Hot and Cold.

The Mail and Empire, in seeking to discredit the proposed new tariff agreement between the States and Canada, exhibits characteristic inconsistency. The paper declares that the arrangement, if carried into effect, would be a calamity for Canada. The foreign manufacturer, it says, "will be averse to investing capital when such changes are possible," and "the interests may benefit from reduction, but the consumer does not stand to share in it." Considerable prominence is given to the views of Mr. J. W. Flavelle, who asserts that the treaty "will hinder trade east and west," and that "a north and south trade between Canada and the United States will be developed, and inter-provincial trade destroyed."

These little flights of imagination on the part of the Conservative organ might have some effect but for the contradiction contained in an editorial, in the same issue, strongly advocating the construction of the new Welland canal, the deepening of the St. Lawrence, and the immediate commencement of the Georgian Bay Canal. Listen:

"The Canadian West will soon be producing 300,000,000 bushels of wheat per annum, and in the meantime will make great strides in diversified farming. The produce to be carried out of that part of the country will keep all our transportation lines crowded with eastward-bound freight, and there will be a correspondent western-bound traffic from the factories of Eastern Canada. However promptly the Government may act in arranging for the construction of the new Welland Canal and the deepening of the St. Lawrence Canals on the one hand, and for the construction of the Georgian Bay Canal on the other, the new routes will be urgently needed years before they are ready. . . . If Western Canada is advancing by leaps and bounds as a producer of food stuffs, then Eastern Canada is advancing no less rapidly as a producer of all kinds of wealth. The avenues of communication, the media of transportation, must be multiplied and enlarged, in order that the exchange of merchandise between the two great sections of the country may be facilitated as they ought to be. Twenty years hence the scale of things in this country will have stretched out amazingly, and the people who are supporting the enterprise of that early future will marvel at the slowness of this generation to grasp the meaning of events. They will wonder that we could remain in doubt up to so late a date as this about the necessity for giving a 25 or 30-foot vessel way through the whole lake system."

This doesn't sound much like the utter destruction of interprovincial trade and the checking of Canada's development that grieves the Mail and Empire so deeply on another page. As an example of blowing hot and cold with the same breath the performance is worthy of more than passing notice.

Experiment Not Complete.

The publishers of the Farmers' Advocate have purchased a farm of 135 acres near London, Ont., and intend to put into practice the farming methods they advocate in their magazine, and test new ideas before recommending them for general adoption. The farm is known locally as the old Sifton place. The rolling land, while naturally good, has been worked out and infested with weeds till it has become about the dirtiest farm in the county of Middlesex. The barns are dilapidated and the fences down. Altogether it presents an excellent opportunity for showing what can be accomplished in restoring a run-down property. The managing editor of the Farmer's Advocate will live on the place, superintending it with a competent working foreman. The farm is not to be an experimental farm, except incidentally, nor yet a model farm, save in so far as any well-managed farm should be a model. It is simply a farm run on a straight commercial basis where strict accounts will be kept and the results published from time to time. "Good farming without frills" will be the motto.

The information to hand does not state whether paying off the mortgage usually found decorating such places will be included in the operations. The experiment would be of infinitely more value if all the difficulties and conditions often found could be duplicated and overcome—a mortgage to pay off, the expenses of illness, accidents and unforeseen losses to meet. Nobody doubts that a farm like the one mentioned can be taken hold of, built up and made productive with capital and proper methods; but the problem is to do it under the ordinary or adverse circumstances that handicap the efforts of the average farmer.

Methodist Young Men's Banquet.

On Friday evening the young men of the Methodist Church held a banquet which was a decided success. The basement of the church, where the banquet was held, was prettily decorated. About sixty-five invited guests were present. The orchestra furnished appropriate music, and Mr. A. Northey's gramophone also contributed. Games were also an entertaining feature of the programme. Mr. S. N. Terrill officiated as toastmaster. Following is the list: "Our Country" proposed by John Welch, responded to by Rev. J. Bedford; (Maple Leaf Song); "Our Guests" proposed by M. Littleton, responded to by B. Burgess; ("Blest be the tie that binds"); "The Bachelors" proposed by F. H. Terrill, responded to by Ed. Johnston; ("Tired of Bachelor's Life," Song); "Our Friends," proposed by L. Deyman, responded to by W. B. Moore; ("What a Friend We Have in Jesus"); "Our Flag" H. Littleton, E. Pearce; ("Red, White and Blue"); "Home," W. T. Robson, A. W. Terrill; ("Home, Sweet Home"); "Our King," Arnold McGee, W. Northey; ("National Anthem"). The programme concluded with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Much credit is due the committee who had charge of the arrangements for the banquet.

Good Prices For Goers.

Pleasanton Cal. Jan. 16.—The Canadian trainer, Havis H. James, who has been here about a month, is enthusiastic about this place as winter quarters. His Canadian patrons have him looking about for classy racing material and James has his eye on a number of good ones. He has been negotiating for Vernon McKinney, by Guy McKinney, son of McKinney 2:11½. This pacer is owned by Dr. J. Thompson, of Stockton, Cal., where the horse is being wintered. He paced a public mile in 2:05, last season, and recently when James went to Stockton, he drove him a half in 59½ seconds promptly offering $7,000 for him for the purpose of staking him down the Grand Circuit. In making this offer he was acting for R. J. McKenzie of Winnipeg, Man. His offer was declined, as the fast green pacer's owner is hanging out for several thousand dollars more. Mr. McKenzie was here last week, and drove a number of his horses in the James Stable, his fastest ride being behind the calico pacer, March McEwan 2:08½, who went a half in 1:01½. Joe Patchen II. 2:17½, is as handsome as his daddy, the great Joe Patchen 2:01½, and great things are expected of him this year. He has been a half better than a minute already.

