SATISFACTORY SALE.

VICTORIA COUNTY CHEESE CLEARED
AT 7:00.The regular meeting of the Victoria County cheese board was held in the council chamber on Tuesday. Nearly all the factories constituting the board were represented, and over 1100 boxes were boarded. Messrs. W. Flavell, G.
Fitzgerald and James Whitton were the buyers present.Mr. Whitton rose to a point of privilege and explained that Monday following the Peterboro sale would be a better date for him than Tuesday, as at present.Moved by Mr. Whitton, seconded by Mr. Sinclair, that the regular market day be held on Monday following the Peterboro sale-day, and that bidding be commenced at 11.15 a.m. sharp.—Carried.

Following are the factories:—

President Robertson stated as the cheese was nearly all boarded they were now ready to receive offers for May cheese.Mr. Whitton lead off with an offer of 64c. Fitzgerald increased to 68c, when Mr. Whitton came back with 63c. Mr.
Flavell raised it an eighth, when Fitzgerald bid 7c flat, which was increased a 15th by Mr. Whitton, who had the call, and secured Star, Pine Grove, Reaboro, Bobcaygeon, Maple Leaf, Omence, Janet-ville, Oakwood, Lorneville, Cameron, North Ops and Valentia at those figures, 7 1/15c.Mr. Flavell then bid 7 1/15c. for further selections, and there being no further bids cleared the board, securing Red Rock, Cambray, Mariposa, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam, Palestine and Dunsford.

THE WINTER CREAMERY.

Mr. Scully then introduced the question of a winter creamery. He felt that the salesmen were all in favor of a winter creamery. He was pleased to see success attending the Victoria cheese board, which he had worked hard to have established in Lindsay, and he felt justly proud of its success. He had always felt that the cheese buyers had a great deal to do with the building up of our great English trade, which in his opinion had overshadowed our Canadian butter trade. The only way in which our farmers could hope to secure a standing for Canadian butter in the European market was by manufacturing a uniform article, and the only way in which that could be accomplished would be by the adoption of the creamery system. He thought that a central creamery should be established, with skimming stations at the various cheese factories so that only the cream would go to the butter factory, while the skim milk would be returned to the patrons. He thought that a board of provisional directors should be formed at once to outline the points necessary for consideration, in order to secure an up-to-date creamery, which could be operated in the winter season after the cheese factories had closed down and all through the month of May. He felt that they should not sell May cheese at all. In this way they would raise their calves in the winter to better advantage than they were doing at present.
He also referred to the advantages to be derived to our cheese-makers by thus furnishing them with employment during the winter season. He thought that skimming stations should be established at all our cheese factories. He felt that Lindsay being the most central point was a most desirable place for the creamery, others might think differently, but he was not set on any particular place.
He then produced a letter—which Mr.
Flavell read to the board—from Mr.
James Stonehouse, manager of the St.
Mary's creamery, a $10,000 institution, that had worked up quite a name for itself in the London market, where their creamery output had out-sold the popular Danish butter on more than one occasion.President Robertson's thought last winter that Reaboro was a good point, and now he thought that Fenelon Falls or Lindsay was a good place for a winter creamery.
He thought that perhaps a bonus might be secured from these points. He was too far away from railway connection or he would go in for winter creamery like a boy goes in swimming.Mr. G. Lytle thought that Mr. Scully had struck the key-note when he suggested a provisional board of directors. It was necessary that there should be a strong committee appointed to secure all available information and lay the same before the farmers of Victoria county, and if deemed satisfactory then they could ask the farmers to take stock in the enterprise. He then read an extract from the Toronto World showing the vast importance of the exports of cheese to Great Britain, which had in 1897 reached 167,220,699 lbs., valued at $14,676,236, while Canadian butter for the same year only reached a little over $2,000,000.
Great Britain annually imports about $15,000,000 worth of butter and a little less than $5,000,000 worth of cheese. If Canadian butter supplied a large proportion of the butter consumed in Great Britain as of cheese, it would bring over forty million dollars of British money to Canada every year.Mr. Flavell endorsed the views of the previous speakers and moved, seconded by Mr. Calvert, that the following gentlemen be a committee to secure all necessary information, and report at the next meeting of cheese board:—Messrs. Thos.
Robertson, D. Scully, Thos. Calvert, E.
Thurston, Capt. W. D. Hunter, A. O.
Hogg, W. Hill, D. Sinclair, Taylor
Parker, F. Sandford, Geo. Webster, J.
H. Southerton, Wm. Flavell and Geo.
Lytle.—Carried.The board then adjourned until Monday, June 27th.

