By order of General Manager Hayes, Y.M.C.A. associations are being formed at different railway centres along the line of the G.T.R. Evidently the new manager believes in the moral training of his employees.

Confusion as to the choice of a blood-purifier is unnecessary. There is but one best Sarsaparilla, and that is Ayer's. This important fact was recognized at the World's fair, Chicago, 1893, being the only blood purifier admitted to be placed on exhibition.

The Ontario government has instituted a change in the prison system of the province. The Mercer and Penetanguishene reformatories will be brought directly under the control of the Ontario inspector, and in future Mr. James Noxon, inspector for the Central prison, will have a close supervision over these institutions and be known as inspector of prisons.

While partridge shooting last week Mr. Bert Wilson, son of W. H. Wilson, merchant, of Gravenhurst, was accidentally shot in the hip by Patrick Shea, one of the party. During a rush for a bird in a tree, Wilson was some ten feet in advance, when Shea tripped in the brush and was thrown down, his gun being discharged by the fall. Wilson received the full charge of shot in the hip, resulting in an ugly and dangerous wound.

Two admirable serial stories will be published in Harper's Weekly in the course of the year 1897. One, a New England story by Mary E. Wilkins, will begin in January, and the other, a tale of Greek uprising against the Turks, by E. F. Benson, the author of "Codo," will appear during the latter half of the year. Besides these, more short stories will appear in the Weekly than it has been possible to publish during 1896. A sequel to "The House-Boat on the Styx," by John Kendrick Bangs, will also appear early in the year, illustrated by Peter Newell.

Sometimes it seems to weary women that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Nervousness, sleeplessness and pain harass her and life seems hardly worth the living. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for her distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favorite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood. Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page common sense medical adviser, illustrated.

We are in receipt of a circular from D. Gunn Bros. & Co., packers, Toronto, in regard to killing and handling of dressed hogs. It says: "During this season of the year, it is well to select, if possible, a cool day for slaughtering. The hogs should be starved at least twelve hours before killing. A great many farmers are experienced butchers, and the number of shoulder stuck hogs is very much less now than some years ago; however, we would strongly advise that none but experienced hands should be allowed to stick hogs. What we wish to call special attention to is the treatment of the carcass after it has been hung up. The bone between the hind legs, also the breast bone, should be cut through, so as to allow the removal of all the entrails, along with the gullet. This being done the carcass should be well showered with cold water, and allowed to hang twelve or twenty-four hours, according to the state of the weather; if very warm more cold water should be used, and a longer time allowed to hang. If the hogs are very fat (which by the way is not desirable, especially in light weights), they should be split open through the backbone, to allow the animal heat to escape; which, if not attended to, the chances are you will have tainted meat. These openings do not interfere with the price in the selling, as all hogs have to be divided in the middle when being prepared for curing. We wish to impress this point in regard to fat hogs very strongly. Under no conditions should a hog be cut down from the place where it is hung up to cool, until all animal heat has left the body, even should it take thirty-six to forty-eight hours to do this. Of course it will be understood that during the winter weather, the care in chilling the carcass is not so necessary, but there are large quantities being killed during the present season, when the weather is not so favorable. This is the time that the above precautions should be taken, and if the above instructions are carried out the result will, in every case, be satisfactory, and the highest market price will be obtained for hogs so prepared."

—About a week ago Mrs. R. Easton, town, met with very painful accident. She was hanging pictures, and while standing on a chair she by some means slipped, falling heavily and breaking her leg and dislocating the knee cap. The injuries were very painful, but she is now recovering nicely.

—On Saturday last Rev. Mr. Torrance, Presbyterian student at Kilworth, near Gravenhurst, and his wife were drowned in Sparrow Lake. They were crossing the lake in a sailing canoe, and when a short distance from shore a squall struck them, capsizing the boat. Both bodies were washed ashore. Mr. Torrance was a son of the principal of the Baptist college at Woodville, Ont.

