

Editorial Notes.

CETAWAYO has been returned to Zululand and contrary to expectations, met with a most enthusiastic reception.

"MURDER WILL OUT." The genuine Phoenix Park murderers have at last been traced and will shortly be apprehended when some startling developments may be expected.

GEORGE SCHERER, lessee of the hotel bar in the Newhall House, Milwaukee, was arrested last week on the charge of having set fire to the hotel. The arrest created intense excitement and much difficulty was experienced in getting the prisoner beyond the reach of the mob.

In connection with the suggestion that the next Governor General for Canada should be a Canadian, several prominent public men identified with the history of the country have been named. The last, Goldwin Smith, who in point of ability would fill the position acceptably to all parties.

The naval service of Great Britain comprises 250 ships in commission, and the contingent of officers and men of all ranks numbers about 62,000, which are maintained at an annual expense of $50,000,000. The United States have a one-tenth as many ships, and her naval force numbers about 9,000 officers and men.

Now that Gambetta of France is dead, Bismark of Germany talks of retiring from office. The third great figure in the politics of Europe. Gladstone of England, has the infirmities of age, and often refers to the retirement that he desires to enjoy. With the disappearance of these three giants from the political stage, the aspect of European statesmanship will be less picturesque than it has been for years.

It will be remembered that the deceased wife's sister Bill was passed in the Dominion Parliament last session. Some members of the Senate appealed to Her Majesty's Government to have the measure disallowed. Intimation has been received that Her Majesty's advisers will not disallow the Bill, which now goes into effect; and a man may now marry a whole family of sisters, if he likes, providing the previous one is "deceased" before the sister comes on the stage.

In the House Mr. Parkhill enquired whether it is the intention of the Government during the present session to introduce any legislation for the lowering of the waters of Lake Simcoe and Couchiching? Mr. Mowat said there was legislation last session with a view to meet such a case as that mentioned. It provided that counties should have power to do the necessary work at the expense of the property owners who would benefit by it. It was doubtful whether the Local Legislature had power to reduce the height of water in the lakes, but they had proceeded as far as possible.

CONSIDERING the unusual success of the last harvest and its promise of a prosperous season's business, the stringency of money in this locality is surprising. Our business men inform us that "money has not been so tight" with them for years as at present. This fact is having quite a depressing effect on trade and those who looked forward to a brisk winter's business have in a large measure been disappointed. What the spring may bring remains to be seen. The very low prices for grain has undoubtedly much to do with the above conditions of things, and possibly when it is found that the anticipated rise is not forthcoming things may become somewhat less strained. We hope so.

ONE of the most necessary and at the same time profitable enactments was moved in the Local Legislature on Tuesday last by Hon. Mr. Wood. The measure takes into consideration the unprotected state of the public roads from the absence of trees, and proposes to assist municipalities in the planting along the highways of suitable trees. The Government propose to give authority to the Council in any municipality to grant aid, not exceeding twenty-five cents for each tree planted, naming the kind of tree; to appoint an inspector who would inspect and report, and upon his report the County Council would be authorized to pay twenty-five cents, and on a copy of the report being sent to the treasurer the province would recoup the municipality one-half the outlay. It is estimated that when of three years' growth each tree would be worth at least three dollars. We have for years advocated the planting of shade trees along our leading roads as a preventative of blocking by snow, and the desired improvement is now within reach. Our villagers could also do much towards beautifying the place by the planting of trees and seeing that such liberal assistance will be offered, we hope to see a general planting next season. Nothing tends to beautify a village so much as a generous sowing of shade trees. To this act is due in a large measure the acknowledged beauty of most American towns, or the first thing generally provided for is the planting of trees.

Beaverton Local News.

MR. ISAAC J. GOULD, Reeve of Uxbridge, is the new Warden of the County of Ontario.

CROWS were seen quite recently flying on the Lake Shore. It is said this is a good indication of an early spring.

OWING to the severe frost the bell was not rung for two days.

MR. H. DRUMM, a student of Knox College, preached in Knox church last Sabbath. From the annual report of Georgina and North Gwillimbury Agricultural Society we learn that Mr. Angus McKinnon of Beaverton, captured $17.00 in prizes for his sheep and pigs.

NUMEROUS are the complaints heard as to the coldness of our village school. During the recent "snap" it was impossible to warm it, and in several cases children were kept from school in consequence. This is to be regretted and should certainly not be tolerated by the section.

THE coldest snap which has been experienced for years set in on Saturday evening last when the mercury dropped below zero and remained there until Wednesday morning. The lowest point touched was on Tuesday morning early when 26° was reached.

THE winter meeting of the Port Perry Trotting Association will be held on the ice at Port Perry, on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 6th and 7th. The Association was never before in so favorable a position for a successful meeting, the funds at their command are vastly greater than on any previous occasion, and many really fast horses will take part in the races. A good, practical and energetic committee may be relied on for fair, honorable and energetic management.—EX.

ABOUT two weeks ago the village was visited by a so-called blind man, giving the name of Fisk. His plan is to present his case to the most influential in a town and request the purchase of a volume of music, which he is supposed to be selling, and also obtain their name in a book carried for the purpose, which by the way contains many of the best names in the land. This book is then used to induce others to contribute, and from the number of names placed on it evidently proves very successful. Now we have not a word to say as to the plan, but it has developed through the daily papers that this man Fisk is a complete impostor, and that he has victimized successively Toronto, Cannington and Richmond Hill, as far as heard from, and it is also claimed he is not blind. It seems that since coming here he has lost his stock in trade—his book, and has been here ever since. It would be a generous act towards the public if our magistrates would interview this gentleman and determine his case for him and if found as represented, give him the benefit of the law as applied to impostors.

THE Sabbath School Anniversary sermons were preached in the Canada Methodist Church here on Sabbath, January 14th, by the Rev. J. Greener, of Lindsay. Owing to the unfavorable state of the weather the congregations were not so large as expected, but those present received a rich treat in listening to two very eloquent and appropriate discourses. On the Monday following, 15th inst., the Sabbath School children enjoyed a merry sleigh ride, after which the teachers and scholars sat down to an excellent dinner prepared for them in the church. In the evening a grand Soiree was held in the church, which was crowded to the very doors. Devs. Mr. Watson, of St. Andrew's church, Mr. Greener, of Lindsay, Mr. Burns, of Cannington, and Mr. Down, of Orillia, gave short, interesting and pithy addresses, which were interspersed by some excellent anthems sung by the church choir, led by Mr. Chas. Betcher, and it is not necessary here to state that the singing did very much credit to the leader. Several solos were sung in a masterly manner by Mrs. Armstrong, the leading soprano. This lady possesses a very fine, clear voice, and on this occasion fairly outshone all former efforts. A duett from "I Will Was" by Mrs. Armstrong and Mr. Davey, our popular basso, which was well received. Miss Drake presided at the organ. Mr. Jos. Robinson, who has only lately returned from Michigan, filled the chair in his usual happy manner. Proceeds of tea meeting reached over $50.—[COM.]