Mr. James purchased last week from P. J. Chalmers the bay trotting gelding Bert Kelly, by McAdrian, (son of Guy McKinney, by McKinney, 2:11½) dam by Mountain Boy (son of Kentucky Prince 2:47) second dam by Joe Daniels, thoroughbred. Bert Kelly was used in the matinee races last season, trotting in 2:12. Before buying him James drove the gelding a half in 1:04½ and a quarter in 31 seconds. The price paid was $5,000. Geo. Spencer is assisting Havis at Pleasanton, and will race a division of the McKenzie string.—Canadian Sportsman.

Church Notices.

RETURN OF GIPSY HAWKINS.
The members of the Baptist Church have arranged with Gipsy Hawkins to conduct another two-weeks mission in Fenelon Falls. The special services will begin on Sunday, Feb. 26th, and continue until March 9th.

SPECIAL SERVICES.

Beginning on Sunday next, special services will be held in St. Andrew's Church every evening until Saturday. The pastor will be assisted by Mr. Konkle, Convenor of Committee on Evangelism; also by Rev. Mr. Steele, Glenarm and Rev. Mr. Ferry. The attention of the community is called to these meetings, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

A successful anniversary of the opening of the Baptist Church was held on January 25th. Rev. John Ford, of Port Perry, gave an instructive address on "The Ladder of Life and How to Climb It," and the choir furnished excellent music. The supper served by the ladies was as usual first class.

The pastor will preach on Sunday both morning and evening. Morning subject "The Light and Glory of God Revealed in Human Life," evening subject, "What is the Gospel?" Sunday evening the Sacred Songs and Solos will be used for the singing. Service begins with 15 minutes of song. All will be made welcome.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH.

Provost Macklem of Trinity College, Toronto, occupied the pulpit in St. James' Church on Sunday last, on the occasion of the church's anniversary, and preached very impressive sermons both morning and evening to large congregations. Prof. T. Stannage-Boyle, who was to have officiated, was unable to be present owing to illness.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIAL EVENING.

The social in St. Andrew's Church on Wednesday evening, in spite of a raging storm, and in spite of la grippe was an unqualified success. There was a good programme, good cheer, good refreshments, a good audience and everybody happy.

JOHN BLACK'S HOUSE BURNED.

Fire destroyed the house of Mr. John Black, two and a half miles from Glenarm, on Saturday morning. Nearly all the contents were also burned. The house was a good log structure. There was a small insurance.

LIBRARY SALE POSTPONED.

On account of the small attendance on Monday evening, the annual sale of periodicals of the Public Library was postponed until Monday evening, Feb. 13th, when the newspapers and magazines taken by the library will be sold by auction.

BRIDGE TO BE REPLANKED.

The "red" bridge over the falls is to be replanked next summer. The county council thought cement would be too expensive—or, rather, the preliminary work necessary before cement could be put in, examination by the engineer, laying of girders, etc.

CURLERS TO PETERBOROUGH.

A rink composed of H. Copp, lead; H. McCallum, second; C. Deyman, vice; W. Aldous, skip, left for Peterborough on Tuesday morning to take part in the bonspiel there. The rink is the same as won the chief prize at the bonspiel here with the exception of H. Copp, who takes the place of E. Pearce. Returns from Peterborough indicate that the rink has done remarkably well for a bunch of colts. They were defeated in the primaries after a hard fight, and got into the semi-finals, where they played a tie with the veteran Peterboro skip Sam Ray, who won out in the extra end. We understand the boys still have a chance to win one of the consolation prizes. Thirty-two rinks are taking part in the bonspiel.

LIBRARY MEETS.

The directors of the public library met on Monday evening and appointed committees for the year. The House committee are Messrs. T. Robson and W. H. Robson; Entertainment, Messrs. F. Warren, Dr. Sims, J. K. Hand, W. T. Junkin, Dr. Johnstone and Rev. W. H. A. French; Library committee, Rev. W. H. A. French, Dr. Sims, W. T. Junkin, Dr. Gould, W. H. Robson; Finance, W. A. Bishop, Dr. Sims, F. Warren. Dr. Sims informed the meeting that the county grant to libraries had been raised to the old figure $50, instead of $40, as last year, and the Board thanked Dr. Sims for his efforts in assisting to secure the grant of $50. The application of the librarian for an increase in salary was laid over until next meeting for fuller consideration. Owing to the small attendance, the annual sale was postponed until Monday, Feb. 20th, at 8 p. m., when a better turnout is expected. A meeting of the Board will be held the same evening at 7:15.

SALE OF FARM STOCK.

An unreserved sale of farm stock will be held on lots 17 and 18, concession 6, Verulam, better known as "The Beehive Farm," on Wednesday, Feb. 15th, at one o'clock. There are seven horses, fifteen head of cattle, including one good registered Durham bull; pigs and sheep. Usual terms. Everything on the list has to be sold without reserve, as Mr. Curtis is going into purebred Holsteins exclusively.

Mr. Cashore will also sell for Mr. Robt. Rummy his farm stock and implements on March 2nd. Further particulars later.

The Aldous Repository Sale on Saturday, and Mr. Jos. Eades' sale, on Wednesday, both drew good crowds of purchasers.
