

SHOULD PROTECT THE FUR ANIMALS

Pirates in Northern Ontario Fastnesses Said to be Waging a War of Extermination

While beaver and other fur-bearing animals are increasing at such a rate in Algonquin Park that it has been found necessary to thin them out, trappers and hunters are waging a war of extermination on these valuable animals beyond the limits of the park. This northland is such a network of waterways and forest fastnesses that it forms an ideal breeding ground for all the well known fur-bearers. Beaver, otter, fisher, marten, mink, muskrat and lynx thrive here to perfection and produce fur not to be equalled, much less excelled, anywhere else on the continent. Before the days of steel traps and white trappers, with their chemically-prepared baits, the Indians were assured of a good catch even with their primitive dead-falls and snares. But those days have passed never to return, unless the whole country is protected in like manner to Algonquin Park, and that, of course, is impossible. The rapid rise in the price of all kinds of fur has greatly increased the number of trappers. These men usually select their hunting grounds early in the fall, build one or more camps, according to the number of traps they intend to employ, and bring in their supplies by canoe. Far beyond the last outpost of civilization they pitch their camps, and when every lake and stream is locked in the icy fetters of winter, ply their trade without let or hindrance. While mink, marten and some other furs may be taken during certain months, the taking of beaver and otter is strictly prohibited. But the big prices to be obtained for these is a standing inducement to many to violate the law. Particularly is this the case near the Quebec boundary, as in that Province beaver and otter may be sold provided the trapper is prepared to swear they were taken in Quebec. Such a trifling matter as perjury is of no consequence to these pelt pirates, who take the oath and sell their furs in this way whenever their catch warrants a trip across the boundary. To follow these men to their forest fastnesses is almost impossible in winter, although the officers of the Game and Fisheries Department may know very well the districts they are working in. But although they may be reached occasionally it is quite another matter to secure evidence sufficient to convict them, and the best that can be done

The decorating of your walls is quite a problem. You want them to be pleasing in color and appearance so as to make a suitable background for your furniture and pictures.

So the ideal wall finish should be artistic in texture and coloring, absolutely sanitary, and capable of being cleaned if necessary with soap and water—and durable—to avoid a too frequent expense for redecorating.

Wall papers do not meet all these requirements, the patterns and designs fade, the papers themselves collect dust and germs and cannot be properly cleaned. Sanitary experts have proven that any kind of wall paper is unsanitary, and the custom of applying new paper over the old, affords a breeding place for germs.

Kalsomine and other water paints, while clean and sanitary, have not the necessary permanency. They need frequent renewal and often rub off on ones clothing—smudges and finger marks cannot be washed off satisfactorily.

The product that meets every requirement is Sherwin-Williams Flat-tone, a durable, flat-drying oil paint made in a variety of twenty-four beautiful shades, the selection of expert decorators. This finish can be washed with soap and water, and will last for years.

Come and see us about S-W Flat-tone. It is put up in liquid form ready for use. Ask for a color card of the pleasing shades.

is to put a stop to their depredations for the time being. Even the confiscation of a whole season's catch does not seem to discourage them, for they return to the work next season with more experience and added care. There seems to be a strange fascination about this life in the wilds which, once experienced, has an irresistible attraction for some men. They follow it year in and year out until rheumatism or death puts a stop to their wanderings.—The Globe.

Experiments With Dogs

By experiments with dogs kept awake for several days two French scientists demonstrated that both nerve cells and muscles lack oxygen when tired and secrete a poisonous acid.

Money Urgently Needed!

Their lot was never an easy one, even under favorable conditions. They had to struggle along through sheer hard work and hand-to-mouth pinching and scraping. Then came the blow. The husband was stricken down with tuberculosis. The wife was left with four little ones to keep. But she faced the future bravely, buoyed up by the hope that some day her husband will come back. In the meantime, she has to go out washing and cleaning every day, and then force her tired-out body to do her own work at nights.

Cases of this kind are numerous. They always call for prompt relief. For unless consumption is quickly treated its terrible effects hurt many beyond the first victim. At this moment money is urgently needed so that medicine, nourishment, and treatment may be taken to sufferers. We implore you to contribute something NOW. Please don't delay; the situation is serious.

Contributions to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives will be gratefully acknowledged by W. J. Gage, Chairman Executive Committee, 84 Spadina Avenue, or R. Dunbar, Secretary - Treasurer, 347 King Street West, Toronto.
