

Every Town And Village In Canada

HAS SOMEONE CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. E. Handke Tells How They Sent Him Back to Work and Saved Him Much Money.

Vanbrugh, Ont., May 18—(Special).—One more man has proved to his entire satisfaction that the one sure cure for sore back is Dodd's Kidney Pills. That man is Mr. E. Handke, a well-known resident of this place, and he is telling his friends that Dodd's Kidney Pills saved him much lost time, and suffering as well.

"I was laid up with sore back," Mr. Handke says. "At times I was not able to get up in the morning. But by the time I had taken one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I found that the pain was getting less, and by the time I had taken six boxes I was all right and able to go to work again."

"I want to say to any man who suffers from sore back that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy I would recommend. They saved me a large doctor's bill and much lost time."

Sore back is one of the symptoms of Kidney Disease. The natural way to cure it is to cure the sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. If you haven't tried them yourself, ask your neighbors. Every neighborhood in Canada has some man or woman who has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

WHERE "OBEY" ORIGINATED.

Up to Thirteenth Century No Word of Unequal Vows.

The researches instituted by the bishop of Oxford into the word "obey" in the marriage service are now nearly complete.

Before the bishop of Lincoln brought up the question of the deletion of "obey" in Canterbury convocation, the bishop of Oxford asked Dr. Percy Dearmer, vicar of St. Mary's, Primrose Hill, to investigate the point.

"The Church of England," said Doctor Dearmer to a representative of the London Daily Mail, "is the only historic church which has unequal vows in its marriage service. The word 'obey' is quite exceptional in Christian liturgies. As far as I have discovered, up to the thirteenth century there was no example of unequal vows. The man said what the woman said. In the late middle ages they began to appear in certain north German service books and in certain English ones, but they do not appear in those of the Roman Catholic book nor in those of the eastern, the Greek and the Russian creeds."

"Before the Reformation there were a number of books in use in England; the principal ones were those of York, Sarum and Hereford. The only one which contained the principle of unequal vows was that of Sarum, yet the reformers, who wanted to do away with medieval abuses, adopted that very one."

"Now that the history of 'obey' is known, I do not think it has any chance of standing."

Every Stiff Joint Limbered, Rheumatism Cured!

That Old Family Remedy "Nerviline" is Guaranteed for the Worst Cases.

CURES NEURALGIA, BACKACHE, LUMBAGO.

Rheumatism to-day is unnecessary. It is so well understood and so readily curable that every day we have reports of old chronics being freed of their tormenter.

"I can speak confidently of the Nerviline treatment, for the simple reason that it cured me," writes Albert B. Cornelius, from Kingston. "You can't imagine how stiff and lame and sore I was. Nights at a time I couldn't sleep well. I followed the Nerviline directions carefully—had it rubbed into the sore regions four or five times every day. Every rubbing helped to reduce the pain. The swelling went down. I got a fair measure of relief in a week. I also took two Ferrozone Tablets with my meals. They increased my appetite and spirits, purified my blood and toned up my system generally."

"I am as well to-day as a man could be—in perfect good health. I give Nerviline all the credit." A large family size bottle of Nerviline costs only 50c., or the trial size 25c., and is useful in a hundred ills in the family. Whether it's toothache, earache, headache, neuralgia, lame back or a cold, Nerviline will cure just as readily as it will cure rheumatism. For family use nothing equals Nerviline.

LIVES AS YEARS AGO.

Experiment in Land Ownership Proves Big Success.

Fifteen years' trial of a strange system of land reform in the little village of Winterslow, near London, says a report from England, has proven the success of the plan. In 1899 Major Poore, father of the Duchess of Hamilton, obtained possession of the old village and some of its environs, re-establishing a local government, practically identical to that of the Saxons there 1,000 years ago. At the beginning of the experiment the major chose for the personnel of the scheme persons noted more for industry than for wealth.

A Saxon village hundred was chosen and this primitive legislature allotted land to heads of families under contracts whereby the payment for the land could be extended over periods from 50 to 100 years. These plots surround a large common, which belongs to the village and the grazing right of which is held in perpetuity by the villagers.

The village is now a self-sustaining community, and what was started as more or less of a charity has proven successful commercially. All of the villagers are free-men in the old Saxon sense of the term, and the social and political life of the place is based on this assumption of equality. The promoters have been chary of publicity, for fear that the plan might not prove a success, but since this has been assured they have invited the leaders of the government land reform schemes to inspect the community.

