The Nimble Lie.

To rightly estimate the work which a well-told falsehood can accomplish in a given time is perhaps among those things which do not come under the statistician's attention, at the same time there is no influence which can in so short a space disintegrate the social fabric or create such wide-spread confusion as a well-told falsehood or misrepresentation. Our readers may possibly not understand our reasons for dipping into the philosophy of falsehood nor is it a very agreeable subject for consideration, particularly when applied to those who have been looked upon as friends. Since the recent nominations and elections for the municipal council of Beaverton the editor of this journal has been made the recipient of no end of falsehood and misrepresentation by certain interested parties with a view, no doubt, of injury to us and our business. We have been pointed out as the head centre of the Scott Act prosecutions which have taken place in this village lately as well as being the source from which all the dirty remarks and foul insinuations which have from time to time been current have emanated. We have been warned that our persistence in the above course would certainly produce retaliation and in other ways we have been given to understand that we are particularly offensive to a certain class in the community. All this would not be inconsistent with our expectations if justified but when we state that we are completely innocent of each and every charge laid to our credit we must beg to be excused from quietly accepting the same. Only Wednesday last witnessed an incident which to us spoke eloquently of the position in which we have been placed, when an irate individual came into our sanctum and flourished several prosecution papers before our face and charged us with complicity in the affair. Now we beg it to be understood that although we are naturally of a peaceable disposition and little inclined to seek a "casus belli" with any, yet we are not prepared to be walked over in this arrogant and offensive manner and the sooner this fact is recognized the better it will be for all parties. This journal has never hesitated to make its views known on every question which has come before the community for consideration and in the matter of the Scott Act we have never been in a doubtful position. We believed it would accomplish much good in the temperance line if enforced and we see no reason as yet to doubt it. At the same time we have not the leisure or the inclination to make ourselves public prosecutors. We have never asked any consideration from those engaged in the whiskey business in this town nor have we ever received it, we are therefore under no obligations in any sense to them, for all that, we have never pressed our ideas in an offensive manner as we certainly might have done. We have on the other side been rewarded by a general endeavour to injure us in every way possible, and in a measure they have succeeded. We admit this, and hope it may prove a consolation to those whose influence has worked against us, at the same time we would impress on them the fact that although a lie may travel with nimble feet the truth will inevitably overtake it and the effects of falsehood injure only those who give vent to it.

Eldon.

The first meeting for the year 1888 of the municipal council of the Township of Eldon will be held at McIntyre's hotel, Lorneville, on Monday, January 16th at 11 o'clock, a. m.

There will be quite a variety of trades and professions represented in the Council of 1888. There are two merchants, one carpenter, one butcher, one miller, one manufacturer, one lawyer, one milk peddler, one gentleman, one postmaster, one doctor. There are eight Reformers and three Conservatives. Of the various denominations there are six Presbyterians, four Methodists, and one with whose beliefs we are not acquainted.—[Uxbridge Times.]

A little one year old daughter of R. Walshe, of Sunderland, while passing a vessel of hot water one day recently, stumbled and was so badly scalded that she died within a few hours.

Miss Ellen Thompson recovered from the city of Toronto $160 for a broken arm, caused by falling on an icy sidewalk.

I wish to inform you that I have been a sufferer from catarrh for a long time and have continually tried so called remedies and catarrh cures, but all to no purpose. At last I heard of Nasal Balm and was induced to try that. To my astonishment I found relief from first application, and now after two weeks use feel myself PERFECTLY and THOROUGHLY cured. Yours very truly,
HANFORD WOLHAMPTER,
General Merchant.

42 YEARS.

Steadfastly for forty-two years the WEEKLY WITNESS has held its principles which have stood the tests of time, ridicule, and of opposition, fair and unfair, and the WITNESS to-day speaks to sixty where in 1846 it spoke to one. Its growth has been both rapid and steady. Its publishers, desirous of still further increasing its circulation, have this year gone to large expense to secure a reproduction of THE LATEST MASTERPIECE of Davidson Knowles (who was selected by Queen Victoria to paint the scene at Princess Beatrice's wedding), entitled Suffer the Little Children to Come Unto Me. It depicts the memorable scene with startling realism, reproducing in oils all the richness of ORIENTAL COLORING. The painting, executed by the greatest art firm in England, would bring $1,300 if sold, but is reserved EXCLUSIVELY FOR SUBSCRIBERS to the WITNESS. The price of the WEEKLY WITNESS and picture is $1.35, the paper alone $1.00.

In 1880 the DAILY WITNESS was launched, and like the WEEKLY to advocate the same principles regardless of cost. The picture "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me" and the DAILY WITNESS, $3.25 a year; the paper alone $3.00.

The NORTHERN MESSENGER still continues to be the favorite in the home circle and Sabbath school and commencing with January 1st with new type, finer paper and other improvements, will be more attractive than ever. Prizes of books are given to friends who canvas for it. Annual subscription, 30 cents, with reductions to clubs.

Sample copies of the different publications mailed on application. Agents wanted in every town and village.
