Correspondence of the Gazette

Many causes are given for the high cost of living, but has any body ever thought of this one. It is the enormous expense of the wholesale houses in employing travellers. Go on to a train almost any time you like and you will find the coaches filled with lazy travellers stretched out on the seats. These men get big salaries, which, together with their railway fare, bus expenses, hotel bills, etc., costs the wholesale houses a large amount of money each year. Could the country store keepers not order their goods by mail just as well as through travellers? Then the purchase price of groceries, dry goods, footwear, etc., would be much less than under the present system, it seems to us. Store keepers, try it for one year and let these commercial travellers go to pot. Perhaps this plan would do a little in preventing people from patronizing departmental stores.

Walkerton is trying a new form of local option by putting all the hard drinkers on the Indian list. Since Inspector White's appointment four months ago no less than twenty-two inebriates have been banished from booze, and their breast bones no longer rub against the bar. This has reduced the number of drunks on the streets and has removed the horrible example from the lime light. While there's a law against filling a man that's full, yet it is such an open question as to when a man is loaded that some hotel keepers unfortunately take advantage of the doubt and fairly slop him over with Milwaukee's fame.

Your correspondent will have to postpone the pleasure of congratulations this week, as there was no foundation to the rumors. It is expected that the knot will be tied sometime soon.

Every young man should read the proceedings of the Dominion Parliament during this session. There is always the right side to everything, and whichever side is right let the young men of this country decide in an intelligent way what is right and stick to it. Don't pay any attention to your father's politics, are or was.
