

BIG BUSINESS IN 1910.

The year 1910 promises to be one of the most prosperous in Canada's history. Year after year, the same story has been told about increased prosperity of Canada and there seems to be no limit to the improvement in Business conditions and increase in stability of our large Financial Institutions.

The Traders Bank of Canada have recently issued a statement showing the results of their business for the first six months in 1910. Up to June 30th, their total deposits have increased to $33,500,000.00 — their total Assets to $44,500,000.00, an increase over 1909 for the same period of $3,687,000.00, in total Deposits and $4,537,000.00 in total Assets.

In addition to this very favorable Financial statement the Traders Bank also state that eleven Branches have been opened since the end of the year which brings their total number of Branches in Canada up to 112.

Perhaps not one of the least reasons for the great success with the Traders Bank of Canada during the last three years has been the progressive, energetic management of this well-established Bank. Progressive methods alive with conservative, sound Banking principals that have done much to develop this country.

LOGICAL.

"Mother," asked little Ethel "now that you're in mourning for Cousin Adelaide, will you wear black negligees, too?"

"What an absurd question child!"

"Oh, I only thought you might be as sorry at night as you were during the day," ventured Ethel.

A Pill That is Prized.—There have been many pills put upon the market and pressed upon public attention, but none has endured so long or met with so much favor as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Wide-spread use of them has attested their great value, and they need no further advertisement than this. Having firmly established themselves in public esteem, they now rank without a peer in the list of standard vegetable preparations.

HEE HAW.

A blustering politician who believed in personal methods was addressing a political meeting in the North of England, and was interrupted several times by a hostile listener. At last he lost his temper. "Who brayed there?" he called out, sarcastically. "No one," came back the prompt retort, "it was only an echo."

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Dear Sirs,—While in the country last summer I was badly bitten by mosquitoes, so badly that I thought I would be disfigured for a couple of weeks. I was advised to try your Liniment to allay the irritation, and did so. The effect was more than I expected, a few applications completely curing the irritation, and preventing the bites from becoming sore. MINARD'S LINIMENT is also a good article to keep off the mosquitoes.

Yours truly,
W. A. V. R.

"What is the secret of happiness?" asked the young person. "The secret of happiness," replied the sage of Sageville, "consists of being perfectly satisfied with what you haven't got."

APPLIED HISTORY.

First Professor—"My dear colleague, I'm a little puzzled. When did the first Peloponnesian war begin?"

Second Professor—"431 B. C."
First Professor—"Quite right, quite right. That is the number of my doctor's telephone. I was to call him up and tell him my wife is sick."

A woman imagines that the stories her husband tells are always old.

Bears and Bread.

"Is it intelligence or is it an inherited habit, as John Burroughs says, that induces the bears in the zoo to carry their bread to the pool of water?" said an observing woman. "No matter by what name you describe bruin's mental state, it is interesting to watch him with the loaf of bread. He knows that it is dry eating, so he carries it in his mouth to the pool and drops it in to soak. The grizzly will take two or three loaves and put them in the water and then jump in himself and eat them. The big Kadiak bear throws in several loaves and then goes fishing for them. The bears often fight for a piece of meat, but rarely for bread."

Historical "Bulls."

Grave diggers and writers are occasionally guilty of what are called "Hibernicisms." The following passage occurs in a popular history of France:

"It is extremely doubtful whether this prince, Merovaeus, ever existed at all, but he had a son, Childeric, whose existence is well authenticated."

The following is also from a historical work:

"Like Samson of old, who, armed only with the jawbone of an ass, put 1,100 Philistines to the sword."

When going away from home, or at any change of habitat, he is a wise man who numbers among his belongings a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. Change of food and water in some strange place where there are no doctors may bring on an attack of dysentery. He then has a standard remedy at hand with which to cope with the disorder, and forearmed he can successfully fight the ailment and subdue it.

SHOPPING.

"I'm looking for something, sir about thirty-five cents," she said sweetly.

"A souvenir," replied the clerk, "Here's a very pretty one for five cents."

"Dear me, I don't want to pay that much. I want a gift for a very dear friend at home."

ALMOST.

"You must understand, dear," said the beautiful young woman who was about to become the bride of an old man, "that I am marrying you only for your money."

"Yes, I know, sweetheart, but I come of a long-lived family and I am sure that I can teach you to love me in time."

In that moment he almost lost her.

HORSES AND CATTLE have colic and cramps. Painkiller will cure them every time. Half a bottle in hot water, repeated a few times. Avoid substitutes, there is but one "Painkiller"—Perry Davis—25c and 50c.

