Wheat versus Stock Raising

[Farmer's Advocate] The unsatisfactory appearance of fall

one of these lines ... The fact may as well be faced now later, that the older provinces cannot compete with the virgin soil of the West in Let us next turn our attention to the producing wheat, and even if it were practiceable to ensure a good crop of this cereal every year, we doubt if, at the average price of the last decade, it can truly be called a paying crop; and even if a steady price of a dollar a bushel were assured, there would be no sense in making it the main product of the farm, since it would necessarily involve selling the fertilily of the farm from year to year and the temptation to attempt its product on on land totally unfit, from over-cropping and lack satisfactorily adopted.

The markets for all classes of live stock are now such as to encourage the raising advice of his cabinet he may dissolve of so many young animals as can be well the same, but were he to assume the kept, and it will be found more profitable, responsibility of dissolving a cabinet taking one year with another, to devote isters, the members of the cabinet? hand in hand with good breeding. The injured man was taken to his home and medical aid summoned when upon examination it was found that the arm would have to be amputated below the elbow. He stood the operation well and is doing nicely.

-Mr. Thos. Mahoney, a farmer, went to Gravenhurst last week to do some shopping. At dusk Friday evening he boarded his row boat to return to his home at Montcalm. Since then he has not been seen, and there is every probability that made, but no trace of the missing man has been discovered. His boat, with one oar was found near Young's island, and a bag of flour which he carried was found washed up on shore near the same spot. It seems certain that by some means the unfortunate man fell out of his boat and was drowned. His loss is a crushing bereavement to a wife and three young children.

-William R. Godolphin of Huntsville, Muskoka, at one time treasurer of that town, but lately a conveyancer and financial agent, is in trouble again. Five years ago Godolphin embezzled money from the town and fled to England. He was apprehended and brought back to Canada by Government Detective Rogers, and served a three-year term in Kingiton. Joe and his ten-year-old brother Eddie were walking across the Rogers dam, which spans the river near the centre of the town, and which is used as a "short cut' from the village to the town. The boys had their arms full of driftwood, and the elder brother was leading the way, when he heard the splash of Joe as he struck the water. The little fellow had made a misstep and had gone off the narrow walk into the water, just above the slide through which an immense volume of water was rushing with terrible force. The RICHARDS Long Distance Axle is going fast; out of 25 vehicles fitted with those common-sense axles, 13 have been already sold, and the purchasers are pleased. I still have 10 buggies and 2 Mikado's fitted with the long distance Axle, and it will pay intending purchasers to call and examine them and see and be convinced that they are just the thing for this country. The oil is always just where it is needed. No dust can possibly get in nor the oil cannot get out. No grit formed to cut the boxes, consequently no rattling noise, as you have in the old style. These axles are made in Wilkesbarre, Penn., U.S.; are made of refined steel; cost more money. I have the ordinary axle, but considering everything, these are the cheapest axles made to-day. Don't fail to see these buggies before you purchase.