COMMUNICATIONS.

THE PARKS CASE AND THE REV. MR STRATTON

To the Editor of The Watchman, SIR,—The rev. gentleman started out to ascertain "How Parks got out." He is satisfied now that he knows, therefore his last letter in your columns is as unwarranted as it is abusive, and shews conclusively that his malady is not an honest desire for information but vindictiveness.

What should one look for in a Christian minister? Spitefulness, revenge, vindictiveness? I should say no; but rather Christian charity, forgiveness and a desire for the betterment of his fellowmen, and for the betterment of the latter qualities are found, well-developed in, and daily put in practice by our clergy, but once in a while one meets with an exceptional case.Just think of it, Mr. Editor, while the parliament of the clergy of the Bay of Quinte district were holding their deliberations in this town, and discussing great questions relating to the upbuilding of the church and the betterment of mankind, this gentleman, a member of conference, was penning the vindictive and childish effusion that appeared in your paper last.If he has been wronged by anyone in this matter, would we not expect to find him praying for his enemies, rather than venting his spleen on them? His conduct in this matter reminds me of a story told me by one of the visiting clergymen last week: "A little boy one day said to his father, 'Pa, what is a minister?' 'Why, my son, you know what a minister is, for you go to church.' 'Oh, yes, I know you, Pa. A minister is a man who tells people to do things but don't do them himself.' I was just wondering if that little boy lived in Little Britain and went to the Methodist church."I am quite confident that were a plebe-cite taken in Mariposa to ascertain what proportion of the residents approve of the conduct of this important president of the Alliance in this matter the strongest condemnation would be found to be the result thereof. So strong indeed that his own knot-hole trick would be performed by the rev. gentleman in the most agile fashion.At the trial of Parks, I contended that I had a right to get in a thorough cross-examination of the informer, and that I had a right to receive answers to the questions I asked, but I was over-ruled by the court. I then said I would appeal.
Now my contention has been upheld by the attorney-general, by Mr. Cartwright, deputy attorney-general, by counsel for the crown and by the court.This being the case, why should I feel like crawling into a knot-hole and pulling it in after me, (as the rev. gentleman in his "billingsgate" style asserts) Ourselves Mr. Hardy's explanation in the Post, it proves that I was right in my contention, and therefore justified in appealing, and showing to the world that Parks was illegally incarcerated in the county jail.
But this scholarly man, learned in classics doesn't care a fig about Parks "getting out," and finds himself condemned by an intelligent public for the means resorted to to have him "put in," and to be relieved of the just condemnation, seeks to show that the means used in getting him out are as unjustifiable as the means used to put him in. But I will tell this very learned gentleman, that, mighty though he be, large quotations from Latin, his great and scholarly attainments, the high and exalted position he holds in the affections of the people, his great and consummating zeal for suffering humanity, could not keep Parks there when illegally held.I regret the attorney-general did not grant a commission to investigate "how Parks got out," as the gentleman requested, for then we would see whose desire to "crawl into a knot-hole" would have been the strongest.Mr. DuVernet informs me he and Mr.
Langton perfectly understood each other in the matter—no misunderstanding whatever—and his word I will accept before either Mr. Langton's or that of the rev. gentleman.If Mr. Langton had intended to appear on the motion, then in the name of common sense why did he approve of the draft order before the same order, did he intend to oppose this same order, of which he himself changed the phraseology to suit himself, had he been present?
Is it not too absurd to require an explanation?I have pursued the course in this matter that any reputable lawyer would have.
What did Parks employ me for? To allow him to be sent to jail illegally and not take steps to have him released? No.
I ask any man of a grain of sense, if when he employs a lawyer, does he not expect that lawyer to do all he conscientiously can to bring him out victorious in his litigation? I think so. And, if at any time the rev. gentleman should be so unfortunate as to be sent to jail unjustly, and he employs me as his counsel, I tell him that I will use every legitimate means in my power to have him released.The rev. gentleman may be a very Goliath in scholarly attainments and classic lore, but he certainly is very liliphant in his knowledge of law, the duties of counsel, good manners and common sense.The stupendous self assurance of this man is really amusing when he asserts that "every word he utters against me is against the Alliance." He is the Alliance it seems. Were he rev. of Mariposa he would be Mariposa, I suppose. What sublime ascendancy.He says I would "like to regain the favor of Mr. McCauley and the Alliance." This is refreshing certainly. I have never yet been aware that I had lost their favor. What unmitigated gall! Does Mr. McCauley require him to speak for him? Any one can see his subterfuge.
He desires to keep close to Mr. McCauley, knowing that neither I nor the public condemned Mr. McCauley, and that he will escape uncondemned if he can keep such good company.I tell the rev. gentleman now, as I told him before, and I do so on Mr. DuVernet's authority, that Mr. DuVernet did not not go to Mr. Justice Falconbridge at all, he never spoke to him about the matter, and that Mr. Justice Street was holding court and would not hear a chamber motion such as this was. When making such him further, a lawyer, when making such an application as this, for the release of a person in jail, is justified in seeking a judge even in his private room in thesame manner as if he were applying for a warrant to arrest a man who was leaving the country. They are both urgent applications.But to show the desperate straits this gentleman is in, he holds me and my coadjutors responsible for the arrival at Mariposa station of two consignments that went to his village. Mark what he says.
"No one believes that the temperance people have received aid from the hands of Mr. Anderson and his coadjutors." Does he think everyone believes as he does? What evidence goes for I know many strong advocates of temperance in Mariposa who will say and do say that he is the one who has injured the cause more than any other person. What treatment have I given temperance people? I don't know what he means. I number among my warmest friends many strong temperance people.I tell him again, as told him before, that Mr. DuVernet made the application in open court at Osgoode hall and if he or anyone else asserts anything to the contrary they simply say what is false.I trust that your readers will believe me when I say it was with reluctance I entered upon this correspondence to vindicate my own position, and I assure them it was with regret I found myself forced to continue it to defend myself against the unwarranted attacks of the rev. gentleman.Trusting that I shall not require to ask you again to reply, I remain, yours sincerely,
D. R. ANDERSON,
Lindsay, June 13th, 1893.

