Pulled.

On Friday morning last about one o'clock, Chief Bell, assisted by County Constable Foster, made a descent on a dive kept by a woman named Jewell, near the avenue, south of Kent st., and arrested two men and four women on the premises. They were taken before the P.M., and the woman Jewell was sent to Castle Jackson for three months and one of the men was fined $5 and costs. The other proved that he only went there when he heard the noise. The other women were discharged. The chief is on the look out, and is determined to make such questionable resorts scarce.

Collegiate Institute Notes.

The Literary Society in connection with the school rendered a very unique and agreeable programme last Friday. It was very well attended by the pupils of the school but very few of the town people were present. These meetings are held every other week and are exceedingly interesting and profitable. The programme last Friday was as follows: Instrumental duet, Mrs. Roberts; Miss E. Ferris. Song, Mr. W. Robson.

Extempore speeches—Mr. Hore, "None but the brave deserve the fair."—Mr. J. N. McGill, "It never rains but it pours."—Mr. B. McKenzie, "You never miss the water till the well goes dry." These three were selected from the matriculation form to debate against three of the third class form. These of the third form were: Mr. Vance, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world"—Mr. F. Shannon, "Things are not always what they seem."—Mr. Silverwood, "As a rule man's a fool, when it is hot he wants it cool, when it is cool he wants it hot, always wanting what is not." After many laughable attempts the result was decided in favor of the third form. There seems to have been some little irregularities in the ballots as there were rather too many. The matriculation form making the best speeches.

Reading, Miss Mimms. The meeting came to a close, all joining heartily in singing "God Save the Queen."

Fatal Accident

A very sad accident took place on Saturday evening last which resulted in the death of Mr. Patrick Meehan, a respectable farmer of the North part of Emily. From what we can learn, he was returning home from Lindsay about six o'clock, in company with a Miss Breen, and a short distance outside the town meeting a team, it being dark, drew to one side in order to pass. Not noticing a culvert, one of the front wheels went down, throwing him out on his head, breaking his neck, and causing instant death. Miss Breen kept her seat, and succeeded in getting the reins and holding the horses. A Mr. Holland who was in the other wagon with other parties assisted in bringing the body back to Lindsay, and placing it in Dorgan's Hotel, until the family were notified. Deceased was somewhat over 60 years of age. The family have the sympathy of the community in their sudden bereavement.

Board of Education.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held on Tuesday evening, to deal with the matter of appointments to fill vacancies on the staff of the Collegiate Institute and the public schools, and for the transaction of general business. Present: Chairman McNeillie; Messrs. Stewart, Flavell, R. Kennedy, J. Kennedy, McLaughlin, Pilkie, Deacon, Anderson, Walters, Macmurchy and Mathews.

On motion it was decided not to engage a male teacher for the south ward school. The special annual report of the headmaster of the public schools, dealing with the work done by each member of the staff during the year, was read. The report was highly satisfactory as to the work done. The salaries of the lady teachers, who have been two years and over in the employ of the board, were increased $10 each as a result of the report, in accordance with the scheme adopted a year ago.

The board went into committee of the whole to consider applications for the position of modern master in the Collegiate Institute, and for two vacancies on the public school staff.

The committee recommended the appointment of Miss Annis of Woodville, who is a B. A. of Toronto University and specialist in moderns, English and mathematics, to the position in the Institute; and Miss Olivia Mark, of Lindsay, and Miss Robinson, of Bobcaygeon, to fill the vacancies in the public schools. The report was adopted.

The board adjourned.

—One day last week three masked men rode boldly into the little town of Spearville, fifteen miles east of Dodge City, Kan., proceeded straight to the Spearville bank, tied their horses and entered. —Large gangs of men from Orillia, Midland, Penetanguishene and Bracebridge are daily making their way to the lumber camps at Wabushapitae. Extensive operations are now in progress there for the coming winter, and the large firms seem to be making a supreme effort. About 5,000 men have already gone up, and it is said about 7,000 will be required to carry out the winter's work.—North Bay Dispatch.

—A resident of Collingwood preserved some blackberries this fall and through being insufficiently corked they fermented. She emptied them into an enclosure where some ducks ate freely of the berries and soon became very boisterous, quacking loudly and reeling around like a lot of intoxicated men. By and by they were completely overcome, and laid over on their backs and appeared like so many dead ducks. After a few hours, however, they revived.

—Meaford Mirror:—The suicide of George Roberts at Orillia last week has caused many of our contemporaries to moralize on the iniquity of the card table, but we have failed to note a single suggestion calculated to inspire one with the belief that the "innocent game of poker" is becoming less popular in consequence of the many lives ruined by it. Until society has ceased to look upon card playing as a necessary "accomplishment," the evil will continue to flourish, and the same influences which combine to shield the genteel gambler from the operation of the law may be expected to throw around the professional poker player such a mantle of protection as shall enable him to escape the detection of the most vigilant officers of the law. Roberts was but one of many whose fascination for gambling has ended in suicide. Next to intemperance, the gambling table is probably the greatest curse that afflicts this country.
