A COOL ROBBERY.

How the Tax Collector Lost His Satchel and the Township Money.

PETROLEA, Ont., Feb. 8.—Mr. Thomas Steadmann, township tax collector, and his daughter, who had been in Petrolea on Saturday receiving taxes, were returning home to the twelfth line Saturday night on the train and had with them a satchel which contained the collection roll, several cheques amounting to $400 or $500 and four $1 bills. It appears Mr. Steadmann laid the satchel down in front of his daughter on the seat and went through to the baggage car. He met a man on the car steps who went into the passenger car. This man snatched the satchel and walked out of the far door with it and slammed the door hard. The noise startled Miss Steadmann, who had the car window open, and was talking to some friends on the platform. She immediately missed the satchel and gave the alarm, but so far no trace has been found. There was only one old man or woman in the car at the time besides Miss Steadmann. This old man noticed the fellow take the satchel, but paid no attention to it. It was supposed that Mr. Steadmann generally carried a large amount of tax money in this satchel on Saturday, and no doubt the thief or thieves were well aware of this fact and worked the opportunity; but on this trip very fortunately he had most of the funds in bank cheques. It is thought there were others in the plot, and it was their intention to overtake Mr. Steadmann on the 12th line and waylay him on his way from the track to his home, which is about one mile.

TWO CANADIAN VICTIMS.

A LONDON MAN AND A TORONTO WAYWARD WOMAN

Perish in the Flames of the Hotel Royal, New York—Still Dragging Out Unrecoverable Bodies—The Bulk of the Bodies Not Yet Discovered—Terrible Scenes.

New York, Feb. 10.—Tuesday morning Archibald Jacobs of 1215 Broadway visited the morgue and identified body No. 1, taken from the ruins of the Hotel Royal fire, as that of Mrs. J. Cohen of Toronto, Canada, and body No. 4 as that of Louis Levy of London, Ont. Mr. Levy and Mrs. Cohen came to this city together from Canada.

(Mrs. Cohen, who perished in the fire, was the wife of Mr. J. Cohen, who keeps a shoe store at 57 Queen-street west. Two years ago last August she eloped with Louis Levy of London, Ont., another victim of the fire. For some time they lived in Chicago, but recently moved to New York, where they met their doom together in the fatal hotel. The family of Mrs. Cohen lives in New York and as soon as her body was recognized her brother sent a message to the deserted husband. Mr. Cohen in response left for New York.

Louis Levy is well known in Toronto as an inveterate gambler and poker player. Last spring he attended the Jockey Club meeting and played the races. Shortly afterwards he went to New York.

Caused by Carelessness.

New York, Feb. 10.—Fire Marshal Mitchell from investigations thus far made is of opinion that the Hotel Royal fire resulted from the careless use of matches or lighters in and about the elevator.

Quite a number of additional bodies were found to-day. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon 17 bodies in all had been found. The last three were those of women. In several cases the arms and legs were missing or burned to a crisp, while the heads and faces of others were burned to a crisp.

MRS. OSBORNE'S JOURNEY.

Her Husband's Extraordinary Devotion—Spanish Peasants in Sympathy.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Dwarf, a society paper, prints an interview with Captain Osborne on the pearl case, and gives the movements of Mrs. Osborne after the celebrated case came to an untimely end.

According to this story Captain Osborne soon discovered the terrible denouement to his wife's case. At the conference held by counsel on the following Saturday morning he requested the proceedings to be abandoned on the same night. Despite the venomous entreaties of his wife that he should let her stay and give herself up to justice he almost forcibly, knowing her precarious condition of health, rushed her across the Channel.

They stayed in Paris three days and three nights, where they learned that a warrant had been issued. Captain Osborne thereupon lost no time in taking his wife across the Pyrenees. They settled down at a small place not far from Iron.

Had the detectives been fortunate enough to trace them they would have met with some difficulty in their endeavor to capture their prey, for Captain Osborne and his wife were blessed with staunch and powerful friends in the neighborhood of their haven of rest and any attempt to execute a warrant in the lady's deplorable state of health would have been resisted by sturdy peasants to the number of over one thousand.

When the return journey with his wife was undertaken Captain Osborne anticipated that he would not be able to complete his painful task, as Mrs. Osborne broke down again in health on more than one occasion, and a premature accouchement, which he feared from the first, appeared imminent.

Mrs. Osborne is now in Holloway Jail. The child is expected in May, and if she is sentenced and committed for perjury it will probably be born in prison.

JACOBITES STILL FLOURISH.

A Frustrated Attempt to Place Flowers on Mary's Tomb.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Yesterday being the anniversary of the death of Mary, Queen of Scots, 250 Jacobite Royalists made their way to Westminster Abbey. A body of constables met the Jacobites at the entrance to the north chancel and announced that admission to the royal chapels would be refused.

It was then decided to form in procession and march to the large iron gates leading to the royal chapel. A lineal descendant of Robbie Anderson, who led the forces of Prince Charlie at Prestonpans, headed the band.

The Marquis de Ruvigny placed a floral tribute on the spikes of the gate leading to the royal tomb, with this inscription: "In memory of the martyrdom of Mary of England, Scotland, Ireland and France, Queen, from a league of Jacobite Legitimists."