—The Rockford (Ohio) Press, of Sept. 25th contains the following item: "In spite of the hard times Burgess & Robison reports business booming in their merchant tailoring department, which is under the management of their successful and popular cutter, Mr. Fair, formerly of Buffalo, N.Y." Mr. Fair is well known in Lindsay, and is a son of Mrs. Fair, Elgin-st., north ward. His many friends will be pleased to hear of his success.

The election expenses of the three candidates in the recent North Bruce election have been published. It would appear as though the three candidates in this riding had vied with each other as to which one could run the cheapest campaign. In this respect Dr. Connor comes out ahead and the patron candidate was the most reckless; he has squandered nearly one hundred dollars. We venture to say they beat anything in Canada in this respect. Here are the figures: Dr. Bonnar, $14; A. McNeill, $38.85; H. T. Potts, $97.75.

The Grand Trunk authorities have started to work erecting temporary storm fences along the line so as to do away with, as much as possible, the great delays that were experienced last year during the heavy snow storms. It is the intention of the company to make every effort to keep the tracks clear this winter, and storm fences will be erected at all the bad spots. This work is at present going on west of Toronto and along the line of the Northern division. The work is under the direct charge of Mr. E. H. Fitzhugh, superintendent of the middle division.

OUR LOCAL MARKSMEN.

Annual Prize Meeting of the Victoria County Rifle Association.

The annual prize meet of the Victoria County Rifle Association was held on Thursday last at the ranges north of the town, and the scores made by the different contestants were good, weather taken into consideration. Quite a number of marksmen from a distance were present, among them being Lieut.-Col. Hughes, Newtonville; Lieut. King, (this year's Bieleys team); Lieut. W. Milligan, Dr. McLaughlin, Batt. surgeon, J. Curtis, and J. H. Morris, of Bowmanville. The 57th Batt., Peterboro, was represented by Messrs. F. Bartlett, Geo. Fitzgerald, Chas. Curtis and T. J. Ritchie.

A large tent was erected close by, and in this at twelve o'clock a sumptuous lunch was served by Mr. E. S. Soanes, and it is needless to say it was done full justice to by the hungry marksmen and their friends. Subjoined is the scores in the different matches, and the amounts won:

Sulphur and Diptheria.

The London Lancet, the great British medical authority has discovered that sulphur is a cure for diptheria. The discovery was communicated to the Lancet by a gentleman who accompanied the celebrated Dr. Field on his rounds to witness the so called "wonderful cures" which he performed while the patients of others were dropping on all sides. All he took with him was powder of sulphur and a quill and with these he cured every patient without exception—that is, he put a teaspoon of flour of brimstone into a wineglass of water, and stirred it with his finger instead of a spoon, as sulphur does not readily amalgamate with water, and on the sulphur becoming mixed he gave it as a gargle and in ten minutes the patient was out of danger, as brimstone kills every species of fungus in man, beast and plant in a few minutes. Instead of spitting out the gargle he recommended the swallowing of it and in extreme cases, in which he had been called just in the nick of time, when the fungus was too nearly closed to allow the gargling, he blew the sulphur through a quill into the throat and after the fungus had shrunk to allow of it, then the gargling. He never lost a patient from diptheria. Or, if the patient cannot gargle, take a live coal put it on a shovel and sprinkle a spoonful or two of the brimstone at a time upon it holding the head over it, and the fungus will die.

A dozen years ago when diptheria was carrying off children in Hamilton at a rapid rate, a gentleman wrote to the Spectator to say that sulphur was a cure for the disease—of course when used in time—and his mode of using it was precisely that described in the Lancet. This gentleman was not a doctor, but was aware of the effect of sulphur upon fungoid growths and experimented successfully in an amateur way, upon some children who had diptheria. At that time few of the medical men understood the disease, and deaths were many. But the sulphur cure was looked upon by the profession as an old woman's cure, entirely too simple to be of any use whatever, and it was not made use of. We suppose that now that the Lancet has set its seal of authority upon the sulphur cure the doctors will not let any more children die of diptheria.