S. S. PICNIC.—The English church Sunday school picnic at the lake shore on Saturday last was a success under difficulties. The threatening morning doubtless accounted for a rather smaller crowd than usual and occasional showers during the day rendered it anything but a dry affair. However those present were undismayed by these drawbacks and by footraces, games and supper filled in the spaces between showers. The chief sporting event was a foot-ball match between the Dunsford and north Emily teams.
Neither side scored, so another battle is expected next Saturday to ascertain which team will own the new ball offered as a prize by the school. The proceeds are about $37.00.MARRIED.—Mr. James English last Wednesday began married life with the assistance of Miss Ward of Harvey.
We wish the young people success and long life.

INSANE.—Mr. Robert Rowan, a well to do farmer of this vicinity, suddenly showed signs of mental aberration last week. He has been removed to Lindsay jail, where he will be kept until his condition changes one way or the other. Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Rowan and family, who are highly respected.IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr. D. Gordon, our local hotel keeper, has added much to the appearance of his hotel by the building of a new platform. It will be narrower than the old one, leaving room for a sidewalk along the front.
The latter will be much appreciated by pedestrians. .... Mr. A. Cowison is again at work building side-walks.
This time Mill-st. is having its turn.
This street once indulged in the luxury of block pavement, but we know better now. Our village can boast of as good side-walks as are found anywhere.PICNIC.—A number of Cambray people, together with a party from Mariposa, enjoyed a picnic to Ball Point on Thursday. A number of them are good performers on wind instruments and the program they rendered added in no small degree to the pleasures of the day.

BIRTHS.—On June the 4th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Watson.
CHURCH.—The sacrament of the Lord's supper was observed in St.
Andrew's church on Sunday last. The congregation was large, thirteen new members being added to the roll, five by certificate and eight by profession of faith. The services throughout were impressive, and will no doubt be a stimulus to better things in the Christian life of the hearers.CONCERT.—Mr. Joe Ferguson of Blackstock, a student of Queen's university, gave a concert here on the evening of June 1st, under the auspices of St. Andrew's choir, in the Sons of Scotland hall. The "talking machine" called the gramophone was the chief feature of the evening's entertainment, and Mr. Ferguson proved himself to be no mean elocutionist in the several recitations rendered. Those wishing a good entertainment cannot do better than secure Joe while he is in the neighborhood.OBIT.—A gloom has been cast over this neighborhood by the sudden death of Mr. Neil McKinnon, second son of Mr. Donald McKinnon, who passed away from this earthly scene on the 7th inst., at the age of 24 years.
Deceased had for a short time been teaching in Fingerboard school, in the place of his brother, who has had an attack of measles, and boarding with his uncle Mr. John Ferguson, where he died from the same disease. Dr. Mc-Phail of Manilla attended him in his sickness, and although everything was done that medical skill could devise, the grim monster claimed him for its own. He was a young man of noble Christian character, having early in life displayed an explicit trust in Christ for salvation. A kind and dutiful son, a loving and compassionatebrother causes his demise to be sorely felt in the family. The bereaved have the sympathy of the entire community in their affliction, as evinced by the unusually large number that escorted the remains to their last resting place.

