

Women With Sallow Skin Here is a Good Treatment!

You Get Results Quickly.

Womanly beauty is largely the outward expression of health. Every woman with pale cheeks and poor complexion needs medicine—needs a potent tonic to regulate her system.

To tone up the stomach—to insure good digestion—to give new life and vitality to the whole system—where is there a remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills? Dr. Hamilton's Pills enable you to eat what you like—their correct constipation—make nourishing blood—instill force and vim into a run-down system.

If nervous and can't sleep, your remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they search out the cause of your condition and you rise in the morning refreshed, strong, vigorous, ready for the day's work.

Dr. Hamilton asks every weak and debilitated person to use his Mandrake and Butternut Pills. They make old folks feel young, and weak folks feel strong. Their effects upon insomnia and languor is marvellous. Hundreds declare they soothe and quiet the nerves so that a good night's rest always follows their use.

To look well, to feel well, to keep well, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, cleansing, strengthening—good for the young or old. Sold by all dealers in 25c. boxes.

WAR COST $548,000,000.

Bulgaria Also Lost Between 55,000 and 58,000 Men.

Prof. Tsankoff has figured out the cost of the Balkan war to Bulgaria. The total credits voted amounted to $62,000,000.

The requisitions for horses, supplies and other necessities are estimated to have cost $30,000,000.

The deficit in the revenues of the country owing to the hostilities amounted to $10,000,000.

Munitions and transport cost $30,000,000.

The expenses of taking strategic railways and other miscellaneous expenses are placed at $36,000,000.

Pensions for soldiers incapacitated will require the capital sum of $30,000,000. The value of the territory ceded to Roumania is placed at $300,000,000.

The grand total is thus $548,000,000.

The number of lives lost was between 55,000 and 58,000, or between 6 and 7 per cent. of the adult male population of the country.

UPWARD START

After Changing to Postum.

Many a talented person is kept back because of the interference of tea or coffee with the nourishment of the body.

This is especially so with those whose nerves are very sensitive, as is often the case with talented persons. There is a simple, easy way to get rid of tea and coffee troubles, and a lady's experience along these lines is worth considering. She says:

"Almost from the beginning of the use of coffee it hurt my stomach. By the time I was fifteen I was almost a nervous wreck, nerves all unstrung, no strength to endure the most trivial thing, either work or fun.

"There was scarcely anything I could eat that would agree with me. The little I did eat seemed to give me more trouble than it was worth. I was literally starving; was so weak I could not sit up long at a time.

"It was then a friend brought me a hot cup of Postum. I drank part of it and after an hour I felt as though I had had something to eat—felt strengthened. That was about five years ago, and after continuing Postum in place of coffee and gradually getting stronger, to-day I can eat and digest anything I want, walk as much as I want. My nerves are steady.

"I believe the first thing that did me any good and gave me an upward start was Postum, and I use it altogether now instead of coffee."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.—sold by Grocers.

First Modern Woman.

A correspondent claims that the first "modern Englishwoman" was born in 1589. She was Mary Frith, a pioneer in many ways, and the first woman in England to smoke a pipe. She was the first to come out "daringly dressed," for which offence she was sentenced by the Court of Arches to do penance at St. Paul's Cross. Her home was near the Fleet, and as further evidence of her advanced tendencies, it is said that she was a "participator in most of the crimes and wild frolics of her time." As a barber in Drurylane she made a fortune, which she left to her nephew, with the strict injunction that he should not lay it out foolishly, but should get drunk with it while it lasted.

Wireless at the Pole.

For some little time the Mawson expedition in the southern Polar regions has been in communication with the outside world by means of the wireless station which was established at Adelie land, which is the base of the expedition. This wireless station had been in place nearly a year before it was put in working order, owing to the difficulties encountered in operating the gasoline engine which drives the dynamo due to the unusual conditions existing at this point, and accidents happening to the pole. The troubles were at last overcome and frequent messages are exchanged with the outside world.

FIRST LADY CHLOROFORMED.

Mrs. Agnes Thomson Was a Patient of the Discoverer.

How clearly is the march of surgical science brought home to us by the death recently of Mrs. Agnes Thomson, the first woman in the world to be chloroformed. She was the niece of Sir James Simpson, the celebrated Edinburgh physician, who discovered the use of anaesthetics in surgery, and thereby linked his name to those of the greatest benefactors the human race has had.

