

"I Sleep Soundly,
Feel Like New"

All Who Lack Vigor, Those Who are Dispirited and Worn Out, Should Read This Carefully.

Proof That Health and Renewed Vitality Quickly Return When Right Remedy is Used.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night, and in the morning felt so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me.
It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery.
After repeated trials of medicines and mixtures, Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope.
From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged-up system. My spirits rose. I felt much better. The sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color and ambition to work returned, and have remained. I am like a new man, and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E.
Parkhurst, a well known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All druggists and storekeepers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, 5 boxes for $1.00, or postpaid from the Catawba Co., Buffalo, N. Y.,

LADY WARWICK'S PETS.

Her White Peacock Was Given Her
By Lord Beaconsfield.

Among the many things for which the Countess of Warwick is famous is her collection of pets at Warwick Castle. The Countess has every opportunity to gratify her love for animals, as the estate has special advantages for the care essential to the different species. The birds have almost the freedom of a forest home. The Avon River, which separates just above the castle, surrounds a little castle on which kingfishers and wild ducks mingle together.

Perhaps the best beloved of all her pets is the famous white peac-cock, which was presented to the late earl by Lord Beaconsfield some forty years ago, before that having been the property of the author of "Lothair." It would thus seem to be quite an old bird, yet, judged by peacock standards, it is not yet middle-aged, for a companion bird, also belonging to the aristocratic breed of white peacocks, which never mate with any but birds of their own feather, is established as being more than a century old, though by how much there are no authentic records to prove.

A very old family servant remembers it as having been a vigorous bird in his childhood, while his father, who died a very old man, remembered it as having been a vigorous bird in his childhood. It is still hale and hearty, though it is losing its feathers and generally beginning to look aged.

Lady Warwick's most constant companion is a fine collie, which is never happy save when at her heels.

"Mother could never go about in disguise," says Lady Marjorie, the countess's daughter. "She would always be known by her dog."

Lady Marjorie also is fond of pets, and many pictures have been published showing her on the lawn with strange assortments of rabbits, lambs, terriers, collies, and the favorite donkey. Lady Warwick is one of the best judges of a horse in England, and loves horses as only those who really know and understand them can.

DAY WITHOUT A NAME.

By Proposed Calendar Day of Month Would Fall Same Day.

One day of the year will have to be an orphan without a name, if the projected reform of the calendar goes into effect. Instead of wandering all through the week in consecutive years, each date will fall on the same day of the week year in and year out. One of those who are working out the present plan to reform the calendar is W. E. G.
Buesching, of Halle, Germany.

A disadvantage of the present calendar is the inequality of months, quarters and half years.
Holidays such as New Year's and Christmas may occur on any day of the week, and this is a source of confusion in the business world.

Every day brings certain tasks in every business, and if it were possible to profit by experience and learn how best to perform the tasks which should be done on a holiday the day before or the day after it would be of assistance to business men.

Then in making comparative reports of receipts, the fact that the same date under the present method does not always fall upon the same week day is annoying, as every bookkeeper knows.

Take the case of a newspaper, Monday is a dead day, Saturday the best day in the week, both from an advertising and circulation standpoint. But Saturday of this year is Monday of next year, so that it becomes necessary to compare the days of the week and not the day of the month.

To rearrange and adjust all these differences would be very simple if the sidereal year contained only 364 days, for 364 divided by seven, the number of days in a week, gives 52 weeks. But no juggling of figures can squeeze 365½ days into 52 weeks or seven days each.

There is a leap year every fourth year in order to stow away that troublesome one-fourth day, which cannot be packed into the week, and if one entire day is to be left over each year there is only one thing to do. The overflow day will have to go without a week-day name.

IF YOUR BABY IS SICK
GIVE BABY'S OWN TABLETS

The little ills of babyhood and childhood should be treated promptly, or they may prove serious. An occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets will regulate the stomach and bowels and keep your little ones well. Or they will promptly restore health if sickness comes unexpectedly. Mrs. Lenora M.
Thompson, Oil Springs, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girls as occasion required, and have found them always of the greatest help. No mother, in my opinion, should be without the Tablets." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams'

FED FISH CUTLETS TO CATS.

Feminine Recluse Also Put Flowers
on Dead Dog's Grave.

A North London (England) celebrity died at her home at Muswell the other day. For years Miss Burnaby, who was known among her neighbors as a daughter of the late General Burnaby and a sister of the once-famous Colonel Fred Burnaby, had lived a secluded life, tended only by an old housekeeper.

