing the weight and strength of those run down and debilitated from other causes.

$50,000 TIMBER RAFT FOUND

Lost Thirty-Five Years Ago, Now Located in Lake Erie.

A despatch from Port Colborne says: Thirty-five years ago on a dark and stormy night a tug was battling with the heavy seas of Lake Erie. In tow she had an immense raft of oak timber for Port Colborne, being brought from the Upper Lakes. The heavy seas parted the raft, which was only fastened together by pine. The one part was brought safely to shore, but the other disappeared, as if it had been swallowed up. This proved a heavy loss to the owners. No amount of searching could find the timber. Now, after many years, it appears it has been found. The immense raft has been located near Gull Island. Several farmers going out on the lake to fish found it about one mile from shore frozen in the ice. They immediately came to port and broke the news. The timber is all squared oak, which is very valuable. Experts here say it is worth one hundred thousand dollars. It will be staked, located, and as soon as the ice breaks up brought to Port Colborne. The find is creating much excitement here. The timber at the time it was lost was valued at fifty thousand dollars. Prices have doubled since that time. The many years in the water has not damaged it to any extent. It is said the timber belongs to the estate of the late Dalton McCarthy.

Toronto, March 1.—The quality of the cattle offering was not up to the mark, there being far too many of the half-finished variety. These were hard to sell and declined fully 20c before they changed hands. Everything of the choice class were quickly caught up and realized as high prices as at any time during the past two months. A few well-finished picked steers and heifers sold at $5.80 to $6.35, but these were exceptional. The greater number of sales of good butchers' were made at the $5 to $5.50 mark. Medium quality butchers' sold at $4.30 to $4.95. Cows and bulls were likewise easier. Sheep, lambs, and hogs, owing to the small supply, were firm.

The Central Labor Union represents 140 unions, with a membership of 125,000. The decision of the union bosses followed a day of almost continuous rioting, in which a boy was killed and sixty persons were hurt. It was one of the worst days the city has seen since the strike began.

GREAT SHIPBUILDING PLANT

Arrangements Are Nearly Completed With a British Firm.

A despatch from Ottawa says: Negotiations between the Canadian Government and representatives of several of the world-famous British shipbuilding firms, including Harland & Wolff of Belfast, and Vickers, Sons & Maxim, for the establishment of Canadian shipyards and drydocks, capable of constructing and repairing the largest ocean-going vessels, and of building the proposed new vessels of the Canadian navy, have been under way for several months past. It is expected that an announcement will shortly be made that arrangements have been completed for the establishment by one or other of these companies, of a steel shipbuilding plant at Montreal, or one of the Atlantic coast ports, which will rival in capacity anything in North America. By way of further encouraging the establishment of such an industry in Canada, thus completing the scheme of Canadian Naval defence, the Government will, it is understood, shortly bring down a bill increasing the present subsidy granted for building drydocks. It is now three per cent. per annum for twenty years, on a maximum expenditure of $1,500,000. Parliament will be asked to make it three and a half per cent. per annum for twenty-five years, on a total expenditure of probably three millions.

A steel shipbuilding plant for the Pacific coast is also contemplated by a firm of Canadian capitalists at Esquimalt, British Columbia.

A NEGRO'S WANTON CRIME

Opens Fire on Party of Young Students on a Train.

A despatch from New York says: Harrison Higbee and Leslie Lord, two young Yale graduates, and socially prominent in North Jersey, were wantonly shot down and probably fatally wounded on Wednesday by an infuriated negro in the smoking car of a Jersey Central train in which they were riding to their homes in Newark.

Accompanying Higbee and Lord were Gale Young, of New York, and his cousin, Roger Young, of Newark, both Princeton graduates. Soon after the train left Jersey City, the negro, who was accompanied by another man of his race and a mulatto woman, accused the four young college men of making remarks about the woman. Lord was about to reply but Higbee told him to keep quiet.

"Don't you tell me to keep quiet," yelled the negro as he leaped to his feet and drew a revolver, "I'll quiet you," and he opened fire on the four young men.

Roger Young leaped for the negro, who was so powerful that he dragged Young with him to the platform. Young held on, however, and when the negro leaped from the train while it was making twenty miles an hour, Young went with him. In striking the embankment, Young's grip was broken and the desperado disappeared.
