Saturday Night's Christmas Number.

We have received some advance sheets of Toronto Saturday Night's Christmas number. This yearly publication has for years been the special study of the publishers, and has now reached a state of excellence which gives it a monopoly of the ground over all other Canadian holiday publications. The premium picture this year is an oleograph 20x28 inches, which will be found posted in the shops of news agents in a few days, and which may be left to speak for itself. What we shall call special attention to is the literary features of this Christmas publication. Mr. C. L. Shaw, a Canadian, gives what he terms random Reminiscences of the Nile expedition in 1884, when an attempt was made to rescue Chinese Gordon and his garrison at Khartoum. Mr. Shaw was a brave voyager and his account of the trip is the funniest and most hilarious piece of reading one could imagine. Four hundred Canadians took part in that perilous expedition, and Mr. Shaw pictures the trip in jolly words. The other gems of this Christmas number are: Two Old Hunters, by Octave Thanet; Old Dickson's Young Lady, by Evelyn Durand; The Exile of Centreville, by Marjory McMurtry; The Room's League by Helen Gregory; Fleisher; With Murder in His Heart, by E. E. Speppard. Poems are contributed by E. Pauline Johnston, C. G. Rogers, E. Hawthorne, Wheeler, Beers, Moffatt and others. We strongly recommend our readers to buy this number, as the picture alone is worth ten times the price.

Take Warning.

The following clause in the new criminal will be of interest to all dealers and users of revolvers and air guns. Clause 106 reads as follows:—

"Any one guilty of selling or giving any pistol or air gun or any ammunition to a minor under the age of sixteen, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the justice before whom he is charged that he used reasonable diligence in endeavoring to ascertain the age of the minor before making such a sale or gift, and that he had good reason to believe that such minor was not under the age of sixteen.

"2. Every one is guilty of an offence liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $25, who sells any pistol or air gun without keeping a record of such sale, the date thereof and the name of the purchaser and the maker's name or other mark by which such arm may be identified.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

—Neuralgia must cost $500 for a case that Harper's Arabian Balm will not heal at once. For sale by E. Gregory.—17-1f.

—Candidates for municipal honors will soon begin to loom up.

—A man got shot in one of our local hardware stores last week. He got it by the pound.

—Burglars are around, but printers are unconcerned. They have nothing to lose but bad debts.

—Don't forget to clean your sidewalk, the ice and snow is easily cleared off with the help of the rays of Old Sol.

—Money seems to be the missing link between a man and his tailing these days.

—The Christian Workers' Convention will hold their next annual meeting in Toronto.

—Harper's Arabian Balm is the best liniment sold. Popular price, 25 cents a large bottle. For sale by E. Gregory.—17-1f.

—A man who suddenly sat down on the icy sidewalk on Kent-st., on Thursday last week, discovered a new planet. He named it "Gosh!"

—Why are parties who do not advertise like a shipwrecked mariner? Because they see no sale (sail) from day to day.

—The young man who gets up these cold, delicious mornings, to practice on the piano, has a large circle of acquaintances, but no friends.

—The time is almost here when the boy will forsake his father and mother, and leave the wood pile an orphan and go for a good skate.

—If you want to know where you can purchase any article at prices to suit the times, just scan the advertisements in the columns of this journal.

—A "sausage eater" complains that there is a lack of pork in the sausage now retailed in town, and protests loudly thereat.

—The steamer Esturion made her last trip on Saturday last. On Monday she got up as far as Pleasant Point when she was forced to return on account of ice.

—Everybody admits that the ulsters cover a multitude of sins, but you can't get a man with crooked legs to admit that he wears it to hide them. Oh, no!

—Business men will soon begin to send out their accounts, and we would advise them to call at THE WATCHMAN Office and examine our stock of bill-heads—al, get prices.

—A charge of selling a revolver without keeping a record of sale was preferred last week against a Peterboro dealer and after a caution from the magistrate dismissed.

—A K. of L. member of the General Executive Board states that the membership of the order in good standing is now 80,000. What has become of the local K. of L.

—A county convention of the Patrons is called for Peterboro county on Saturday, Dec. 2nd. The consideration and advisability of taking political action will be the leading feature of the meeting.

—A practical young man suggests that the church bells be rung at the conclusion of the church services in the evening, so that the boys won't have to hang around the doors, in the cold, so long.

—Zinc that is used under stores should never be dampened. If it becomes soiled or dim, rub it with soft flannel and a little fresh lard. Cleaned in this way a zinc may be kept as bright as when first purchased.

—It has been said that a truly innocent person will never be an object of suspicion, but we defy an angel to carry a black vinegar bottle around a neighborhood in which is located a liquor store, and not have public opinion divided regarding its contents.

—Kind heaven has blessed you with a bountiful store, With rathions to sell, and enough, too, for winter, So, when that old stocking won't hold any more, Just bring in the surplus, and pay up the printer.

—Our local hotel keepers should live up to the letter of the law on every occasion, for they know not when the detectives who are commissioned by the government may entrap them into breaches of the liquor license law. For every conviction the detective receives $5.00.