Quite a nap.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—A miner named La tus, living at Mycolovitz, Prussian Silesia, has just awakened from a sleep that had lasted for four months and a half. During this period his limbs were rigid, but now he appears to have completely recovered and his cataleptic rigidity has vanished.

The Elder May Be Saved.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Capt. Leister, inspector of the North German Lloyd's Steamship Company, yesterday said he was hopeful of saving the stranded steamer Elder.

Praying for Pardon.

MADRID, Feb. 10.—Three Anarchists have been arrested at Barcelona.

Several workmen's unions have sent a petition to the Queen Regent to pardon the condemned Xerxes Anarchists.

Two of the condemned men have confessed to a priest and expressed remorse for their deeds.

GLADSTONE ON MANNING.

The Priest's Conversion to Rome a Death to Their Friendship.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Mr. Gladstone, in a letter on the late Cardinal Manning, says: "My relations with Manning were very peculiar. At first they were those of a mere acquaintance between two undergraduates, and lay wholly on the surface. Then came a close and intimate friendship of 15 years, founded entirely upon interests in religion and the church."

Then came his change, simultaneous with that of my yet closer friend, Hope Scott, which was altogether the severest blow that ever befel me. In a late letter to me the Cardinal termed it a quarrel. My reply said it was not a quarrel, but a death. That was truth.

"There had since been vicissitudes, but I am quite certain that to the last his personal feeling never changed, and that he kept his promise, made in 1851, to remember me before God at the most solemn moments."

SPURGEON'S REMAINS.

The Crowd Break Up the Wooden Case of the Coffin for Relics.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—From 7 o'clock yesterday the body of the late Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon has been lying in state in the Metropolitan Tabernacle. An enormous crowd was waiting for the doors to open and as soon as they were permitted the throng began to move past the coffin.

Thirteen thousand persons had viewed the body before 11 o'clock. The coffin is covered with palm branches.

The coffin was originally inclosed in a wooden case, and before it was taken to the train that was to convey it to London this case was taken off. It was broken to pieces, and the crowd eagerly seized upon the bits of wood and carried them off as relics.

Mrs. Frank Carew Divorced.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Miss Edith Chester, the actress, to-day obtained a divorce from Frank Carew, with the custody of her children. Carew treated her badly, and on one occasion struck her. He was, moreover, found guilty of infidelity.

Miss Edith Chester is known here as a former member of Rosina Vokes' Comedy Company, when she went under the name of Miss Leslie Chester.

HESLOP MURDER.

Tom Young and His Wife Both Down with Grip—Over the Ground.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 10.—Thomas Young and his wife, who are witnesses in the Heslop murder case, have both been very ill with a gripe.

The Heslop residence remains as it was on the night of the murder. The basket upon which Mr. Heslop's head rested when his wife and daughter reached him, after his life had been taken, is still in the same spot, and nothing will be touched until after the trial is concluded.

The Lottridge family feel confident that John Lottridge will be released on the day of the trial. Mr. Thomas Lottridge, father of the accused, is a very respectable man and feels the position of his son very keenly.

Whatever the defence propose to set up they are doing it in a manner that the prosecution cannot gain any information about it.

The New Ontario License Inspector

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—Ex-Ald. J.K. Stewart, who has just been appointed provincial license inspector, was to-night given a reception at the City Hall. Hon. E. H. Bronson, on behalf of the citizens, presented him with a farewell address. McCall, comptroller of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and formerly superintendent of the State Insurance Department. Mr. McCall has until to-morrow to decide whether he will accept the office. It is understood the salary of the new president is to be $50,000.

Cremated in a Box.

VIENNA, Feb. 10.—Additional news from the scene of the railway disaster, between Bucharest and Brakelov, shows that the disaster was a terrible one. In one carriage no less than 20 people were locked in together. When the car caught fire the imprisoned ones shouted for aid, but before succor came all but two were burned to death or suffocated.

Danced Herself to Death.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10.—Miss Amanda Jensen attended a dance at Turner Hall last Saturday evening and died a few hours later of heart disease. She had been repeatedly warned by physicians that she must not dance, but could not resist the temptation. She went home from the ball in high spirits, threw herself upon the bed in her room, chatted gaily with her roommate a few minutes and then fell into a stupor, from which she could not be aroused.

Rats Had Gnawed the Body.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—In his bed in the wretched little rookery No. 47 Hamilton-street, old Dennis Buckley, who was called a miser by the boys in the neighborhood, was found dead yesterday. It is supposed that he died of starvation. Rats had gnawed the body of the old man. One of his feet was eaten away and only the bones remained and the rats had burrowed into the body at various points. Buckley was about 65 years old. His wife Mary became insane a few years ago and was sent to Blackwell's Island.

SAVED BY THE SNOW.

Snow Makes it Easier to Convey Food to the Distressed Russians.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 10.—Little is now heard here of the famine. Heavy snows have fallen, a strong crust has formed and goods and grain may be conveyed in sledges to any part of the Empire. Much grain has already reached the famine-stricken provinces, and according to the reports received here the condition of the sufferers has much improved.

It is the general opinion here that the distressed provinces will now be enabled to hold out until spring.