WHAT MOTHERS SAY OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones but Baby's Own Tablets. Once a mother has used the Tablets she will use no other medicine. Concerning them Mrs. Geo. M. Binns, Clifford, Ont., writes: "Enclosed find twenty-five cents for another box of Baby's Own Tablets, as I would not be without them. When baby is cross and ailing I give him a tablet or two and he is soon well and happy again. I know of no other medicine to equal them and find them far superior to Castor oil." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Now, my little boys," asked a school teacher, "can any of you name a liquid that doesn't freeze?" There was a moment's silence, and then a voice answered: "Please, teacher, hot water."

Detectives Employed.

The manager of a detective agency recently established in the Belgian university town of Louvain sent a circular letter to the parents of a number of students offering to send them monthly reports of the behavior of their sons for a small fixed fee. The students heard of this, and several hundred of them marched to the offices of the detective agency and broke all the windows. They then made a demonstration at the house of the vice-rector of the university, who had approved of the scheme of monthly reports. The students state that they will not cease their protests until the vice-rector has resigned.

Dog Needed Punishment.

"Yes," said Brown, "I have a wonderful dog. Only this morning, when I came down to breakfast, after a sleepless night, and forgot to give him his usual tit-bit, he went out into the garden, pulled up a bunch of flowers and laid them at my feet."

"And what were they?" enquired his friend. "For-get-me-nots," answered Brown as he hurriedly left the room.

The Best Side.

The lawyer was endeavoring to pump some free advice out of the doctor. "Which side is it best to lie on, Doc?" "The side that pays you the retainer."

Statue of Lord Wolseley.

An additional statue is to be erected in Trafalgar Square immediately opposite the entrance to the National Gallery. It will be an equestrian statue of the late Lord Wolseley, and the secretary of the Memorial Committee, which includes several distinguished soldiers, says that subscriptions are pouring in so readily that he thinks there will be little difficulty in obtaining the £3,000 which the statue is to cost. That it is a splendid idea to thus perpetuate the memory of 'Sir Garnet' everyone must agree.

Prince Chose Old Title.

In choosing to travel as Earl of Chester, the Prince of Wales has taken the eldest of the titles which are always held by the Heir Apparent. It is interesting to note that in this he is not following the example of King Edward, who, when Prince of Wales, preferred to make his private journeys under the title of Baron Renfrew, probable because it was less known than the Earldom of Chester.

Yarmouth, N.S. Gentlemen.—In January last, Francis Leclare, one of the men employed by me, working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

EMPIRE BIRTH RATE.

Decline in British Domains Has Been Steady Since 1876.

Some remarkable figures were produced recently in London by C. V. Drysdale in the course of an address before the Royal Colonial Institute on "The Empire and the birth rate." Mr. Drysdale said that the registrar-general's reports showed there had been a rapid and steady decline in the birth rate since 1876, the chief factor of which was the voluntary reduction of the fertility rate. The decline has been largely a class one affecting first, the richer and more cultured classes, and rapidly extending through the various grades of the middle classes until it had now reached the skilled artisans, but not the poorest and most unskilled laborer.

Large numbers and national efficiency were not to be secured by a high birth rate, especially in the lower strata of society. High birth rates invariably meant high general and infantile death rates, and, when accompanied by humanitarian legislation, a serious process of reversed election. The explanation of that apparent paradox lay in the fact, which never seemed to be properly understood, that the population of the world and of nearly all countries was constantly being kept in check by insufficiency of food. That the rate of increase of population of a country depended in almost every case upon its power of feeding the people by its own or important food, and not upon its birth rate, was a matter which statesmen would have to recognize.

Will Quickly Cure Any Sour Stomach

Relieves Fullness After Meals.

"When I was working around the farm last winter, I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fullness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

Britain's Coal Bill.

Approximately 285,000,000 tons of coal are annually consumed in the United Kingdom. A large portion of this—over 60,000,000 tons—is used for steam raising in factories; while for domestic purposes 34,000,000 tons are required, which is also nearly the figure of the iron and steel industries. Mines require 20,000,000 tons, while gasworks use up only 1,500,000 and railways 13,000,000 tons per annum.

SPARROWS USED FOR FOOD.

English People Turning Feathered Pest to Some Account.

In certain country places, especially near towns, a new source of food is being exploited. At one stockyard after another you may see village laborers stretching fold-nets for sparrows, and the birds are being caught simply for food. They keep down the butcher's bill.

The number of sparrows is now immense, probably greater than it ever has been. The regular winter population of one small stockyard near London is estimated by the farmer at over 2,000. These 2,000 mouths he fills largely with his grain. The sparrows have completely driven away almost all other varieties of bird except a few finches.

The sparrow is said by the trappers to make an excellent stew, or pie, or soup. It is a clean feeder, subsisting all the year, except for a month in the spring, on grain, and it takes from the farmer an enormous toll. Considering the enormous population of sparrows, it is not surprising that this source of food is being tapped.