—We understand that the Gas Co. are about to introduce the Auer incandescent light in town, which is said to be in many ways superior to the ordinary gas light and at the same time consuming less gas. As a single instance: The Cyclorama, of Montreal, which is lighted by the Auer incandescent, pays 90 cents per night, when they paid $4.40 per night previously for an inferior light.

—The slippery days are at hand—the saddest of the year, the days when bits of ice conceal themselves like an enemy in ambush. You walk on the sidewalk apparently the monarch of all you survey, but pride goes before a fall, for you unconsciously step on the glittering crystal of depravity, and suddenly find yourself studying astronomy with too many stars in view to be properly reckoned.

—Bolcaygeon Independent.—Dr. Bonnell, Mr. W. Boyd and N. Vanier, of Bobcaygeon: Mr. Attrill, of Peterboro, and Mr. Edwards, of Lindsay, passed through here on Saturday from their hunting expedition. We hear that they had a good time and succeeded in shooting their legal number. The law prohibiting the killing of fawns was found to cause a lot of trouble last year, and it was rescinded. Such laws are not needed with hunters like Dr. Bonnell's party. It is a shame to kill fawns and his party let five fawns swim out of the lake. We will be glad to see these gentlemen in this part again.

—The County Parliament is in session this week.

—Harper's Arabian Balm cures lum bago.—17-2.

—Mr. Wm. Foley, inspector of Black Knots, etc., is on the war-path and parties whose fruit trees are affected with this pest will likely hear from him within the next few days.

—An exchange says storekeepers would do well to scrutinize pretty closely any large bills they may receive these days, as a clever note-raiser is at work in Toronto.

—In Knoxonian's estimation "there is no more pitiable creature than the weakling, of whose nose someone always has a hold, leading and jerking him here, there and everywhere."

—The Bracebridge Gazette says: Sportsmen never had better weather for hunting than the season just closed. Deer were plentiful, but were quite hard to get at.

—Mr. Alexander Smith, barrister, for several years identified with Toronto newspapers, has been appointed organizer for the liberal party in the room and stead of W. T. R. Preston.

—Call at E. Gregory's Drug store and get a bottle of Harper's Arabian Balm, the best liniment for man and beast. Every bottle guaranteed.—17-1f.

—Mr. John Carew nished the seasons cut in his new mill on Tuesday last. This is the "first season" for Mr. Carew in his new mill, and he is fully satisfied with the results attained.

—The little steamer Marie Louise, has gone into winter quarters. Captain Parkin has had a very busy season and is not sorry that the time has arrived for taking a rest.

—In order that everything may be comfortable and pleasant, the members of Lindsay Lodge No. 100, I. O. O. F., have had the ceiling nicely papered and have introduced electric light, Mr. Reeson done the wiring.

—An exchange tells of a woman in Coliforma who recently lost her husband, whose life was insured for $2,000. The heart-broken woman immediately telegraphed her friends in the east: "Jim died this morning, loss fully covered by insurance."

—The fall of the "beautiful snow" last Wednesday evening, brought out many cutters and sleighs on the following day. This was followed by another heavy fall on Sunday and for a while in the evening it proved a miniature cyclone.

—Last week large quantities of white fish were netted off Cedar Point, Lake Simcoe. If the Government does not mean to protect the fish from poachers it should repeal the regulations which prevent the law abiding from obtaining a share while the supply lasts.—Packet.

—The "Welland Canal" on Wellington street, has been completed and Street Inspector O'Neill as well as the residents of that part of the town are to be complimented upon having such a work performed in so prompt a manner. The work was completed below the estimated cost.

—The Sadler-Knowlson shooting party returned to town on Monday. They found a scarcity of ducks, but were fortunate enough to secure some fifty of the feathered tribe. They also secured a racoon, a few mink and rats, beside a porcupine and a lot of partridge. The boys had a great time.

—At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, last Thursday, before Chief Justice Robertson in the case re J. H. Speth, Toronto General Trust Co. v. H. J. Bird, for the plaintiffs, moved on consent for an order confirming a report on sale and dispensing with payment of purchase money into court. Granted.

—Mrs. Young, of Bal cover, arrived in town last Thursday, en route for Peterboro, and becoming somewhat "not a little too demonstrative in her remarks of oratory," while awaiting the train in the evening. The railway authorities telephoned the police office and upon the arrival of Constable Short, instructed that official to take her in charge. The following morning she was very penitent but the police magistrate inflicted a fine and costs which amounted to $11.00. She then resumed her journey.

—The Walters-Ross hunting party returned home from the hunt last week well laden with the spoils of victory. The party consisted of Messrs. Thos. Walters, Alex. Ross, W. A. Goodwin, Capt. Ross, Lindsay, Mr. Chas. Dunde, of Galt, and one or two others. The scene of their exploits was Hawk Lake, and they secured no less than twelve antlered beauties. It is said now that local butchers cannot sell ordinary meat in the Victoria Ward for some reason.

—The Midland Free Press is informed that the Michigan lumbermen are now thoroughly disheartened by the immense losses they have sustained through the breaking up of towns, and are quietly and quickly arranging to saw their logs in Canada in the future. "Merrill & Ring are supposed to have dropped $50,000 this season by the loss of a large log, and the breaking up of a large town. Other firms have suffered in proportion. And the promise for next summer is that the several mills here will be in lively operation."