MEETING.—The meeting of the W.F.M.
S. was held in the church on Thursday.
The meeting was addressed by Mrs. Uro of Woodville, on "Whom should we send to the Foreign Field." It was a good address indeed and was much appreciated. Would that more well-read women would take more interest.

DON'T MISS IT.—The annual anniversary of Salem Sabbath school will be held on Sunday and Monday, June 19th and 20th. Special music and sermons will be given on Sunday.
Program, tea and lecture on Monday.
Always good at Salem.MISERY HAS COMPANY.—You who live in Lindsay and lament so grievously over the destruction of your shade trees have the sincerest sympathy of your country cousins. We too have our tale of woe, the cause thereof being the altogether plentiful supply of that writhing, crawling, squirming and wholly detestable specimen of reptile known as a caterpillar. In the centre and south of the township whole forests of maple and elm have been completely stripped of their foliage. A visit to the orchard of Mr. W. Cornish, "Ivy Cottage" will convince the most sceptical as to the value of spraying as a preventative for this pest. Mr. Cornish has sprayed his large orchard three times and the way caterpillars learned to leave his trees alone has amply repaid him for his trouble.PICK UPS.—Sheep washing is a thing of the past and the boys are thankful.
One of the seventh line boys tackled a sheep too big for him the other day.
His hat floated ..... 1898 has added at least two new buildings to our neighborhood. Mr. J. Dix having raised a large new barn this week and Mr. D. Cameron added to his out-buildings a very large implement house ..... June is here, the roses are out and there shall be weddings and rumors of weddings. The more the merrier. .... Sunday night observations force one to the conclusion that rich people are unusually wicked.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.—The advancement made by our public library is quite remarkable and the report given by the secretary at the last annual meeting gives some idea of the amount of information and reading matter available to members.
The extremely low price of family tickets, which entitles the holders to three books at a time and costs only half a dollar per year, brings the advantages of the library within easy reach of all. The increased benefit of a reading room, which may be provided in the near future, should induce an increased membership, which in turn, will make the proposed reading room more easily obtainable.
Anyone who, knowing of all the advantages possible by the expenditure of fifty cents, does not at the earliest opportunity avail himself or herself of such a good bargain, surely cannot be a bargain hunter. Every member of the library not only gets the benefits of the library himself, but increases the educational advantages of his neighbors and is therefore a public benefactor. The secretary's report is as follows:—The number of volumes in the library is 1321, classified as follows:—History 173, biography 82, travel and adventure 178, science and art 108, poetry 40, religious literature 68, fiction 321, miscellaneous 235, works of reference 28. The number of volumes issued during the year was 2197. The number of volumes purchased for the library during the year was 259, classified in the following manner:—History 18, biography 12, travel and adventure 32, science and art 12, poetry 11, agriculture 12, religious literature 13, fiction 59, miscellaneous 90.HYMNAL.—The home of Mr. D.
King was the scene of a very pleasant event, when his daughter Nellie Belle was united in marriage to Mr. Ford Neal of Toronto. Quite a number of the friends of the contracting parties from Toronto, Buffalo, Uxbridge, Peterboro, Oakwood and Cannington witnessed the ceremony, which was very ably performed by the Rev. W. B. Tucker. It is needless to say that the bride looked charming as she seldom if ever look anything else, and the idea of any young lady who was charming on ordinary occasions looking anything else on her wedding day would be incredible and not to be thought of.
If a shower of old boots and rice is indicative of good wishes the young procedure were lacking in that commodity, r.
It is our opinion that old boots and rice dropping on the heads of anyone and not consistent with good wishes. We think it is time for people to adopt some less heathenish way of expressing their desires for a long, prosperous and happy life. It does not give a newly-married man a fair chance to prove that married life is not a failure if he has to spend any length of time standing in boots that are lined with rice, or endure the discomfort of a swelled head or a discolored eye as a result of the shower of old cowhide, weighted down with ancient mud and iron pegs, especially if his newly-made bride looks at him uncomfortably from similar causes. Our plan is to extend to the young couple our best wishes without any misappropriated boots or rice. The large number of valuable presents given is the best proof of the good wishes of those who gave them.PERSONAL.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Conway of Oshawa spent a week with their relatives here. .... R. V. W. B. Tucker and his wife are visiting relatives in the city.
..... Mr. E. Ebbels of Port Perry spent Saturday and Sunday with friends here.
Mr. L. Short returned home on Thursday from the city, where he has held a situation for some time past.