ACTIVE POSSESSION.

Guinevere, aged 4, was going out to walk with a young lady, of whom she was very fond. As they opened the street door, they were met by a swirling cloud of dust, blown up from the thoroughfare.

"Keep your lips closed, Gwen, or you'll get your lungs full of microbes," warned the young lady. Guinevere pondered a moment and then looking up demanded:

"What are your crobes?"

All fitting boots and shoes cause corns. Holloway's Corn Cure is the article to use. Get a bottle at once and cure your corns.

A FAMILIAR WARNING.

Mrs. Jones's favorite warning to her young progeny when they were in mischief was that she would tend to them in a minute. "Tending" was accomplished by applying her open hand where it would do the most good. When Harry was four years old he was sent for the first time round the corner to the grocery. In a few minutes he came trotting soberly back with the nickel stick in his hand, but no bag of onions.

"What's the matter?" asked his mother.

"I'm afraid of the man," he said solemnly.

"Oh, he won't hurt you," reassured Mrs. Jones. "Run along and bring the onions. I'm in a hurry for them."

A second time Harry disappeared round the corner, and a second time returned without his purchase.

"I'm afraid of the grocer man," he explained, as before.

"Well, what makes you afraid of him?" demanded his mother, impatiently.

"Why," answered the little fellow, "bofe times when I goed in, he looked at me, an' said, 'I'll tend to you in a minute!'"

"I'll tend to you in a minute!"

STICK TO THE GOOD OLD HORSE REMEDY.

It is a wise plan for all horse owners to keep some well known, tried remedy on the stable shelf.

Kendall's Spavin Cure is one of the best all round horse remedies that was ever compounded. The fact that it is so old a remedy is greatly in its favor. It is proof positive of its efficiency. All old time horse owners know Kendall's Spavin Cure and most of them use it. They would not have continued to use it for upwards of forty years if it had not proven to its legion of users that it does cure the things for which it is recommended, namely: spavins, ringbones, curbs splints, wire cuts, swellings sprains, lameness, etc., the ailments that are always and everywhere common to horses.

Ask your druggist for Kendall's "Treatise on the Horse," or write to Dr. B. J. Kendall, Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Pa—"Vulgar ostentation, my son, is the display made by people who have more money to make it with than we have."

A SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY.

Psalms 103: 4, 5.

Beneath these fair Canadian skies
This summer day we meet
The choicest gifts to recognize,
While you we gladly greet.
Affection prompts your friends to say,
With heart and voice and pen,
May gladness crown your natal day
At three score years and ten.

Those whom you loved long years ago
Are loved and cherished yet;
Their lives, while shadows longer grow,
You never will forget.
They all have passed beyond that line
Which marks the lives of men;
But you are here by grace divine
At three score years and ten.

With those you loved your voice to raise
Who journeyed with you here:
They now with songs of endless praise
Before the throne appear.
You think of their exalted state
And hail its glories then,
While you this birthday celebrate
At three score years and ten.

From lasting good and passing ill
You have not failed to glean
Those treasures which are meant to fill
The heart with joy-serene.
To us you speak with cheerful voice
Of things beyond our ken,
While in your birthday we rejoice
At three score years and ten.

And while you calmly homeward move,
May you rejoice to see
That guided by unflinching love
The best is yet to be.
May you enjoy through coming miles
Of mountain, vale and glen,
That love which now upon you smiles
At three score years and ten.

Trial Proves its Excellence—The best testimonial one can have of the virtue of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil in the treatment of bodily pains, coughs, colds and affections of the respiratory organs, is a trial of it. If not found the sovereign remedy, it is reputed to be, then it may be rejected as useless, and all that has been said in its praise denounced as untruthful.

MAGISTRATE CURED OF PILES & ECZEMA

One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam-Buk's favour is Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, King's Co., N.S. Mr. Sanford is a Justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Here is his opinion of Zam-Buk. He says:—
"I never used anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I had a patch of Eczema on my ankle which had been there for over 20 years. Sometimes also the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had applied various ointments and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, unlike everything else I had tried, proved highly satisfactory and cured the ailment. I have also used Zam-Buk for itching piles, and it has cured them completely also. I take comfort in helping my brother men, and if the publication of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by Piles or Skin Diseases I know of nothing to equal Zam-Buk."
Zam-Buk cures ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, ring-worm, festering or running sores, bad leg, varicose ulcers, salt rheum, prairie itch, cuts, burns, bruises, baby's sores, etc. Purely herbal, 50c box, druggists and stores. Refuse imitations.
