

Good-Bye, Old Backache Nerviline Will Fix You!

Stiffness is Rubbed Right Out; Every Sign of Pain Disappears.

Gez whiz!—think of it! No more stomach dosing necessary to cure your lame back. Every trace of lameness, every bit of stiffness, every sign of weakness in the back's muscles can be rubbed away for all time to come by good old "Nerviline."

No other liniment can do the work so quickly, can penetrate so deeply, can bring ease and comfort to the back-weary sufferer as Nerviline invariably does.

Backache isn't the only malady Nerviline is quick to cure. For lumbago or sciatica you would go far to find relief so speedily as Nerviline gives. For chronic rheumatism there are pain-destroying properties in Nerviline that give it first rank. The way it limbers up a stiff joint and takes soreness out of strained or rheumatic muscles is simply a wonder.

If you have an ache or a pain anywhere, if you have a sore back, a stiff neck, a stiff joint, a strained muscle—if you have lumbago, congested chest or sore throat, just try Nerviline. Rub it on plentifully—it won't blister, it can't do anything but cure you quickly. The large 50c family size bottle is the most economical, of course, but you can, from any dealer, also get the 25c. small size of Nerviline, the king of all pain-relieving remedies.

THIRD OF INCOME IN TAXES.

Sir Wm. Lever Computes Obligations Under Lloyd George's Tax.

Under the new scheme of taxation by David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in his budget for 1914-15, a man having an income from a capital of $5,000,000 will have to pay one-third of his income in taxes. In the first place he has to pay 28 cents on every $5 in income tax; then he has to pay a similar amount in supertax, and when he dies $1 on every $5 of what is left has to be paid for death and estate duties. The total is figured at just under one-third of the income.

This calculation has been made by Sir William Lever, one of the millionaires who will have to pay, but who does not object.

"I like it," he said. "In my view the ideal system of taxation, both local and imperial, is through the income tax, the supertax, death duties, land tax, site value tax, and taxation upon luxuries, such as alcohol, tobacco, etc. Everything else free."

While Mr. Lloyd George has followed his predecessors in his system of taxation, except that he has increased the rate of income and supertax and death duties, so that the wealthy have to pay the lion's share, he has gone to other countries for some of his ideas. His taxation of site values is based on the law now in vogue in British Columbia, while he has gone to the American income tax law for the idea of making money accruing to British subjects from investments abroad pay its share of taxation.

In recent years British capitalists have made immense investments in foreign countries. When the income from these investments was brought home to be spent the Government, under the old law, levied income tax on it—that is, when the Government could discover it. But when the income was reinvested abroad the old law did not touch it. Now Lloyd George says all income of British subjects resident in the United Kingdom must contribute to the Imperial revenue. These foreign investments are estimated at more than a billion and a half dollars and from this the Chancellor hopes to secure $1,250,000 this year, and double that amount next year. The total increase of revenue from income tax and death duties this year will amount to something like $44,000,000.

In spite of these increases Sir George Paish, editor of the Statist, says the burden of taxation is much smaller than it has been in modern history. In 1880, when the expenditure came to $415,000,000, it was raised out of national income of $5,000,000,000. Now the national income reaches the enormous total of $12,000,000,000, so it can easily stand the increased expenditure. Sir George argues that England can bear still greater increases in her budget.

"There are good grounds," he says, "for believing that the income and wealth of this country will again double in another 30 years. When it reaches $25,000,000,000, and I have no doubt that it will within a generation, a budget of $250,000,000,000 will be borne more easily than the burden of a $1,000,000,000 in 1914."

BABY'S HEALTH DURING HOT WEATHER

During the hot spell the health of baby must be carefully guarded. Diarrhoea, cholera infantum and dysentery carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. Baby's Own Tablets are especially adapted to keep the little ones well during the summer. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, and an occasional dose will prevent the dreaded summer complaints, or if they do come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will set baby right again. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

His Complaint.

"Let me see," said the doctor, as the patient walked into his office; "what is your complaint now?" "Why, your bill is too large," was the startling reply.

Never Saw a Bun Dance.

It was the grammar lesson and the teacher was explaining the difference between a common and abstract noun.

"An example of a common noun is dog," she said, "for you can see it, while you can not see anything that is an abstract noun. For instance, have any of you seen abundance?"

There was silence for about a minute. Then a little boy got up and said:

"Please, ma'am, I have never seen a bun dance, but I have seen a cake walk."

Of Course Not!

A witty Irishman, newly arrived in London, noticed some blankets in a window, ticketed "To be thrown away!" In walked Pat and demanded a pair. He received them and walked out again. The shopkeeper ran after him and stopped him. "Here, you haven't paid for those blankets you got just now!" "Of course not," says Pat, "weren't they labelled to be thrown away, and shure didn't I come in and ask you for a pair to save you the trouble of throwing them away?"

"What time did your master return last night, Jane?" "I don't know, mum, but at 7 o'clock this morning his boots were still warm."

A celebrated vocalist was in a motorcar accident one day. A paper, after recording the accident, said: "We are happy to state that he was able to appear the following evening in three pieces."

HANGED BY THE NECK.

How a Chinese Artist Got Even With Mr. Carnegie.
The man who orders goods and then refuses to accept them is a trial to shopkeepers and manufacturers in all lands; a novel way of serving such delinquents is described in a curious little anecdote told in "The Memoirs of William Hickety."

There was a Chinaman who took excellent likenesses in clay, which he afterwards colored, and they were altogether well executed. To this man's shop Pott and I went to see his performances. We found Mr. Carnegie, surgeon of the ship

Nottingham, sitting for his portrait, and complaining violently of the extremely ugly phiz the artist was making. After he had repeated this several times, the man laid down his tools, and looking significantly at Carnegie, said, "Hi, you handsome face no have got how can make," and turning to Pott, he continued, "Here can make handsome face, for too much ee handsome face have got." Carnegie was offended at both observations, and declared he would not pay for or take the model away.

He kept his word, and the next time we called at the shop we found the image of Mr. Carnegie tucked up, hanging by a rope round the neck to a beam with several others. Inquiring the meaning of that, the Chinaman, with much anger, answered, "All these have too much ee grand ladrones, give me too much trouble, make handsome face, no pay, no take, so must ee hang up."

Will Quickly Cure Any Sour Stomach

Relieves Fullness After Meals.

"When I was working around the farm last winter, I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fullness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it. Refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, sold in yellow boxes, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

It's No Wonder.

A minister, spending a holiday in the North of Ireland, was out walking, and feeling very thirsty called at a farmhouse for a drink of milk. The farmer's wife gave him a large bowl of milk, and while he was quenching his thirst a number of pigs got round about him. The minister noticed that the pigs were very strange in their manner, so he said—"My good lady, why are the pigs so excited?" The farmer's wife replied—"Sure, it's no wonder they are excited, sir; it's their own little bowl you are drinking out of!"

Lesson in Etiquette.

She was a little girl and very polite. It was the first time she had been on a visit alone, and she had been carefully instructed how to behave.

"If they ask you to dine with them," papa had said, "you must say, 'No, thank you; I have already dined.'"

It turned out just as papa had anticipated.

"Come along, Marjorie," said her little friend's father, "you must have a bite with us."

"No, thank you," said the little girl with dignity. "I have already bitten."
