GOUGE AGAIN

The Gigantic Buying that Startles the Midland District!

PILES OF SEASONABLE GOODS! THE GOUGH SYNDIGATE THE BIGGEST BUYERS AT MONTREAL!

The Clothing trade of Canada had its eyes centered on Montreal last week. Buyers thronged to the city. Here was a bonanza for the clothing dealer who had enterprise and pluck and confidence in his constituency. Only the Clothing Kings could hope to win. The Gough Syndicate was there, and B. J. Gough bought heavily, being one of the largest buyers at the Great Doull & Gibson Sale of Clothing.

Doull & Gibson are millionaire clothiers, who are giving up clothing. The immense stock was placed on sale by auction, and Gough secured an immense plum at prices actually less than the cost of cloth and trimmings.

The goods are here. There's joy in prospect for clothing buyers. Gough's purchase will sweep the trade of the county from one end to the other.

A COURTEOUS ADMISSION

THAT IT WAS WRONGLY INFORMED -HOLDS ONE MAN GUILTY

Our readers may remember that in cur issue of March 16th we corrected several the following to say:

"We some time ago made reference to the action of the Lindsay Town Council in proposing the reduction of Police Magistrate's salary from $1,000 to $500 and from information received we were led to believe that the motives of the majority in passing the resolution were dictated by anti-Catholic feeling. We have since been informed by thoso who ought to know the truth of the matter that the movement toward reducing the salary was dictated, not by any such feeling as our first information led us to believe, and we gladly inform our readers that we have been mistaken in attributing to the majority, this unworthy motive, as they were influenced by a desire for economy, this tendency to economize having manifested itself before Mr. Steers was appointed to the Magis-

We willingly make this correction in regard to the majority of the council. nevertheless it remains true that at all events, one member of the council boasted that as the present holder of the office is a Catholic he would make the position not worth holding. Our charge of bigotry is, therefore, freely withdrawn as regards the council generally, but not as regards this particular individual." [The above admission of error, is only what we were quite sure would be made by the editor of the Record as soon as he satisfied himself that our correction was reliable. It is a great satisfaction to discuss matters with a contemporary that so promptly and fully admits an error when it has been pointed out. It is furthermore a matter of congratulation that the Record "gladly" clears the town council of aiming to reduce the salary of the police magistrate because he is a Catholic. We assume-although it is not expressly stated-that the editor intends to be understood as withdrawing his statements that the councillors are "a clique of bigots" giving play to "their A. P. A. "proclivities" in an act of incredible meanness and narrow-mindedness." With the charge so fully withdrawn it may not be too much to ask us to infer that the caustic strictures founded upon it are also taken back.

A point which is a good deal more clearly stated, however, is that one member of the council is still guilty. He is declared to have said that, since the police magistrate is a Catholic, he would make the office not worth having. This the Record affirms is "nevertheless true." Since the authority for this statement has been omitted we take it that it rests on the same "evidence that cannot be gainsaid" as did the charge against the whole council. If so, the Record must be a tireless bigot hunter who is loth to have his spirited article go to waste. In this he is doomed to disappointment and another withdrawal, for we have asked each member of the council if he ever made such a statement and everyone of them has positively denied doing so or ever hearing any of his fellow-councillors do so. It is painful to secular papers against hasty and intemperate utterances on sectarian questions. JED. WATCHMAN-WARDER.
