Charity—Caution.
The public is cautioned not to make contributions to a woman now going to stores and private houses, professing collecting supplies for another woman, falsely represented as being destitute of the necessaries of life. Within the last twelve months the Central Charity Committee has from town funds and private sources, assisted one household in this connection, to the extent of not less than $50.00, another in addition to work found for the woman has received nearly $20.00, and another $40.00. There is no reason whatever with our present organization why anyone should solicit charity from door to door. To do so is contrary to the law, and citizens should at once report to the police any case of begging that comes to their notice.

On Friday last, 18th, the regular weekly meeting of the Literary Society was held. A short essay on each of the following subjects was read: "Spring," by Miss Stewart; "Boys," by Mr. T. Flurey; and "School Life," by Mr. A. W. Maundrey.

Revival meetings still going on with increasing interest in the Queen street Methodist church.

Next Sunday evening a song service and sermon on "Heaven," by the pastor, will be given in the Cambridge street Methodist church.

Very interesting services was held in St. Andrew's church last Sabbath. During the pastors five minutes address to the children, allusion was made to the call of Samuel, showing that God does call even young children to be his servants, and the folly of the too generally accepted notion, that man needs to be of mature years before entering the Lord's vineyard. Samuel was called when a child, and in later days Spurgeon at sixteen. The children were shown that God calls through his Word, and sometimes by his Providence. Tender reference was made to the call to all the Lord's children in the sudden death of Miss Ettie Parker, who but a fortnight ago was with them, and who was one of those who had secured the reward offered by Presbytery for proficiency in Sabbath school. All present were encouraged to look to Jesus, in whom there would be no fear of death, since perfect love casteth out fear.

Those wanting to purchase seeds for sowing, would do well to read A. Higginbotham's "ad." in this issue.

The benefit given to Mr. Diament, caretaker of the skating rink, last evening, Wednesday, was a decided success.

As spring is now near at hand, it would be well to call the attention to those who have odorous buck yards, and out-houses, to have them cleaned before the health inspector calls on his rounds.

Mr. W. F. McCarty has removed his jewelry store to the shop formerly occupied by Mr. McKay, tailor, Kent-st., three doors from William-st. Mr. McCarty makes an excellent display of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, &c., and no doubt he will find his large premises profitable.

Another successful lacrosse meeting was held on Monday evening last and was attended by a large crowd. A great deal of very important business was transacted, including the initiation of a host of new members. The boys are meeting with great success and find it necessary to hold another meeting in order that they may have everything in shape for the season's work.

"If you have ten dollars to spend," said Barnum, "spend one for the article and the other nine in advertising it." The old man knew a thing or two when it came to advertising. Barnum said some years ago: "I can out-talk anybody on earth but the printer. The man who can stick type and talk next morning to thousands of people while I'm talking to one is the only one I'm afraid of. I want him for my friend."

The lecture given in St. Mary's R. C. church on Thursday evening last, under the auspices of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, by the Rev. Father McGrady, of Toronto, was a decided success. The Rev. Father is an eloquent and impressive speaker, and showed that he was master of his well-chosen subject, "Brotherhood." The proceeds amounted to over $80, which the society will use for the covering of the expenses of the poor of the parish.

On Sunday morning last at about 8 o'clock, as Mr. E. Elliott and family were seated at breakfast, a neighbor ran in and informed them that their house was on fire. Mr. Elliott at once set about saving the furniture, but as the building was a frame one, little or nothing was saved. The alarm was sounded and the firemen were promptly on hand, but could do nothing, as the fire had gained too much headway. We understand the fire originated from a defective stove-pipe.

Keep the children in the house after dark if you would keep them out of temptation. When the night shadows fall, boys and girls on the street frequently use language and tell stories or lay plans for mischief, which they would be ashamed to indulge in where the clear light of day shines upon each other's faces. If any parent doubts this statement let him walk out after dark and listen to the scraps of conversation he may overhear between groups of boys, or girls, for as much license is allowed them nowadays as their brothers. Then let the father mentally place himself in this atmosphere and say if he be willing to expose them to this moral contagion.
