

BABY'S TERRIBLE ECZEMA.

Five Doctors Failed to Relieve, but Zam-Buk Worked a Cure.

Mrs. Chas. Levere, of Prescott, North Channel, Ont., tells how Zam-Buk cured her baby. She says: "My baby's head and face was one complete mass of sores. The itching and irritation were fearful, and the little one's plight was so serious that one time we feared her ears would be eaten off by the disease."

"We had to keep her hands tied for days to prevent her rubbing and scratching the sores. Doctor after doctor treated her in vain, until we had had five doctors. They all agreed it was a frightful case of eczema, but none of them did any permanent good."

"As a last resource we were advised to try Zam-Buk. The first box did so much good that we felt sure we were at last working in the right direction. We persevered with the treatment until we had used thirteen boxes, and at the end of that time I am glad to say Zam-Buk had effected a complete cure."

For eczema, eruptions, rashes, tetter, itch, ringworm, and similar skin diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal. It also cures cuts, burns, scalds, piles, abscesses, chronic sores, blood poisoning, etc. All druggists and stores at 50 cents a box, or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Refuse imitations.

HIS FATAL ERROR.

Fred—"I made the mistake of my life two years ago. I turned down a leap-year proposal because the girl couldn't cook."

Joe—"Where did the mistake come in?"

Fred—"Later I discovered that she had money enough to enable us to board."

Cheapest of All Medicines.—Considering the curative qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil it is the cheapest medicine now offered to the public. The dose required in any ailment is small and a bottle contains many doses. If it were valued at the benefit it confers it could not be purchased for many times the price asked for it, but increased consumption has simplified and cheapened its manufacture.

"I should like," said a book canvasser to a merchant, whose sanctum he had invaded, "to call your attention to a little work which I have here." "And I will call your attention to a mighty mass of work which I have here," replied the man at the desk.

Three packets of Wilson's Fly Pads cost twenty-five cents, and will kill more flies than twenty-five dollars' worth of sticky paper.

A teacher was trying to explain the dangers of overwork to one of her smaller pupils. "Now, Tommy," she pursued, "if your father were busy all day and said he would have to go back to the office at night, what would he be doing?" "That's what ma wants to know."

The surest remedy to this end and one that is within reach of all, is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, the best laxative and sedative on the market. Do not delay, but try them now. One trial will convince anyone that they are the best stomach regulator that can be got.

PAPA'S OPINION.

He—"You know that it isn't your money I want to marry for, don't you dear?"

She—"Yes; that's what I told papa."

He—"And what did he say?"

She—"He said if that was true you didn't have as much sense as he thought you had."

Constipation.

Is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, bad complexion, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. To neglect it is slow suicide. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills positively cure Constipation. They are entirely vegetable in composition and do not sicken, weaken or gripe. Preserve your health by taking

EFFECTS OF COCAINE.

Fascinating at First, but the Craving Causes Intense Agony.

"There is no drug so fascinating in its perfect relief of discomfort, fatigue, mental worry and sense of exhaustion as cocaine," says the Medical Record. "The impression which follows from its use is that of renewed vigor and unusual capacity, as if some new force had been added."

"The first after effects following the withdrawal are of short duration and not especially painful. Later this condition increases. The pain takes on a mental, activity, a species of irritative melancholia and profound exhaustion which seeks relief at all times and under any circumstances."

"Nature seems to protest against the physical and psychic injury done in the most alarming way. This is seen in the facial agony of the cocaine taker when deprived of the drug. His sufferings are internal and not seen in muscular excitement. The profound change that follows its use in the quiet face, serene satisfaction and perfect relief is evidence of its effects."

"There appears to be a more pronounced susceptibility to this drug than to alcohol or opium. Very few cases are found in which the effects are unpleasant. Many persons become alarmed when they discover its tremendous fascinating effects and make great efforts to escape. In their efforts to accomplish this they turn to morphine spirits and other drugs."

"A great many cocaine takers in this country are poisoned by spirits and drugs and are exhausted before cocaine is taken, and the relief which this brings them is a new experience, increasing the degeneration. Cocaine addiction can be concealed for some time, hence its peculiar danger."

"Druggists, physicians and patent medicines are responsible for this new scourge of humanity. The remedy is to stop its sale, except for some specific purpose, to be noted on a public book, and where a doctor uses it freely there must be some accounting, so as to prevent its danger."

"Drinks served from the soda fountain containing cocaine are attracting increased attention by the sudden popularity and enormous sale in certain sections. When the fact is ascertained that their chief value consists in cocaine in small quantities efforts to suppress them are both difficult and doubtful. The proprietors by merely changing the names can continue the use, and if the soda fountain dealers refuse to dispense them they are frequently sold direct to the customers."

ENGLAND'S AGED PEERS.

Sixteen Born in George IV.'s Reign—Youthful Sovereigns.

