IN THE GATINEAU.

BY L. L.

or fifty years ago the Gatineau in the Province of Quebec, every wild stretch of country, and the settlements were few and far between.

ments were carried up to the more sections in canoes, and as there many cascades in the river, the boat was frequently obliged to disembark and carry his canoe and its contents overland, until he reached a place where he could trust himself to cross again. It is difficult to describe this mode of travel, in these days of rapid transit.

There existed, at that time, in that part of Canada, a body of men whom the public called "Shiners." This organization was principally recruited from the ranks of the Irish emigrants who were then coming in great numbers to Canada, and who were not content with the feuds and faction disturbances of the old country rest in peace sought to perpetuate them, in a new land, in this country.

Stewart lived up the Gatineau many years, and there his bones have been laid to rest, but never after that awful night was he molested by the "Shiners."

Operations on an extensive scale are to be commenced in the Souris coal fields immediately.

The state department at Washington denies the rumor suspending diplomatic relations with Chili.

The State of Matto Grosso, Brazil, has proclaimed itself a republic under the name of Transatlantica.

The Buffalo immigration inspectors are nearly worried to death over Canucks who cross the river to earn a living.

It is estimated that 250 lives were lost by the Mississippi floods, whilst 3,000 families are homeless and in need of food.

Rev. Father Drummond, rector of St. Mary's college, Montreal, has been transferred to St. Boniface, Manitoba.

James Thomson, a Grand Trunk brakeman, living at Palmeston, was killed at Galt on Tuesday night through tripping and falling in front of a moving car.

The steamship Orenburg yesterday landed at Baltimore 2,493 immigrants, the largest number ever landed from one ship at one time. They are mostly Germans.

Mrs. Mary Lee, a handsome young woman from South Carolina, jumped from a second storey window of the New York lying-in-hospital yesterday and killed herself.

Martin Hannenburg has just died in the Detroit Emergency hospital. The passage to his stomach was closed by an abscess, and for four months he kept himself alive by conveying food to his stomach through a funnel inserted by the doctors.

About one o'clock the next morning a loud knocking was heard at the door Stewart without opening the door asked "Who is there?" "We want you to come out," was the reply, and then he knew that that the "Shiners" had come. In a moment all the household were aroused. Impatient of delay, the people outside were trying to force open the door, and Stewart was standing with his loaded rifle opposite to it. Mrs. Stewart was in a corner on her knees, with the children around her, lifting her hands to heaven in dumb entreaty. The door was giving way; in a moment the would be murderers would have made their way in, and there would be blood shed; as to the end who could doubt?

Suddenly, Father Paisley with his surplice on, and an uplifted crucifix in his hands, steps between Stewart and the twenty masked and armed men who have now broken in the door. Seeing the priest they half retreat, but mastering courage, they demand Stewart, who is overshadowed by Father Paisley's burly form. "You will have to kill me before you get Stewart. In the name of Him whose Image is on this cross, I command you to leave this house in peace. "We must have Stewart, he is an Orangeman," they cry. "He is a Christian and an honest man, what you are not, who come in the night to tear him away from his family and shed his blood. You have been all baptised in old Ireland with the sign of the Cross. I baptised three of this man's children yesterday with that same Sign, and he has given me food and shelter, and I say again that you will have to kill me before you touch a hair of his head."

The intruders held a council of war among themselves, when the leader stepped forward and said: "We believe you speak the truth, Father, and we will not harm Stewart."

Reverence for the priests of their church is an instinct with the Roman Catholic Irish, and there is many and many an instant on record where, as in the present instant, their intervention has prevented the shedding of blood.

THE ROYAL CANADIAN INSURANCE CO'Y. WHICH WILL YOU HAVE? The latest Blue Book shows that after providing for all liabilities the surplus of the ROYAL CANADIAN for the protection of its policy holders at the close of last year was $509,074, besides stock to the amount of another $100,000 subscribed but not called up. The same Blue Book shows that the surplus of the London Mutual was $67,176 composed entirely of the unassessed portion of premium notes which no policy holder ever expects to be called upon to pay. The following table shows at a glance how the affairs of the London Mutual have been going during the last few years:-

Year.	Losses unpaid at close of each year.	Cash available for paying losses at close of each year.	Money Borrowed	Surplus reckoning premium notes at full face value.	Investments each year.
1885	$6,047	$63,963	None	$101,816	None
1886	9,878	50,686	None	115,955	$6,500
1887	12,455	22,701	$20,000	97,268	8,000
1888	23,014	20,721	40,000	75,334	None
1889	20,436	13,911	40,000	74,068	9,028
1890	26,182	1,403	60,000	67,176	11,797

It should be borne in mind that during the last three years the London Mutual collected in heavy assessments over $30,000 more than usual, and yet at the close of last year, after collecting a full year's income, they had only $1,403 with which to pay $26,182 of unsettled losses. In regard to security no one should hesitate as to which company to select.