—A young man named John Ward, of Bethany, came to an untimely end last Wednesday afternoon. It appears that while going through the field to a neighbor's house, he stopped to watch some men engaged with a stump machine. Something went wrong when a part of the machinery flew back, striking Ward on the head and breaking his skull, killing him instantly. Mr. Ward's death is rendered doubly painful from the fact that his sister, a very estimable young lady who was well-known in Lindsay, died suddenly just about a month ago.

—The steamer Alice-Ethel has been laid-up for the winter.

—The Lindsay packing house is now in full blast.

—Mr. John Short was duly appointed chief constable by the town council last Monday evening.

—The bodies of Barbeau and Bonas, two of the victims of the Frazer disaster in lake Nipissing, have been recovered.

—A heavy fall of snow on Tuesday evening was swept away by the rain before the next morning, much to the disgust of our roadites.

—Mr. Robt. Reid shipped some seventy-five hogs from Fenelon Falls, on Monday last, to the Peterboro packing house.

—John Latta, cheesemaker, was fined $20 at Belleville last Monday for using an illegal weight and refusing to show it when requested.

—The "double quartette" in connection with the Cambridge-st. Methodist church choir, took part in the sacred concert at Uxbridge on Tuesday evening.

—The regular meeting of Faithful Brethren lodge A. F. and A. M., will be held on Friday evening December 1st, 1893. Full attendance is requested.

—Speaking of the Whitty young lady's musical "power" the Chronicle says: "She is about the only person who can thump enough life out of the everlasting piano solo to win an encore."

—Mr. Frank Jordan, our local drover, will ship a carload of cattle and sheep from the station to-day, Thursday. They are being consigned to the Toronto markets.

—The store and dwelling of Mr. Jos. Tull, and blacksmith shop of Mr. James Irwin, Springville, were destroyed by fire on Sunday afternoon. The amount of insurance is not known at present.

—It is expected that the Parkin Lumber company will close down their shingle mill this week. The season's output has been simply enormous, and it is only through lack of material that they are forced to shut down.

—The Academy of Music Co. have a number of men employed laying a tile drain around their property. The drain will be tapped by ear-troughing from the roof and carry of all water direct to the river.

—Rev. J. C. Ash, of Cambay, has been suspended from the ministry of the Methodist church until the conference meets as the result of serious charges preferred before, and investigated by the Lindsay district.

—Messrs. Ingles & Co., of the plaining factory, report business better than it has been for years for the same season, notwithstanding the hard times. There is never a "rose without a thorn," however, and Mr. Ingles thinks that the rush of work now means a slack season next summer.

—Some two hundred fine hogs were weighed on the market scales last Monday. They were purchased by the Messrs. Jas. Cain, T. Bell, and Jas. and T. Fleury, for the Messrs Matthews, and were shipped to their Peterboro packing house.

—Mr. Robt. Chambers, of the Lindsay marble works, on business and pleasure bent, visited Maple Lake, in Stanhope township, last week, and, joining a hunting party secured a fine deer. Blessings never come single, is true in his case, as a kind friend in another locality has, since his arrival home, forwarded a second "antlered beauty."

—Capt. Fee, of the Alice Ethel, reports a good season's work from May 1st to Nov. 14th. During this time they have handled some twenty excursions, four scow loads of stone, two of grain, 5,000 cords of wood and 23,000 logs, besides other small jobs. This has all been accomplished without a single breakage of any kind.

—It is stated that the fisherman of the Georgian Bay and north channel are preparing a petition to the Government for the re-imposition of the export duty on saw logs, in view of the damage to the sawing grounds and fishing nets caused by the new route to the Michigan mills from Canadian territory.

—Cyrus Seymour, alias Silas Shaver, alias Martin, one of the worst bigamists in Canada, has been released from the penitentiary. He has served two terms. Among his victims were Miss Vandewater, of Ballaville; Kate L. Wall, Omamee, and Nellie Fish, of Cornwall.

—A meeting of a number of young men of the town and the collegiate institute was held in the Y.M.C.A. hall, on Tuesday evening of this week, for the purpose of forming a literary and debating society. The "Adelphi, literary and debating society" was organized. The next meeting of the society will be held in Hamilton's hall, Kent-st., on Tuesday, the 28th inst., at 7.40 p.m.. Young men interested in debating are invited to attend.

—The annual sacred concert of the Cambridge-st. Methodist Church choir, took place on Monday evening last, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. The audience though good, was not so large as was expected, considering the high order of talent engaged for the occasion. It is needless to say anything as to the merits of either Mrs. Caldwell or Mr. Warrington, their reputation as vocalists is widespread, and the encores and applause given on Monday evening was sufficient evidence that they were appreciated. The choir also gave several pieces which were well rendered, and showed the careful training they have received from Mrs. Howson, who played the accompaniments, as well as one or two pieces which were rendered in her usual style. The choir and indeed the officials of the church owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. Howson, for her indefatigable efforts in bringing the choir to the present high standard of efficiency, as evidenced on Monday evening.
