PRESIDENT BUMPTIOUS.

HARRISON HAS AN ATTACK OF AMUSING SPLEEN.

His Annual Message to Congress—Objection to Canada's Power in British Action—The Absurd Idea of Stopping Bonding Privileges.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Harrison has delivered his annual message to Congress. That which is interesting to Canadians is as follows:

International Relations.
"During the past year a suggestion was received through the British Minister that the Canadian Government would like to confer as to the possibility of enlarging upon terms of mutual advantage the Commercial Exchanges of Canada and the United States, and a conference was held at Washington, with Mr. Blaine acting for this Government, and the British Minister at the Capital and three members of the Dominion Cabinet acting as commissioners on the part of Great Britain.

The conference developed the fact that the Canadian Government was only prepared to offer to the United States, in exchange for the concessions asked, the admission of natural products. The statement was frankly made that favored rates could not be given to the United States as against the Mother Country.

This admission, which was foreseen, necessarily terminated the conference upon the question. The benefits of an exchange of natural products would be almost wholly with the people of Canada.

Some other topics of interest were considered in the conference, and have resulted in the making of a convention for examining the Alaska boundary and the waters of Passamaquoddy Bay, adjacent to Eastport, Me., in the initiation of an arrangement for the prohibition of fish in the coterminous and neighboring waters of our northern border.

The controversy as to tolls on the Welland Canal, which was presented to Canada at the last session by special message, having failed of adjustment, I felt constrained to exercise the authority conferred by the act of July 26, 1892, and to proclaim suspension of the free use of St. Mary's Falls Canal to cargoes in transit to Canada.

The Secretary of the Treasury established such tolls as were thought to be equivalent to the exactions unjustly levied upon our commerce in Canadian canals.

If, as we must suppose, the political relations of Canada and the disposition of the Canadian Government are to remain unchanged, a somewhat radical revision of our trade relations should, I think, be made. Our relations must be intimate, and they should be friendly.

Dislikes Canada's Protests.
I regret to say, however, that in many of the controversies, notably those as to the fisheries on the Atlantic, the sealing interests on the Pacific and the canal tolls, our negotiations with Great Britain have continuously been thwarted or retarded by unreasonable and unfriendly objections and protests from Canada. In the matter of the canal tolls, our treaty rights were flagrantly disregarded.

States. Canadian railroads compete with those of the United States for our traffic and without the restraints of the Interstate Commerce Act. The cars pass almost without detention into and out of our territory. The Canadian Pacific Railway brought into the United States from China and Japan, via British Columbia, during the year ended June 30, 1892, 24,039,689 pounds of freight and it carried from the United States to be shipped to China and Japan, via British Columbia, 24,068,346 pounds of freight. There were also shipped from the United States over this road from eastern ports of the United States to our Pacific ports during the same year 13,912,073 pounds of freight, and there were received over this road at the United States eastern ports, from ports on the Pacific coast, 13,293,315 pounds of freight. Mr. Joseph Nimmo, jr., former chief of the Bureau of Statistics, when before the Senate Committee on relations with Canada, April 26, 1890, said that "the value of goods thus transported between different points in the United States across Canadian territory probably amounts to $100,000,000 a year."

Retaliation Advocated.
There is no disposition on the part of the people or Government of the United States to interfere in the smallest degree with the political relations with Canada. That question is wholly with her own people. It is time for us, however, to consider whether, if the present state of things and trend of things is to continue, an interchange upon lines of land transportation should not be put upon a different basis, and our entire independence of Canadian canals of the St. Lawrence as an outlet to the sea secured by the construction of an American canal around the Falls of Niagara, the opening of ship communication between the great lakes and of our own seaports.

We should withdraw the support which is given to the railroad and steamship lines of Canada by a traffic that properly belongs to us, and no longer furnish the earnings which lighten the otherwise crushing weight of the enormous public subsidies that have been given to them.

Bonding Privileges.
The subject of the power of the Treasury to deal with this matter without further legislation has been under discussion, but circumstances have postponed a conclusion.

It is probable that a consideration of the propriety of a modification or abrogation of the articles of the treaty of Washington relating to the transit of goods in bond is involved in any complete solution of the question. The construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the establishment under large subventions from Canada and England of fast steamship service from Vancouver with Japan and China seriously threaten our shipping interests in the Pacific.

This line of English steamers received, as is stated by the Commissioner of Navigation, a direct subsidy of $400,000 annually, or $30,767 per trip for 13 voyages, in addition to some further aid from the admiralty in connection with contracts under which the vessels may be used for naval purposes.

The competing American Pacific mail line under the act of March 3, 1891, receives only $6389 per round trip. Efforts have been made within the past year, as I am informed, to establish under similar conditions a line between Vancouver and some Australian port with a view of seizing there a trade in which we have had a large interest.

The Commissioner of Navigation states that a very large per cent. of our imports are now brought to us by English steamships and their connecting railways in Canada.

An Unequal Contest.
With a view of promoting this trade, especially in tea, Canada has imposed a discriminating duty of 10 per cent. upon tea and coffee brought into the Dominion from the United States.

If this unequal contest between American lines, without subsidy or with diminished subsidies, and the English-Canadian line, to which I have referred, is to continue, I think we should at least see that the facilities for customs entry and transportation across our territory are not such as to make the Canadian route a favored one, and that the discrimination as to duties, to which I have referred, is not by a like discrimination as to the importation of these articles from Canada.

No subject, I think, more nearly touches the pride, the power and the prosperity of our country than the development of our merchant marine upon the sea.

If we could enter into conference with other competitors, and all would agree to withhold Government aid, we could perhaps take our chances with the rest, but our great competitors have established and maintained their lives by Government subsidies until they now have practically excluded us from participation. In my opinion no choice is left to us but to pursue, moderately at least, the same lines.

DR. BRIGGS' TRIAL.

He Is Accused of Denying the Principle That God Cannot Lie.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—In the Briggs trial yesterday Dr. Birch continued his argument. He joined the two charges, 1 and 2, which set forth Dr. Briggs' theory that the church and the reason are sources of divine authority equal with the Bible, and attacked them as contrary to the teachings of the Presbyterian standard that the Bible is the only source of divine authority.

Having attacked the authority of the scriptures there is no escape from the heresy that errors may have existed in the original text of the scriptures, and this forms the basis for a charge of heresy.

He said: "The higher criticism, as represented by the inaugural, uses the same processes as those rebuked by Christ during His early ministry. It makes the Scripture of more effect. Yet the Bible frequently speaks of itself as the Oracles of God. The church is only the trustee and guardian of the Bible.

"If Dr. Briggs alleges that errors exist in the Bible he denies the principle that God cannot lie. Dr. Briggs says that the Bible is inspired of God, therefore he must believe God capable of double dealing and misrepresentation.

"The accuracy of the scriptures is so absolute that we cannot add to nor take from it anything without destroying its unity and completeness. Christianity without a Bible is a lamp without a light and a messenger without a message."

The argument of the prosecution on the latter three charges remains to be presented. Then Dr. Briggs will be called on to answer the accusation.