If anyone will turn to the most casual history of surgery and find there descriptions of the tortures through which in the old days patients went who suffered operations, he will wonder how sufficient human mettle was found to stand them. It is little wonder that hopeless death was often preferred to a hopeless struggle.

Simpson's discovery coupled with Lister's laid the foundation of that miracle known as modern surgery. Not only were operations afterwards performed painlessly, but the subsequent dangers of septic poisoning were eliminated. Both Simpson and Lister had to face an unbelieving world, but both by their thorough methods conquered it in a short time.

It is not yet sixty years since the first painless operation was performed, and many things have been added to Simpson's work. But he remains secure on his pinnacle. We take as lightly as a pin-scratch nowadays capital operations that before his day meant certain death. We hear no longer the same burden of terrible anxiety for those who go under the surgeon's knife. The instrument of certain torture and uncertain cure has become the speedy herald of hope and health where hope and health were dead.

Serenaded Murderer.

A young man, named Rieder, who was lately sentenced at Thun, Switzerland, to penal servitude for life for the murder of a girl named Emily Danzer, complained the other day that he was disturbed at night by a woman singing hymns under his prison window. Inquiries were made, and the singer proved to be the murdered girl's sister. She explained to the police that she considered it her Christian duty to save the soul of the prisoner. The girl has been handed over to the care of her people, who have promised not to allow her to approach the prison again and disturb the convict's repose.

HAND WOULD CRACK WITH SALT RHEUM

Pained and Burned. Hard and Sore Lumps. Couldn't Rest or Sleep. Finger Swollen. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Legere Corner, N. B.—"I had salt rheum on my hand for a good many years. Every winter my hand would crack and, part of the time I had to wear a glove to do my work, for when I washed in hot water with it unwrapped it used to irritate so much that I didn't know what to do. I had to take a rough towel and rub it until the blood would come sometimes. Many a night I had to sit up in bed and rub them and sometimes that didn't satisfy. I had to scratch with my fingers and the next morning I would find a big piece of skin which I had taken off. This winter I had sores on one of my hands. I thought they were ulcers. They pained and burned. They started just like a little lump and would be hard and sore and after that there would be a big bunch of pus and when that would be out it would leave an opening almost as big as half a five-cent piece. I couldn't rest or sleep with the pain and the burning sensation. The ulcer I had on my finger this winter was still worse. There was more inflammation for my finger was swollen almost twice its natural size and was just as red as a piece of flannel. "I took the Cuticura Soap and made a suds with it and washed the hand with a piece of cotton and after it was washed I used to take the Cuticura Ointment and spread it on a piece of cotton and wrap the hand with it. I was cured in a little over a week." (Signed) Mrs. Charles Surette, June 5, 1913. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U. S. A.

WITHOUT MICROBES, WHAT?

Answer to That Question Fascinating Problem for Scientists.

To determine just what effect complete absence of microbes would have on the life of animals is one of the fascinating problems of the day. In his experiments since May, 1911, Guyenot, a Paris biologist, has reared about 40 generations of the common fly, producing about 400,000 individuals in a single line, and has kept specimens under continuous exclusion from microbes, feeding them with specially sterilized food.

At 75 deg. Fahr., the development from the egg has been completed in twelve days, laying being begun by the female in a day or two after emerging in the adult state. The flies have continued quite normal, and the successive generations have shown no lessening of fecundity.

In development under the conditions of protection there has been a great gain, the usual large mortality of the larvae and pupae having been reduced into practically nothing.

Benefactions for Universities.

Universities are now receiving some of the large private benefactions for which they have long envied American institutions. Cambridge University has recently received $450,000 for general purposes and $500,000 for a chair of astrophysics; Bristol University has had a gift of $100,000 from one donor, $90,000 from another, and $75,000 from two others.

Bribed by the Other Side.

"My lad," asked a clergyman of a small boy, "who is that gentleman you attend church with?" "Grandpa," was the reply.

"Well," said the clergyman, "if you will only keep him awake during my sermon I'll give you a penny each week." The boy fell in with the arrangement, and for the next two weeks the old gentleman listened attentively to the sermon. The third week, however, found him sound asleep. The clergyman called the boy to him and said, "Your grandpa was asleep again to-day. Didn't I promise you a penny to keep him awake?" "Yes," replied the boy, "but grandpa now gives me five cents not to disturb him."
