

of solitudes, fear of animals, fear of insects, fear of darkness, fear of accidents, fear of fire, fear of travel, and in fact fear of anything.

There is no end to the absurdity of acts which may be occasioned by these persistent ideas of fear. Those that possess the fear of riding on a train find no pleasure in travelling, those that have fear of closed places do not enjoy going to church, and generally always sit near the door ready to fly at the first sign of danger.

Various fears may also develop in connection with the occupation of the patient; for instance, barbers sometimes suffer these attacks whenever they see a razor, or telegraphers when they catch sight of their instruments, which finally necessitates giving up the occupation.

Among women especially there occurs the fear of dirt, contagion or infection. The countless bacteria always present in the air are the chief source of annoyance. The patients are always complaining of bad air and are always throwing open the windows. Books are especially avoided as a possible source of contagion. In patients with fear of injury they will throw away all needles in the house or they will no more wash windows

If the drain in the sink becomes stopped up, remove all water from sink and pour in a pint or more gasoline and let stand; this will cut the cause of stoppage in a little while.

AFTER MATURE REFLECTION.

We would not care to be a steeplejack or premier of Russia.

Cholera morbus, cramps and kindred complaints annually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, green fruit, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are debarred from eating these tempting things, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a remarkable manner and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

PADDY "IN THE INTERIM."

The habit of verbosity is a standard characteristic of human nature. We have all met people who are fond of using high-sounding speech. A gentleman said to his servant Pat: "I am going to town at 10 o'clock, and shall weed out the cucumber bed in the interim."

"Interim," thought Pat, "that's a quare name for a garden, anyhow."

"Is Mr. Smith at home?" asked a visitor who came shortly afterwards.

"Yes, sir; ye'll find him at work in his interim, there beyant," announced Pat.

Little Turkeys.—Take pork tenderloins and cut lengthwise through the middle, being careful not to cut in half; fill with dressing you would use for turkey; sew or pin together with toothpicks; bake for twenty minutes in a pan in which there is enough water to cover the bottom when baked. Make a gravy of water left in pan. Nice to add strip of bacon over top.

instead of burying good stuff, I'm going to eat it.

It Bids Pain Begone.—When neuralgia racks the nerves or lumbago cripples the back is the time to test the virtues of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Well rubbed in it will still the pain and produce a sensation of ease and rest. There is nothing like it as a liniment for its curative properties are great. A trial of it will establish faith in it.

Mrs. O'Flannery—"Whatever are ye doing, Pat, sitting in front of the glass with your eyes shut?" Pat—"Sure, I'm just looking to see how Oi shall look when I'm dead."

New Bags.—Make bags of some heavy material such as cretonne or denim, and place your hammocks in them. Use stout rings on the top to close it or even button one side over with a lap. Make similar ones for your summer parasols. Never make your pieces bags of anything except firm mosquito netting. You can see in and save time.
