THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT

wears longest, because it is made from best materials; because the oil and the pigments are thoroughly combined, making a perfect weather-resisting paint film. It has best appearance because it is ground very fine, spreads evenly, and the colors are clear and strong. It affords greatest economy because being ground fine it covers most surface, costing least in first cost, and because it wears longest, putting off for the longest time the need for repainting. Use it and you'll get satisfaction.

The Rebellion of Women.

Toronto World.

It is not to be expected that everybody will sympathize with Mrs. Pankhurst. If they did she would not find it necessary to take such measures as have brought her to jail. Those who are loudest in condemnation of her acts are usually those who know little or nothing of the conditions she seeks to remedy. The ignorance of one part of the world about the other part is the real cause of the necessity for such measures as Mrs. Pankhurst has adopted. When a man's house is on fire one does not stop to ring the bell or tap at the door when there is a brick lying handy to heave through the window. British society is on fire, and most of the people are not aware of it. Social conditions in England require reforms that will never be brought about till women who are conscious of their urgency have the power to make them political issues.

One of the discouraging things about the situation is that men like Sir James Whitney persist in regarding the agitation for woman suffrage as directed towards getting the vote as an end in itself. The vote is only the means to other and far more serious ends of social reform. If there were any other means of gaining these reforms peaceably women like Mrs. Pankhurst would not be striving for votes. For long years the demand for reform has gone on. The late Mr. Stead was sent to jail for the part he took in trying to bring about one reform. What is technically illegal pressure seems to be necessary to bring officialdom to the point of action. It is the reformer rather than the law-breaker that gets punished in such instances.

Mrs. Pankhurst is a lady of delicate culture, and clear, sound common sense. She is not a shrieker or a scold in any sense. Those who have heard her have been uniformly impressed by her quiet reasonableness. The influence of such a woman cannot be destroyed by imprisonment. It is absurdly to suppose it can. And this is where the English Government is mistaken. It might as well imprison the leaders of the opposition and expect to carry on government. Those who refuse to recognize the parallel because the leaders of the opposition are men will soon have to revise their opinions. The women of England are beginning to think. Thought is a force not to be conquered.

The Dawn in Ireland.

London Times.

No one can fail to gather from the tone of the numerous essays upon the aspects of Irish life a general impression that, after a long and stormy night, the new dawn gives promise of fair weather. There is going on a lifting up of the mass of the people, a widening of outlook, a general improvement of tone which statistics do not adequately measure or account for. That means a great addition to the sum of human happiness. It is also a guarantee of still further progress through the hopeful reinforcement of effort after better things. That there will be difficulties to encounter and obstacles to overcome and even retrograde tendencies to fight cannot be doubted. There are always such things in every country and at every stage of its progress. Everything depends upon the temper in which they are met, and we rejoice that the Irish number encourages the belief that the Irish temper is brighter, braver, more eager and more hopeful than in a not very distant past which Englishmen and Irishmen alike are ready to forget.

New Rural Mail Routes.

On Monday the rural mail delivery boxes arrived at the post-office here for what is known as Fenelon Falls No. 2 route and for the Bury's Green route. Mr. S. Corbett has the contract for the former, and will commence his duties on April 14th. In addition to the ten or a dozen already on the circuit, there are twenty-six of the new mail boxes which have just arrived, one each for Jas. Lamb, John Campbell, Frank Akister and John Lamb, Sr., W. A. Pogue, John Lamb, Jr., Wm. and John Dobson, Robt. Wilkinson, Jas. J. Campbell, Isaiah Flett, John Smith, W. J. Junkin, Blake Junkin, Philip Barker, Robt. Stewart, W. H. Graham, Jas. Billett, Thos. Akister, C. J. Lamb, John Elliott, Thos. Jenkinson, Wm. Burley, Sam. Oliver, Harry Curtis, W. H. and T. H. Ellis, Wm. Hetherington and Thos. Curtis. The ten new boxes for Bury's Green were not unpacked here, and names were not available. The rural delivery area is rapidly spreading, and will soon include the whole district at the present rate of increase. The introduction of parcel post is a matter of only a short time. With the telephone, rural mail delivery and parcel post the farmer will be "right in town."

Seed Regulations.

