Editorial Notes.

SIR John Thompson has been appointed one of the arbitrators on the Behring Sea commission, and the Hon. C. H. Tupper has been entrusted with the important task of preparing the case to be submitted on the part of Canada. In such able hands the interests of Canada will be securely safeguarded. The appointments have been favorably received by the greater portion of the press of the Dominion.

TORONTO has passed a by-law exempting all plant, tools and machinery used in manufactures from municipal taxation for ten years from December 31st next. This is a fairer system than the granting of bonuses to certain manufacturers, to be paid for by other industries not so favored. The undertaking, however, is a large one, and disputes are likely to arise as to what constitutes plant, tools and machinery under the by-law.

A MEMORIAL is proposed to the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie in the shape of an endowment of chairs in political science in the Toronto and McGill Universities, the Ontario subscriptions to go to the former and the Quebec ones to the latter, on the death of Mrs. Mackenzie who is to receive the interest of the fund during her lifetime. The idea is a good one, and should it be entered upon will receive the liberal support of all classes of the community.

THE growth of land monopoly in the United States is extending to a remarkable degree. The Union Pacific, the Northern Pacific and other railways own 215,000,000 acres, a territory as large as the original thirteen states. Private individuals and land companies own estates from 50,000 acres up to 4,500,000 to the extent of 20,700,000 acres. Landlordism is evidently gaining a grip upon Republican America greater than it ever did in the worst days of Old Ireland.

A LIBERAL member of the Quebec Legislature has introduced a bill to relieve candidates from the necessity of publishing a statement of their election expenses. It is questionable whether the actual amount expended is given in many cases under the present law, but the law as it now stands exerts a check upon reckless or dangerous expenditures on the part of candidates, which it would not be wise to remove. The bill can scarcely be regarded as in the interests of electoral reform.

THE mortality statistics for 1891 lately issued show a slight decrease in the death rate over 1890, the rate being 21.48 as against 22.14 per 1000. The cities and towns of Quebec show the highest death rate, whilst the principal cities and towns in Ontario have a much better record. The report discloses the fact that over 50 per cent. of the deaths in the Dominion were in the case of children under five years of age. Here again Quebec towns show to much greater disadvantage than Ontario.

WHEN Sir John Macdonald died a year ago the Conservative party had a majority of 25 in the House, confronted by an opposition strong in numbers and vigorous in uprose. To-day the government has a majority of 62, and the Opposition is in a very weak state. Since the death of the chieftain, the liberal government of Quebec has been overthrown, whilst the fiscal policy of the party in the Dominion has been practically abandoned by the rank and file of the reform party. The Conservative party instead of going to pieces on the death of their chief as was predicted, is stronger to-day than ever.

THE annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal on Monday last was the seventy-fourth since its establishment, the bank having now prospered for nearly three-quarters of a century. The history of such an important monetary institution, in a young country like this, embraces to a large extent the financial history of the country itself. In 1817 the capital of the Bank of Montreal was $350,000, which represented the then banking capital of Canada; whilst to-day the paid-up capital of the banks of the Dominion is 60 millions of dollars. In 1819 the Bank of Montreal had a capital of $650,000, with a "magnificent rest" of $4,168, and paid a dividend of 8 per cent. In 1841 the capital had increased to two millions; in 1845 to three millions; in 1855 to four millions; in 1860 to six millions; whilst 1873 saw it at $12,000,000, with a 50 per cent rest, or six millions of dollars, the same as to-day. The president of the bank the other day in congratulating the shareholders upon the record, made the statement that Canadian securities were far ahead of those of any other colony, and that our government could go into the money market with the greatest confidence.

UNDER article 27 of the Washington treaty the citizens of the United States are entitled to enjoy the use of the Canadian canals on terms of equality with the people of the Dominion. A misunderstanding has arisen between the two governments owing to rebates of toll being allowed by our government on grain carried through the whole length of the St. Lawrence canals to Montreal. No distinction, however, in this matter of rebates is made as between American and Canadian vessels. Should a Canadian carrier after passing through the Welland canal trans-ship his grain into ports at Kingston or Prescott, no rebate is allowed. So with American grain carried through the Welland canal. If it is brought down the St. Lawrence canals to Montreal, the rebate of tolls is granted; but if the trans-shipment occurs on the American side, as at Ogdensburgh, then the full tolls are retained. There is therefore no discrimination against the American carriers in favor of the Canadian under the present system of toll rebates, or a violation of the treaty clause. The Americans, however, claim that the present method is a discrimination against routes and ports and that in spirit at least it is a violation of clause 27. It is to be hoped that this vexed question will soon be satisfactorily adjusted.

A Marker Killed.

LONDON, Ont., June 6.—A shocking accident occurred at the Cove rifle range this afternoon, which resulted in the death of Private Joseph Palleucci, of D company, I.S.C. A squad from the barracks were at target practice, and Palleucci was one of the markers. There are two targets. Palleucci's had just been fired at and he came out from behind his shelter. Just then one of the marksmen took aim and fired at the wrong target (Palleucci's), the result being that the unfortunate marker was struck in the thigh, the ball passing clean through. An ambulance was at once sent for and Palleucci conveyed to the City hospital, where he died about 5.30 from loss of blood. Deceased was 32 years of age and had been a member of the company for a year and a half. An inquest will be held.

Senator Boulton has published an address to the electors of Marquette, Man. He comes out as an independent candidate favoring free trade on British lines.

The trial at Utica, N.Y., of E. K. McElwaine, ex-deputy U.S. marshal, indicted for aiding and abetting the escape of T. O'Brien, prince of bunco steers, ended in a verdict of acquittal.
