

Here's Your Money Back

No Arguments or Conditions to it—We have nothing to say—Dr. Hess & Clark make their "Guarantee" cover everything they make.

READ THIS LETTER

JOSEPH McFARLAND,
Fenelon Falls, Ont.

Gentlemen :

To emphasize more forcibly than ever "Our guarantee" we authorize you to post or publish this letter, making plain to everyone who buys Dr. Hess Stock Food, Poultry Pan-a-ce-a, Instant Louse Killer, etc., that their money will be returned to them without argument or questions if the goods fail to fulfill to the letter every claim.

We authorize you to supply every one of your customers Dr. Hess Stock Food sufficient to feed their stock all winter,—if after doing so they are not satisfied that it has increased growth and promoted the general health and condition of the stock, refund their money.

We authorize you to supply every one of your customers with sufficient Poultry Pan-a-ce-a to feed their poultry all Winter, and Spring, and if on the first day of August, they are not satisfied that it has paid for itself many times over in increased egg production, besides keeping poultry in the pink of condition free from disease, refund the money.

We authorize you to refund the money if Instant Louse Killer, fails to destroy lice on poultry, horses, cattle sheep ticks, etc.

Our guarantee also covers every preparation that Dr. Hess & Clark make.

Signed

DR. HESS & CLARK, Ashland, Ohio.

We are ready to follow instructions. Now is the time to get big profits from feeding "Tonics" to make stock thrive, hens lay.

JOSEPH McFARLAND.

New Idea Patterns
10c.

Sole Agents for the
D. & A. Corsets.

All Millinery, Ladies' Coats and Furs at Reduced Prices.

W.M. CAMPBELL

IN AXES

We always carry a first-class line of the best makes, Prices right.

Sleigh-bells, Blankets, Mitts, Chains, Ties, etc.
Get them at

HEARD'S

If Your Watch

Needs Repairing take it to John Slater.

| FEBRUARY 1911 | | | | | | |
|---------------|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| SUN | MON | TUE | WED | THU | FRI | SAT |
| | | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | |
| 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | 10 | 11 |
| 12 | 13 | 14 | 15 | 16 | 17 | 18 |
| 19 | 20 | 21 | 22 | 23 | 24 | 25 |
| 26 | 27 | 28 | | | | |

The Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Friday, February 17, 1911

What is the Remedy.

Day after day with painful regularity the people of this country are told that the gravest danger to Canada's future as a nation and as an integral part of the British Empire is involved in an increase of the exports from the Dominion to the United States. If we increase our sales of wheat and lumber and dairy products and live stock to the people south of the border there can be only one end of it all—annexation.

Setting aside for the moment the slandering of Canadian national spirit by these faint hearts, what remedy do they offer to save Canada from "national suicide"? Not one of the journalists who tell the people daily that the Government are bankrupt, Canada's future away in the reciprocity agreement has attempted to meet the obvious answer to all their mock heroics. The United States could to-morrow bring about the calamity they profess to regard as inevitable by merely throwing off the duties on wheat, lumber, cattle, dairy products and a few other things.

Were the rulers of the United States to remove the duties mentioned, how could the Government of Canada prevent its people from exporting their wheat and lumber and cattle, and by so doing destroying their national independence?

Are The News and the Montreal Star prepared to advocate a policy of non-intercourse with the United States, or the levying of huge export duties on the principal articles placed on the U.S. free list so that these things would still go to the British market? What is their remedy for the national peril? It is asserted that only a stiff United States duty against our agricultural products has kept Canada within the Empire. If this prop to our loyalty fails us—is perhaps deliberately removed because The News and The Star have unwittingly shown the way to annexation—what is left to cling to? There is no use in asking this question of The Toronto Telegram. Hysteria in its case has become chronic, but The News and The Montreal Star have not yet shown signs of absolute incoherency. What should they do to prevent the export of Canada's agricultural, mining, fishery, and forest products to the south were the United States to remove the duties to-morrow?

Loan Money To Farmers.

