PROGRESS OF CRIME

The Type of Boy That Develops Into a Criminal

In every large centre there are individuals who seem to travel willingly the road of idleness that leads to criminality. As boys they loaf when other youngsters are at school or learning trades and other businesses that will serve them through life. As youths they join the small bands that pass the time at street corners and that are constantly being moved on by the police. They are of the type that is to be seen lounging in the parks in the summer and frequenting certain pool rooms in the winter. They spunge on industrious relatives who dole out cash to them through fear or in order to have them out of their sight. When money is not thus forthcoming the loafers find other means of obtaining it. They start with robbing drunken men and develop into petty thieves. The more daring among them take to burglary, with the result that they make acquaintance with jails and penitentiaries. As they do not like imprisonment any more than work they take to carrying arms for the purpose of frightening those who would oppose them in their depredations. Eventually the time to use the weapons comes and the criminal idlers are mixed up in an affair that ends in wounding or possibly murder. Then there is a hue and cry and the ranks of the men who periodically face the juries in the criminal side of the Court of King's Bench are swelled. There the hitherto defiant persons quail and plead for the mercy of the court. The fear of drastic punishment overwhelms them and sympathizing friends are not at hand to lend them courage by their presence. They know the game is up, for a time at least. It is a familiar story. Ignorance and a hatred of toil have brought them to a terrible pass and not insanity.-Montreal Gazette.

HIGH PRICES FOR FURS

Why They Are Ever so Much Higher Than Formerly

Furs of all kinds are scarcer and high-priced to-day than ever before. Several things account for this. First, |oil. perhaps, the standard luxury is raising with the increase in the number of the world's relatively-wealthy must be largely worn, and in consequence the demand has increased enormously. The rapid destruction of the forest regions and the onward march of civilization into formerly uninhabited country, has led to the practical extinction of many species of fur-bearers where they were formerly plentiful.

For instance, the fox which ten years ago was a fairly common animal even in the older-settled farming districts is now rarely seen except in the backwoods regions. Beaver, mink and muskrats were familiarly known to most of us when we were boys in the village and on the farm. How many of the boys of to-day, your sons, would be able to identify definitely even one of these animals from personal observation? The same thing has gone on to an even greater degree in regard to the-more valuable fur bearing animals.

Confronted with this condition of a seriously decreasing supply and the enormously increasing demand, the fur trade has taken steps to remedy matters in several ways. They have utilized the less expensive skins to imitate the high-priced ones. They have diverted the demand to service able though less costly furs, and again they have largely encouraged the use of furs of domestic animals.

The use of good paint around the town or country home is a great economy. The cost of paint to protect your buildings against the ravages of the weather, is small compared with the expense of repairs, soon necessary on unpainted houses, barns, or other buildings.

For your buildings use Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared) SWP. SWP is made of pure lead, pure zinc, pure linseed oil and the necessary coloring pigments and driers. These are put together in correct proportions, according to a tested scientific formula, proven best by forty years experience, and are mixed and ground by special machinery. The result is a smooth, far spreading paint, even in color and giving a painted finish of great durability which protects your buildings for the longest possible time.

For buggies, automobiles, porch furniture, boats, canoes and other surfaces subject to severe usage, S-W

Buggy Paint gives longest wear and looks best.

For shingle roofs and sidings use S-W Creosote Shingle Stain which protects and beautifies these surfaces.

For buildings of rough lumber, fences, work shops, etc., use S-W Creosote Paint, a satisfactory paint at an economical price, for such work.

For wagons, farm implements, garden tools, etc., use S-W Wagon Paint. It keeps the wood from checking and cracking and the metal parts from rusting.

Money Urgently Needed!

Their lot was never an easy one, even under favorable conditions. They had to struggle along through sheer hard work and hand-to-mouth pinching and scraping. Then came the blow. The husband was stricken down with tuberculosis. The wife was left with four little ones to keep. But she faced the future bravely, buoyed up by the hope that some day her husband will come back. In the meantime, she has to go out washing and cleaning every day, and then force her tired-out body to do her own work at nights.

Cases of this kind are numerous. They always call for prompt relief. For unless consumption is quickly treated its terrible effects hurt many beyond the first victim. At this moment money is urgently needed so that medicine, nourishment, and treatment may be taken to sufference. ment may be taken to sufferers. We implore you to contribute something NOW. Please don't delay; the situation is serious.

Contributions to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives will be gratefully scknowledged by W. J. Gage, Chairman Executive Committee, 84 Spadina Avenue, R. Dunbar, Secretary - Treasurer, 347 King Street West, Toronto.
