No Reason to Complain.

It is not generally known that the articles republished from the Canadian Century, and appearing in many country papers, are paid for as advertisements. Some of these papers have informed their readers that the articles are advertisements, and have freely criticized the views expressed therein. The fact that money is being lavishly spent in the anti-reciprocity campaign is good evidence that there are interests behind it which are prospering under existing tariff regulations, and which consider, rightly or wrongly, that the proposed change will be to their detriment. But they have had a long innings. They would have no reason to complain if their revenues should be reduced and advantages given to the farmers, fruit-growers or stockmen.

Quite in Order.

If Glen Campbell will kindly consent to describe the weather prophet who predicted that there would be very little winter after the middle of December, the patient and polite Canadian public will promise not to notice anything unparliamentary in Mr. Campbell's language.

Might Stop the Noise.

By the way, why doesn't Judge Barron quote a verse of Scripture to the anti-reciprocity howlers?

Board of Trade.

The Board of Trade held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, with a fair attendance. Mr. M. H. McCallum was elected President, Mr. W. A. Bishop Vice-President, Mr. D. Robertson Sec. Treasurer, and Mr. Wm. Campbell re-elected Honorary President. Mr. J. L. Arnold, in retiring from the Presidency, said that his duties in that position had always been of a nature to be pleasantly remembered, and he bespoke a similar experience for his successor. He gave a brief resume of what had been accomplished by the Board. It was perhaps not a great deal; still, it was something, and members of the Board had at least the satisfaction of trying to make improvements, even if they had not done all they would have liked to have done. He then introduced Mr. McCallum, who expressed his pleasure at his promotion, and affirmed his belief in the wisdom of hustling after anything that would be a benefit to the town, and the usefulness of the Board of Trade in looking after any opportunities there might be.

A motion was passed instructing the secretary to write to Dr. Mason, M.P.P., acknowledging the receipt of the young bass deposited in Cameron and Sturgeon Lakes last season, and thanking the Department and Dr. Mason for the same. Mr. Robertson, replying to a suggestion that the secretary be paid for his work, said that the pleasure of assisting to secure any improvements or advantages that might result from the efforts of the Board would be sufficient remuneration. He suggested that the town's attractiveness could be increased by the removal of rubbish, etc., and fixing up certain unsightly spots. A committee was appointed to interview Mr. Clegg, Superintendent of the T. V. C., and the W. H. L. and Power Commissioners, regarding the premises at the foot of the canal on the south side.

The summer tourist question was discussed at some length, and committees were appointed to secure information as to available cottages and cottage sites, and to consider plans for advertising the attractions of this locality. Mr. Frank Rutherford, of the Hotel Kawartha, gave his experience in advertising, stating that last summer he received fifteen replies to a small ad inserted in a Rochester paper, at a cost of $2.00. At that time he had not accommodation for all the applicants, but took some of them.

Mr. W. H. Stevens, Public School Inspector, of Lindsay, who was present at the meeting, said that he thought there should be an opportunity at the Falls for a woodenware factory of some kind, notwithstanding the Sandford factory's untimely end. The power is here, and the raw material close at hand. The meeting adjourned until Tuesday, April 4th, and meetings will be held on the first Tuesday in each month.

Home Circle Meeting.

The Canadian Home Circle held a social evening on Monday, March 20th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Minthorn. After a short time spent socially the meeting was called to order by the leader, Mr. P. C. Burgess, who as the first item in an excellent programme, gave an address consisting of a few interesting remarks on his recent visit to Toronto as delegate of the Circle, which were encouraging to the members. The musical part was ably sustained by the Miller orchestra of five pieces, which rendered a number of selections. Several of the members contributed readings and recitations, those worthy of special mention being the recitation by Miss K. Ingram and Bro. Kerr's reading. Solos by some of the members brought a very enjoyable programme to a close, after which the ladies of the circle served very excellent refreshments, showing their ability to cook and serve an appetizing meal. All voted this one of the best social evenings yet held by the Order.

Even more than the usual good time was spent by the Euchre Club on Monday night, it being the fourth wedding anniversary of their host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Levia, whose turn to entertain the Club had come round for the second time this winter. Mrs. Levia, in a handsome dress of amethyst satin, received the members in the drawing room, which was deliciously fragrant with the odor of carnations and other cut flowers. Pink and white carnations were used to assist the gentlemen in finding their partners for supper when at a later hour than on ordinary evenings, the time bell was rung for those at the card tables. A feature of the dainty supper served was a wedding cake, over which there was much fun and excitement when from out the depths of its richness were fished, in turn, the proverbial ring, button and piece of money. A toast to the continued happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Levia was proposed and the wish expressed by all that the G. T. R. would continue to find his services indispensable; so far as its work in Kinmount is concerned. After some music and the usual vote of thanks to its entertainers, the club broke up to meet again next Monday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mark.

A meeting of the Women's Institute, which was organized here this winter, and so far has proved very successful, was held yesterday in the town hall. The next meeting will be some time in the coming month.
