ECONOMY.

Maude—"I hear that Charlie deliberately picked a quarrel with his fiancée."

Claude—"Yes, he said he simply had to. Wanted to stop buying flowers for a while, so he could pay his tailor."

Revive the Jaded Condition.—When energy flags and the cares of business become irksome; when the whole system is out of sorts and there is general depression, try Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They will regulate the action of a deranged stomach and a disordered liver, and make you feel like a new man. No one need suffer a day from debilitated digestion when so simple and effective a pill can be got at any drug store.

NO TEMPTATION.

Mrs. Henpeck (with newspaper)—"It says here that buttermilk will extend one's life to over a hundred."

Henpeck (wearily)—"If I was a bachelor, I'd take to drinking it."

The destruction of the house fly is a public duty. Almost all Boards of Health are now carrying on a crusade against it. A bulletin recently issued by the Dominion Government states that no house fly is free from disease germs. Use Wilson's Fly Pads freely and persistently, and do your share towards exterminating this menace to the public health.

A Time for Everything.—The time for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is when croupy symptoms appear in the children; when rheumatic pains beset the old; when lumbago, asthma, coughs, colds, catarrh or earache attack either young or old; when burns, scalds, abrasions, contusions or sprains come to any member of the family. In any of these ailments it will give relief and work a cure.

JAPANESE GARDENING.

Process of Dwarfing Pines Occupies Ten Years.

The Japanese gardener usually plans his gardens so that the best vista is obtained from the guest room of the house or the arbors where it is likely to be most appreciated. If there are hills or mountains in the background the garden is so designed that the hills are part of it, brought into immediate relation with it.

If there is no desirable outside scenery the garden is made in such a way as to give the impression of being in a small amphitheatre or the heart of a forest. To them gardening is not arithmetic but an art—hills, dales, rivulets, waterfalls, bridges, etc., vie in presenting their quaintest forms and fancies and harmonious symmetries.

Dwarfed plants of all descriptions deck the scene here and there in thousands of peculiarly artistic shapes.

The art of dwarfing plants is little known in other lands. The successful Japanese nurseryman must not only be a good grower but he must also be an artist conversant with the general arts and customs of his country, which differ very materially from those of other countries.

The pines may be considered the most important of all trees in Japan, says the Queen, and great care is taken of their cultivation and preservation. They are generally grown from seed and great care is taken to select the choicest qualities. In the spring of the second year, when the seedlings are about eight inches in height, they are staked with bamboo canes and tied with rice straw, the plants being bent in different desirable shapes.

The next autumn they are transplanted to a richer soil and well fertilized. In the following spring the plants are restaked and twisted and tied in fanciful forms. This mode of treatment is given until the seventh year, when the trees will have assumed fairly large proportions, the branches being trained in graceful forms and the foliage like small clouds of dense green.

The plants are now taken up and potted. Every succeeding year great care must be taken of new shoots, which must be kept pinched back. After another three years of this treatment the trees are virtually dwarfed, there being no visible growth after.

There is also a great demand for curiosities in mixed grafted conifers, that is, six or seven kinds of conifers on one plant. Maples form one of the best materials for the artistic fancies of the Japanese craftsman. Often a great many different varieties of maples are grafted on one stem. Seedling maples are spliced together when growing; after they have formed a union the desired shoot is cut off. This is kept up until ten or twenty varieties are obtained.

It is hard to realize that the delights of the imagination are purely imaginary.

NOT WANTED.

After the new baby had arrived the doctor came into the nursery and said to small Lola, aged 4: "Lola, I know something you would like to have."
"What?" she queried.
"A brother," he replied.
"No, I wouldn't," rejoined Lola. "I detest men."

PA'S OBSERVATION.

Little Willie—"Say, pa, what is an ideal wife and an ideal husband?"

Pa—"An ideal wife and an ideal husband, my son, are two of a kind that seldom make a pair."

Hope for the Chronic Dyspeptic.—Through lack of consideration of the body's needs many persons allow disorders of the digestive apparatus to endure until they become chronic, filling days and nights with suffering. To these a course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is recommended as a sure and speedy way to regain health. These pills are specially compounded to combat dyspepsia and the many ills that follow in its train, and they are successful always.

TOO MUCH TO EXPECT.

Mrs. McPherson (to the village chronic growler)—"You're always complainin' o' something. Are ye never really well?"

The Chronic Growler—"No! there's over much o' me tae be a' well at the same time."

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S Liniment in my family for years, and consider it the best liniment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh.

Office Boy—"No, sir."

The Boss (in surprise)—"Why not?"

Office Boy—"Cause there ain't no game this afternoon."

If every housekeeper would use Wilson's Fly Pads freely during the summer months, the house fly peril would soon be greatly diminished.

UNNATURALLY FRUGAL.

Nellie—"I don't see why Gertrude Konomey is so determined to postpone the date of her wedding."
Nora—"You don't? Well, it's because she has a large supply of Gertrude Konomey calling cards on hand, and she does not propose to have them wasted."

The change of dietary that comes with spring and summer has the effect in weak stomachs of setting up inflammation, resulting in dysentery and cholera morbus. The abnormal condition will continue if not attended to and will cause an exhaustive drain on the system. The best available medicine is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It clears the stomach and bowels of irritants, counteracts the inflammation and restores the organs to healthy action.

CLEANING.

Curtain Help.—Try pinning lace curtains on the mattress of a spare bed instead of on the floor, which is a back-breaking task. The pins go into the mattress much more easily, one's fingers are spared painful bruises, besides doing away with the tiresome stooping. Have made inexpensive net curtains do several seasons more service by pinning them down than they would have stood if put on curtain stretchers.

Feather Pillows.—Place a couple of pieces of boards across four tin coffee cans and set in the bottom of the boiler; put three or four inches of water in the boiler, place the pillows on the boards, cover the boiler, and let the pillows steam for an hour. Hang them out in the wind until they are nearly dry and finish drying in the sun. They will come out light and downy, clean and fresh smelling.

Bamboo Furniture.—Bamboo furniture should be rubbed occasionally with a mixture of linseed oil and turpentine, followed by a brisk polish with a soft cloth. This furniture should be exposed to the air frequently and kept away from the fire.

Bottle Cleaner.—Cut up a piece of brown heavy wrapping paper into five or six pieces; take two or three small pieces of common soap, a piece of washing soda, and put in bottle, then pour hot water, not too hot, on same and shake bottle well. Let stand for two or three hours. You will find this an excellent recipe for cleaning water bottles.

ZAM-BUK SAVED THIS BABY

Mrs. M. Barrett, 600, Moreau St., Montreal, says:
"A horrid rash came out all over my baby's face and spread until it had totally covered his scalp. It was irritating and painful, and caused the little one hours of suffering. We tried soaps and powders and salves, but he got no better. He refused his food, got quite thin and worn, and was reduced to a very serious condition. I was advised to try Zam-Buk, and did so. It was wonderful how it seemed to cool and ease the child's burning, painful skin. Zam-Buk from the very commencement seemed to go right to the spot, and the pimples and sores and the irritation grew less and less. Within a few weeks my baby's skin was healed completely. He has now not a trace of rash, or eruption, or eczema, or burning sore. Not only so, but cured of the tormenting skin trouble, he has improved in general health."
Zam-Buk is sold at all stores and medicine vendors, or a box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes for $2.50. A certain cure for all skin diseases, cuts, burns, etc., and for piles.