Her only society was the companionship of a houseful of cats, lucky animals who slept on their mistress' quilted bed coverlet, or in dainty baskets lined with swans-down. If the old lady herself lived frugally her cats did not, for the pets were feasted on the best of fare. Fish cutlets provided a dainty dish, and other delicacies were supplied for the especial delectation of the fortunate pussies.

Nor were cats Miss Burnaby's only love, though perhaps foremost in her affections. Pigeons were kept on the upper floors, dogs on the lower. According to one neighbor who had a long acquaintance with Miss Burnaby's gentle eccentricities, one of the dogs fell ill and died, and for the burial a grave was dug in the garden; the corpse was wrapped in a white shroud. Over the grave a tombstone with a suitable epitaph was reared, and from time to time the mourning mistress placed dowers on the dead pet's grave.

SCALES, DANDRUFF
AND ITCHING

Head so Itchy Could Hardly Stand It. Dandruff Showed on Coat Collar. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in One Month.

223 Elizabeth St., Montreal, Que.—"Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me permanently from dandruff and scalp itch that I was suffering with since over a year. I had an inflammation of the lungs and a very strong fever. When I recovered, my head was covered with scales and dandruff, and it was so itchy I could hardly stand it. The dandruff showed on my coat collar. I had used various medicines without relief. I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and decided to try them, and I am very glad it, because I am perfectly cured. I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap. It took one month to cure me. I take pleasure in recommending Cuticura Soap and Ointment to anyone who is suffering with scalp or skin diseases." (Signed) Hector Ferras, Dec. 30, 1911.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent falling hair, remove crusts and scales, and allay itching and irritation of the scalp, frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura Ointment, afford the speediest and most economical treatment. They assist in promoting the growth and beauty of the hair by removing those conditions which tend to make it dry, thin, and lifeless, often leading to premature grayness and loss of hair. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept.
46D, Boston, U. S. A.

Ready.

"Is this car ready for fall and winter service?" asks the railway manager.

"Yes, sir," says the shop boss.
"We have varnished it inside with a nice, smelly varnish that acts like glue and won't allow the windows to be raised. We have tightened all the ventilators so they won't open, and have fixed the heating plant so that five minutes after the car is loaded the varnish will smell like fury, everybody will be too warm and it will be impossible to get any fresh air."

CONVALESCENT.

The Waiter—"Bacon rank, sir!
Impossible, sir! Why we cured it ourselves only last week!"

The Victim—"Well, it's had a re-lapse!"

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

Very Sorry.

"Look here," he said to the groom, "are you the man who put the saddle on Miss Jennie's horse?"
"Yes, sir. Anything wrong, sir?"

"It was loose—very loose. She had no sooner mounted than the saddle slipped and if I hadn't caught her she would have been thrown to the ground."

"I am very sorry, sir."
"But I did catch her," went on the young man, meditatively. "I caught her in my arms and—here's half a dollar for you, John. Do you suppose you could have the girth loose when we go riding again to-morrow?"

Still Anxious.

"Are you going to keep your new cook?"

"I can't tell. We don't know yet whether we suit her."

KING LOSES SECRETARY.

Lord Knollys Retires From Arduous
Post at Age of 74.

The retirement of Lord Knollys, the King's private secretary, is announced. As a matter of fact he resigned before the Coronation.
Few people understand how really onerous have been the duties which Lord Knollys has carried out for so long. The work of the King's private secretary is never finished.
It is so confidential a nature that, next to the King himself, the private secretary knows more of the things that matter than any man in the kingdom. The confidential reports of the Prime Minister, the Foreign Secretary and all the other officers of state, as well as all social matters, pass through his hands. He opens the despatch bags and goes through the contents with the King, hearing his views, taking notes and afterward framing replies. He is thus conversant with the inner working of the machinery not only of the kingdom but of the whole empire, and has a more intimate knowledge than any one of the relations of Great Britain with other powers. Prime ministers and foreign secretaries come and go, but the King's private secretary remains. It is no wonder that Lord Knollys at the age of 74 feels that it is time to retire from such an exacting post.
His successor is Lord Stamford-ham, better known as Sir Arthur Bigge, who was the King's private secretary when he was Prince of Wales and who has since been associated with Lord Knollys.

German Soldier's Dramatic Death.

A sergeant-major of an infantry regiment stationed in Bremen was sentenced to a slight disciplinary punishment for having mortally wounded a man with a revolver in the course of a fight. He appealed against this, but was informed that his appeal had been rejected. He then ordered his men to load their rifles with blank cartridges, but during their absence reloaded them with ball cartridges. He then drew up his men in firing line and carefully showed them how to aim their rifles straight at his heart. With the utmost calm he then ordered, "Fire!" and fell with four bullets through his heart.