Mr. Alfred H. Hubbs, of Picton, Ont., Provincial Seed Inspector, was at the Falls on Monday, examining the local supply of seeds and explaining the regulations regarding the sale of seeds as embodied in the Seed Control Act, and outlined in the following circular which has been sent to all dealers in the Dominion:

During the past few years the Seed Branch has been endeavoring to effect improvement in the seed trade by educational work with farmers and seed dealers, supplemented by the enforcement of the Seed Control Act. With few exceptions, both the wholesale and retail dealers have endeavored to conduct their business in conformity with the law, which has made it possible to keep the number of prosecutions very low. This season it has been exceedingly difficult for seedsmen to collect sufficient stocks of high grade seed, owing to the very short crop, and the trade will doubtless present many unusual and trying features. Under these somewhat adverse conditions, your best efforts to observe the provisions of the Act will be required.

All timothy, red clover, alsike and alfalfa seed must be graded and marked Extra No. 1, No. 2, or No. 3, according to quality. If the seed is obtained from a wholesale firm properly marked, it is unnecessary to have it retested or marked, as the wholesaler is held responsible for the correctness of the grade. If the seed is obtained locally, a representative sample should be sent to the laboratory for test and each bag plainly marked with the grade. Seed inspectors are instructed to see that the grading regulations are strictly enforced.

Seed that will not grade No. 3 cannot legally be sold except for export or for cleaning. This applies to farmers as well as seed dealers. Farmers selling seed that is below grade No. 3 to their neighbors for seeding or to dealers on the understanding that it is to be retailed for seeding without recleaning are liable to prosecution; and every effort will be made to apply the Act to farmers as strictly as to seed merchants.

Paper packets of vegetable and flower seed put up since 1911 must be marked showing the year in which they were filled. Retailers should protect themselves by handling only packets that are properly marked, as inspectors are instructed to report all cases where unmarked packets are being offered for sale.

Seed grain, clover and grass seed as well as root and vegetable seeds, whether in sealed packets or in bulk, must be capable of germinating in the proportion of at least two-thirds of the percentage standard of vitality for good seed of the kind. Seed that will not germinate in this proportion must be plainly marked showing the actual percentage of seeds capable of germinating. If there is reason to suspect the vitality of any seed, a sample should be submitted for germinating test.

Seed grain, flax, white clover, grasses and all other forage plant seeds must be free from noxious weed seeds or be labelled showing the names of the noxious weed seeds present.

Reasonable precautions on the part of seed dealers to observe the provisions of the Act will insure against possible annoyance and trouble through the seed inspection system.

Barrie Advance:—The Otonabee, which was overhauled last fall, is being put into the water this week. Capt. Campbell and R. J. Law of Toronto office of the Lake Simcoe Navigation Company are in charge of the work. The boat appears to be in excellent condition. The Lake Simcoe Navigation Company is negotiating for a steamer to carry 200 passengers, to ply between Barrie and Big Bay Point, and call at Allandale, Minett's, Hewitt's Creek, and Shanty Bay. The Otonabee is to be used for excursions. It is the intention to have an experienced hotel man placed in charge of the Peninsular Park Hotel, and little difficulty is anticipated in keeping it filled.

Chemong Indians Have Bad Luck.

Peterboro Times:—Both of the Dan Whetungs, of Chemong Indian Village, have been playing in hard luck of late. Dan, Jr., lost three valuable head of cattle, worth $50 each, through their eating Paris green carelessly thrown from the Mission House. Then a few days ago he lost a $200 horse through pneumonia.

Dan, Sr., the stage driver, Dan of the good natured guttural chuckle, lost a favorite bird, a parrot, recently. Although Dan is mourning for his pet, some of the neighbors are singing the Te Deum, as the bird was so noisy.

Not a "Millennial Dawnite."

The Minden Echo says:—We gladly comply with the request made by three different writers, who wish us to state the young man who last week was reported to have cut off one of his hands was in no way connected with the class of Bible students sometimes styled "Millennial Dawnites," who interpret Matt. 5, 30, to teach not that one of the Lord's followers should maim himself for life and thus retard his usefulness in His service, but that any tendency to evil that he should discover, though as dear as a right hand, should be resolutely cut off, rather than lose eternal life as a result of retaining it.

Powles' Corners.

Correspondence of the Gazette

The farmers are waiting for the ground to dry up after a long winter, and if we should say a long winter of rest it would not be quite correct, for there is not much rest for the agriculturist. There is a certain amount of anxiety the farmer does not know when his house or barn will be torn to pieces with the wind, and electric storms also cause some uneasiness. The farmers will have to start and insure against wind.

Mrs. Jno. C. Wagar is visiting her parents at Enterprise.

Mr. D. F. Milloy is making arrangements for a trip to the Northwest, British Columbia, Chicago and Erie.
