

TURKEY YIELDS TO ALLIES

Holds Out for Adrianople, but Surrenders Other Territory at the Peace Conference

A despatch from London says: After protracted diplomatic skirmishing the Turks finally capitulated to a majority of the demands of the Balkan allies at Wednesday's session of the peace conference in St. James' Palace. Through Rechad Pasha they agreed to cede practically the whole of the Ottoman Empire's European dominions except Adrianople and the territory between it and Constantinople to their victorious, but traditionally despised, neighbors.

The terms the Turkish delegates presented to the conference as a counter-proposal to the demands of the allies were:—

1st—The rectification of the Turco-Bulgarian frontier by making the boundary west of the line now occupied by the troops of the allies in the Vilayet of Adrianople.

2nd—The question of the status of Adrianople to be settled by Turkey and Bulgaria direct.

3rd—The cession of the remainder of European Turkey, including Janina and Scutari, to the allies.

4th—The Albanian and Cretan questions to be solved by the powers.

5th—The Aegean Islands to remain Turkish.

The announcement of these terms was wrung from the Ottoman delegates with the greatest difficulty. They came only after Rechad Pasha had reiterated Turkey's desire to shift the responsibility for adjudicating all the vital questions to the great powers and the representatives of the allies had registered their unchangeable objections to such a course, and plainly had given the Turks to understand that the failure of the Ottoman delegates to embark upon serious negotiations would mean a resumption of hostilities in South-Eastern Europe.

Reports show that the snowfall extended over the whole of southern Alberta, and as far north as Red Deer. WOUND HEALED IN A DAY

Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute, Announces a Great Scientific Discovery

If it were possible, he argued, to become possessed of this knowledge it ought to be possible also to promote this proliferation of cells, and the consequent growth of connective tissue by artificial means. His important discovery is almost concealed beneath this innocuous caption, "Artificial Activation of the Growth in Vitro of Connective Tissue."

Aded by knowledge of the fact that the growth of the body is dependent in many respects on the more or less mysterious activities of some of the ductile glands—the thyroids for instance—he applied a mixture of thyroid extract and macerated portions of other organs of the body to cutaneous wounds. The results were wonderful, almost miraculous. They bear out the scientist's statement that "if the rate of the reparation of tissues were activated ten times only, a cutaneous wound would heal in less than twenty-four hours, and a fracture of the leg would be cured in four days."

Dr. Carrel's latest discovery is the result of speculation as to the manner in which cells multiply and thus effect the growth of tissues.

HIGH COST OF HEN FRUIT

Coming of the Cheap American Egg Alarms the Canadian Egg Men

A despatch from Ottawa says: The newest thing in trade troubles is the conduct of the egg, more especially the United States egg, product of the prolific American hen. It is coming into Canada. Representations made to the Government indicate that the advent of the United States egg under existing circumstances is viewed with alarm by Canadian egg interests.

The egg trade across the border appears to be in a somewhat disorganized condition, seemingly due to the efforts of housekeepers' leagues in making war on high prices. The situation is abnormal. Eggs are said to be selling in several cities close to the border at prices far below what it cost to buy and store them. Egg men on this side of the line have a winter's supply, procured at prices several cents higher than those now being charged at the border.

The suggestion has been made that the dumping duty in the Canadian tariff be applied to the American egg, or that the Canadian and American egg tariffs be temporarily equalized, the Canadian duty being two cents lower. It does not appear that the importation of the cheaper eggs could be discouraged even if such a course were thought desirable.

The dumping clause only applies where the import price in Canada is lower than the fair market price in the country of origin. It would, in such case, apply to eggs as well as to anything else.
