The Barley Question.

The barley cry is being again trotted out to do service in the present election, and interesting problems are being worked out for the edification of the farmer, in an attempt to show how notes could be paid and presents made, etc., out of the 30 cents per bushel which it is claimed would be saved by the Canadian farmer under Unrestricted Reciprocity.

AMERICAN politicians and the American press have all along pointed out that Unrestricted Reciprocity means Canada's adoption of the United States tariff. This means discrimination against Great Britain to the extent that the McKinley tariff is now discriminating against British goods.

At the close of last session the full strength of Mr. Abbott's government was 28 on a straight party division. In the courts the opposition may well be said to have met their Waterloo, as already 20 liberals have been unseated to 13 conservatives.

Me srs. Laurier and Cartwright: "How the hopes of the Liberal party have been blasted by Laurier and Cartwright is now palpable to every member of it, and the right way to recover lost ground is not to try to make out that they do not mean what they said and what they continue to say, but to get rid of them."

Editorial Notes.

OUR attention has been drawn to a copy of the "McKinley Bill" as enacted by the fifty-first Congress of the United States, from which it appears we were in error in the statement of last week that the Canadian Post had misquoted the McKinley tariff in the matter of telegraph poles, and railway ties.

WE have received a communication from one Sam. Suddaby (of Somerville, we believe), in which that gentleman complains of the letter which appeared in our last issue, from a "Kinmount Liberal-Conservative." As Mr. Suddaby goes so far in his communication as to characterize our publication of certain statements about the "Administrator" and his "Conventions" as a piece of "impudence" on our part, we do not feel that his production is entitled to a place in our columns.

He had several times appeared as the adviser and defender of the working classes and thus enjoyed a high degree of popularity with a part of a community to whom the more retiring, scholarly Newman was virtually unknown. His death leaves a vacant place which cannot be easily filled, and is one of the heaviest losses which the Church of Rome has lately sustained.

Death of Cardinal Simeoni.

ROME, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Simeoni, formerly Papal Secretary of State and Perfect-General of the Propaganda, died today. His death was due to an attack of influenza from which he had been suffering for several days. Cardinal Simeoni was born July 23, 1816.

Cardinal Serafino van Nutelli, Papal Secretary of Memorials, will succeed Cardinal Simeoni as Perfect-General of the Propaganda.

The Pope is sorely afflicted by the death of Cardinal Manning, whom he was wont to term the Father of the Modern church. [His Eminence Giovanni Simeoni, Italian Cardinal, was born in the diocese of Palestrina in 1816. Upon his ordination as priest he was employed in many important offices requiring deep learning.

FIGHT ON A TRAIN.

A Conductor's Tussels With Ruffians on the New York Central.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Jan. 17.—There was a desperate fight on train No. 6, on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad Sunday night, the whole train being in a state of panic. It left Albany at 5 p.m. Just as it was leaving, three intoxicated men named William Reardon, Albert Burnseen and John Vannoues, who is employed by P. McArdle, of Albany, in breaking up old engines, boilers, etc., rushed on board, throwing their chisels, crowbars and sledge on the platform of the buffet car.

TO use it as a club. Vannoues reached for one of his big chisels, but Humphrey succeeded in getting Reardon on the car, threw him down and held him on a seat, while some of the passengers and brakemen held the others back, and Reardon got quiet. Mr. Humphrey had his wife and child on the train in a rear car, and went back to see them. While he was talking with his wife, Conductor McCarrick of the train entered the car and said to the chief: "They are fighting with knives in the buffet car." This was at Hudson. Chief Humphrey went to the buffet car and found two of the ruffians on the floor, Reardon on top of Burnseen, both lunging at each other with knives. The passengers shouted at Humphrey, saying, "They want to kill you, look out."

By this time the whole train was in an uproar. Women turned pale with excitement, and men rushed forward from every car. Chief Humphrey had just seated himself alongside of his wife for the second time, when the conductor and several passengers again came into the car in a hurry, exclaiming: "Reardon has a knife and is coming to kill you!" having cut himself loose and driven eight or ten men out of the baggage car. Chief Humphrey hurried to the front of the coach and saw Reardon coming running through the car next forward, with coat and vest off, with blood streaming from his face and an uplifted large knife in his hand. The conductor shut the car door and held it. Mr. Humphrey pulled out his revolver, opened the car door and seized Reardon and took his knife away from him. Detective Fuller and the conductor assisting Humphrey dragged his man through the buffet car again and took him into the baggage car, and retied him with the bell cord and stayed with him until the train reached Poughkeepsie, when Chief Humphrey had all three of them locked up.

Killed by a Fall.

BRAMPTON, Jan. 17.—William Blinco of the 12th concession of Peel had been out thrashing at a neighbor's with his machine. On his return, in driving with his own barn at night, the machine slowed round and threw Mr. Blinco to the ground, killing him instantly. The deceased was a son of Mr. William Blinco of Pilkington, and was much respected.
