CARE OF WORK HORSES

Some General Rules That Apply Either to City or Country

1. Start at a walk, and let your horse work very easily for the first half hour.
2. A heavy draft horse should never be driven faster than a walk, with or without a load.
3. Look to your harness. Avoid these faults especially: Bridle too long or too short; blinders pressing on the eye or flapping; throat-latch too tight; collar too tight or too loose; traces too long; breeching too low down or too loose; inside reins too long, in the case of pairs.
4. Drive your horse all the time. Feel his mouth gently. Never jerk the reins.
5. Take the horse out of the shafts as much as possible; and if you drive a pair or four, unfasten the outside traces while the horses are standing; they will rest better that way.
6. Teach your horses to go into the collar gradually. When a load is to be started, speak to the horses and take a firm hold of the reins so that they will arch their necks, keep their legs under them, and step on their toes. A loose rein means sprawling and slipping, often with one horse ahead of the other.
7. Water your horse as often as possible. Water in moderate quantities will not hurt him so long as he keeps moving.
8. Blanket your horse carefully when he stands, especially if he is at all hot. Repeated slight chills stiffen and age a horse before his time.
9. Bring your horse in cool and breathing easily. If he comes in hot, he will sweat in the stable, and the sudden stopping of hard work is bad for his feet.
10. In hot weather or in drawing heavy loads, watch your horse's breathing. If he breathes hard, or short and quick, it is time to stop.
11. Remember that the horse is the most nervous of all animals, and that little things annoy and irritate him. Remember that he will be contented or miserable accordingly as you treat him.

LOCKING UP THE TOWER

Quaint Ceremony Carried on Nightly in Old London

Very few people are aware of an ancient custom which is still kept up at the Tower of London. Just before midnight a beef-eater and the chief yeoman porter secure the keys from the governor's house to "lock up." Having received the keys, they proceed to the guard-room.

"Escort for the keys!" calls out the porter, and a sergeant then marches off, and the sentries they pass issue the usual challenge of "Who goes there?" to which the answer is "Keys."

Arriving at the entrance to the Tower grounds, the Lions' Gate, the porter locks the gates, and the party returns to the guard-room, the sentry challenging as before and receiving the same answer. However, on arrival at the guard-room again, the sentry stationed there stamps his foot, at the same time giving the usual challenge.

"Keys," replies the porter.

"Whose keys," the sentry asks.

"King George's keys."

"Advance King George's keys, and all's well."

The porter then says, "God bless King George," and all present respond with "Amen." The keys are then saluted, and returned to the governor's house, where they remain until the next night's ceremony.

Kaiser's Night Sign

The Kaiser has adopted a novel style of displaying the Royal Standard on his motor cars. A flag, on which is emblazoned the words, "God with us," is painted on transparent glass, which is electrically illuminated at night when he is in the car so that it will be recognized from a long way off.

Noiseless Shooting Gallery

Because residents living near by objected to the noise, the proprietor of a Hamilton, Ont., shooting gallery promised the City Council that he would equip his rifles with silencers, making an innovation in the form of a noiseless shooting gallery.