W. E. Shean, writing in "Canadian Farm," says:

As to what should be done for agriculture by the government, so many things come to view that space would not permit me to enumerate them, but I will just give one instance where good can be done. The average farmer is either under a heavy rent or laboring under a mortgage of greater or less weight, paying interest thereon at from 5 to 7 per cent. A man who has a mortgage of say $5,000 to pay off has from $250 to $350 per annum to raise, besides paying hired help $200 to $300 a year, making up to $600 for help and interest that has to be met. How can a farmer be progressive, keep his best breeding stock, live as a farmer should and thus carry such a heavy burden? The government, whether Federal or Provincial, can borrow money at from 3 to 4 per cent. Then why cannot the Dominion Government loan out to the people instead of letting them pay the sums in many cases double those rates.

Is there something wrong with the average farmer's system of doing business financially? A business man who has reached 40 years of age can, if he has been as aggressive and progressive as he ought to be, earn from $1,000 to $1,200 per year, while a farmer at the same age even if he is thoroughly up-to-date cannot take up his books at the end of his year, allow interest on his capital invested, allow $1,000 for his labor, deduct hiring expenses and show as good a balance as he should, considering his labor. Is a farmer less entitled to the $1,000 per year than is the business man? Does he put as much energy and as much brains into his business? I argue that he does even more, because a farmer must be many-sided—a chemist, to know when the soil is up to necessary conditions; a mechanic to repair his buildings and fences to prevent depreciation in value, and a dozen and one others, while a business or professional man is schooled in generally one calling. A reason there must be for the difference in emolument for the labor involved. There is a difference in value of services which should not be. And there is a reason which it is your duty as an agricultural paper catering to an agricultural people to ascertain, and if possible, to remedy.

The attention of Mr. J. W. Flavelle is respectfully directed to the report that holders of cotton futures are scheming to destroy the cotton crop by flooding the country with the destructive boll weevil in order that the price may be kept up. This is evidence that influences other than the "carelessness and ignorance of the farmers," are responsible for the high cost of living.

Brandon-McLean Cup.

Skip and lead versus vice and second stone men will play for the Brandon-McLean cup as follows, for the first round:

| | | |
|-----------|----|-------------|
| Northey | vs | Lansfield |
| Shane | vs | Deyman |
| Littleton | vs | Mann |
| Sadler | vs | Stanton |
| Rover | vs | Heard |
| Graham | vs | Nevison |
| Cameron | vs | Junkin |
| Robertson | vs | Haskell |
| Townley | vs | Copp |
| Hand | vs | Sims |
| McIntosh | vs | Mason |
| Pearce | vs | McCallum |
| Burgoyne | vs | Jones |
| McIntyre | vs | H. McCallum |
| Moss | vs | Taylor |
| Johnstone | vs | Aldous |
| Warren | vs | Kitchen |
| Hamilton | vs | Cashore |
| Rover | vs | Guy |
| Gould | vs | Bishop |

The cup was won last year by O. Nevison and A. A. Cameron.

Personal.

Mr. F. J. Kerr and Mrs. E. A. McArtur were at Newcastle attending the funeral of their sister Mrs. Coulter.

Mr. Roy Wilson of the Bank of Montreal is back from Peterborough for a few days. Mr. Montizambert is visiting in Toronto.

Mrs. Garfield Kelly of Peterboro is the guest of Mrs. C. A. McFarland.

Mr. Edward F. Bell has returned to Wilmer, B. C. after spending six weeks with his mother, Mrs. Francis Bell.

Mr. Chas. Kelly paid a business trip to Peterboro on Thursday.

Mr. A. Feir went to Peterborough on Thursday.

Mrs. Hugh McDougall and Miss McDougall are in Lindsay this week, visiting Mrs. Beall.

Miss S. McCallum of Toronto is at the Falls.

Rev. A. Cooke attended the Dominion Alliance convention at Toronto.

Mr. Cochrane's Fur Farm.