Lord Strathcona, who celebrated his ninetieth birthday recently by working all day at his desk in his office as High Commissioner for Canada in London, is not the grand old man of the peerage despite his robust old age. The Earl of Wemyss is older and is as spry at 94 as Lord Strathcona is at 90. Lord Wemyss—he pronounces his name as if spelled Weems—holds another record: he has been a member of the House of Commons uninterruptedly for more than sixty-nine years.

The peerage, like the poorhouse, seems conducive to old age. Lord Gwydyr died last year at the fine old age of 98. There are fourteen peers besides Lord Strathcona and Lord Wemyss who were alive when George IV. was on the throne, and George IV. died in 1830. They are Lord Nelson, Lord Cross, Lord Sydmouth, Lord Knutsford, Lord Halsbury, Lord Abergavenny, Lord Lister, Lord Ashcombe, Lord Mount Stephen, Lord Peel, Lord Stanmore and Lord Feversham.

Contrasted with the great age of these members of the House of Lords is the comparative youth of nearly all the sovereigns of Europe. George V. is a comparatively young man. His cousins, the King of Norway and the Czar of Russia, are also young, while another cousin, the German Kaiser, is still in the prime of life, having barely turned 50.

The King of Spain and the King of Portugal are mere boys, while the Queen of Holland is only 30. The Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is the oldest sovereign in Europe and celebrated his eightieth birthday on August 18. He is in sound health and bids fair to live many more years.

But every man is not a hero even from his own point of view.

A ROYAL CHRISTMAS.

Henry the Third believed in plenty of food at the Festive Season. In 1247 he celebrated Christmas at Winchester Castle, and the dainties for the Royal table included 48 boars, 1,900 fowls, 500 partridges, 41 swans, 48 peacocks, 260 hares, 24,000 eggs, and 300 gallons of oysters. The cost of the bread was £27 10s. at four loaves a penny.

The source of all intestinal troubles is the common house fly; his buzz is the first symptom of typhoid. Wilson's Fly Pads are the only things that kill them all.

TAKES IT SERIOUSLY.

"I suppose you know Borem," remarked Wiseman.

"Only just well enough to say. 'How are you?'" replied Markley.

"Well, don't do it."

"Don't do what?"

"Don't say 'How are you?' for if you do he'll hold you up for a quarter of an hour or so and tell you."

Pale, sickly children should use Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. Worms are one of the principal causes of suffering in children and should be expelled from the system.

ESKIMO CANDY.

Tallow is the Eskimo's candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of water fowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dove-kie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

PROPER TERM.

Tellit—"Chinkley, the bank cashier, was arrested this morning for embezzlement."

Harmon—"Ah, another good man gone wrong."

Tellit—"No, another bad man just found out."

Through indiscretion in eating green fruit in summer many children become subject to cholera morbus caused by irritating acids that act violently on the lining of the intestines. Pains and dangerous purgings ensue and the delicate system of the child suffers under the drain. In such cases the safest and surest medicine is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It will check the inflammation and save the child's life.

EARLY ENGLISH SMOKERS.

It seems very probable that there were smokers in England long before the introduction of tobacco, according to the London Chronicle. Pipes have been discovered imbedded in the mortar of churches built before Europe's first acquaintance with tobacco, and it seems only reasonable to suppose that the people of that day smoked herbs of some sort, either medicinally or for pleasure. Colts-foot was inhaled for asthma, though whether a pipe was used in the process remains a matter for conjecture.

The Real Liver Pill.—A torpid liver means a disordered system, mental depression, lassitude and in the end, if care be not taken, a chronic state of debility. The very best medicine to arouse the liver to healthy action is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are compounded of purely vegetable substances of careful selection and no other pills have their fine qualities. They do not gripe or pain and they are agreeable to the most sensitive stomach.

A LIGHT SUPPORT.

"What is it, do you suppose, that keeps the moon in place and prevents it from falling?" asked Araminta.

"I think it must be the beams," replied Charlie, softly.

The flies that are now in your kitchen and dining room were probably feasting on some indescribable nastiness less than an hour ago, and as a single fly carries many thousands of disease germs attached to its hairy body, it is the duty of every housekeeper to assist in exterminating this worst enemy of the human race. Wilson's Fly Pads kill flies in such immense quantities as cannot be approached by any other fly killer.

"Pa, what's creative genius?" "It's the ability to get up some new scheme for letting other people do the work while you rake in the profits."

A VERY POLITE BIRD.

Among the many results of Lieutenant Shackleton's antarctic expedition is a most interesting study of the life of one of the most singular of all birds, the penguin. The explorer goes so far as to ascribe to these birds a kind of "civilization." At any rate, they seem to have cultivated politeness to a high degree. When the emperor-penguin encounters his fellows, there ensues a display of extraordinary ceremonies and salutations, the effect of which is heightened by the strange resemblance of the birds to the human form. They bow and bow, and make long "speeches." They greet the approach of men or of dogs in a similar ceremonious way. Sometimes one bird after another will gravely come forward and repeat the bowing and "speechifying," as if determined to make their polite intentions understood.