The Ontario government this spring realized the sum of $2,714.83 from the sale of beaver and other furs from Algoma Park. There were in the lot 361 beaver skins, 9 otter and 14 muskrat pelts. Six hundred more beaver skins may be placed on sale soon. Under the policy of strictly protecting the beavers, the animals, from being almost extinct, have become so numerous as to be troublesome. The annual increase is estimated at five to ten thousand.

The first sale of beaver skins by the Ontario Government has taken place in consequence of an order of Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines of Ontario, that the Forest rangers in Algoma Provincial Park and Game Reserve trap five hundred beaver per year. Seventeen years ago, when the park was set aside as a game preserve, it was feared beaver were extinct, but these animals have increased so rapidly in the interval that they now have become a nuisance to those in charge of certain parts of the park and also to settlers in the district adjoining. They eat down trees that is desired should live and their dams cause the overflow of farming land. Even railway tracks have been flooded by reason of the beaver stopping up the drainage culverts in order to make a pond.

After consultation with those in charge of the park the Minister decided that in the section where the beavers were most troublesome, five hundred per year might be killed without reducing the number below the safety limit. About two hundred were trapped last season after the order went into effect, and the skins were sold by public tender. Beaver skins are reported worth from $8 to $12 each, according to size.

About a year ago Mr. Thomas Southworth, during his term as president of the Canadian Forestry Association, publicly advocated making Algoma Park a "fur farm," and he estimated that without injury to the Park as a game refuge furs to the value of $40,000 per year might be taken, which would go to defray the upkeep of the Park. A good many people who, unlike Mr. Southworth, had not had ten years' experience in forestry thought his ideas were impracticable but events proved that the officers of the Provincial Crown Lands Department were thinking in the same direction, and the order of Mr. Cochrane and the sale of furs shows that they have put the of the test.

Don't forget the library sale, Monday evening.

Mr. W. T. Robson has won a Melotte-Cream Separator as a prize for selling a larger number of these separators than any agent in the district in the past year.

In a return match played here on Saturday afternoon between the Boy Scouts of Bobcaygeon and the O. A. C. the visitors were defeated 9 to 3 after a good game.

Howe Bros. have discontinued their baking business at Fenelon Falls and removed to Lindsay. The Misses Abbot have opened up a home-made bread bakery next door north of Robson's drug store.

Grand Carnival will be held at the Fenelon Falls rink on Friday evening, Feb. 24th. Good prizes will be given out. Costumes, and for a boys race, 15 years and under. Admission 25c. and 15c. See bills.

Several delegates from the local lodge of Oddfellows will attend the lodge of instructions to be held at Lindsay on the 27th, which promises to be one of the largest of the kind ever held in the county town.

A snow-storm on Monday and heavy wind on Tuesday blocked the roads again, and snow-shovels were in general use. The train from the north was on time on Wednesday morning, but had trouble about two miles this side of Lindsay, being delayed nearly an hour. Trains from the south were all late.

Bobcaygeon Independent:—The Boy Scout Hockey Team had a friendly visit on Saturday afternoon from the Oak St. Athletic Club, of Fenelon Falls, and played a game at the Rink. It was not very generally known, but those who had the pleasure of seeing the game say it was the cleanest, and one of the best games of hockey seen in the rink. It was a fair and honorable game throughout, and some clever bits of skill shown on both sides, Master Russel Hamilton being highly commended for swift and clever work.

COULD TELL A LOT.

Sydney (N. S.) Record:—Very many people harbor the belief that newspapers are eager to publish derogatory things. It's a mistake. There isn't a newspaper that could not spring a sensation in the community at any time by merely telling what it knows. There is not a newspaper that does not keep under the lock of secrecy scores of derogatory things which never meet the public eye or reach the public ear. Deciding what not to print is the most troublesome part of newspaper work.

No one will deny that preachers often have just cause for taking a slap at their congregation for some meanness or to resent a personal injustice. It was undoubtedly in some such spirit of righteous indignation that a good and faithful pastor, whose salary was long overdue, resigned and preached his farewell sermon. He had accepted the appointment as chaplain in the State Penitentiary. He took for his text, "I go to prepare a place for you."