THE WEEK'S NEWS.

HOME.

CANADIAN. An emphatic protest has been entered by the Victoria, B. C., Board of trade against the discontinuance by the Dominion Government of the steamer mail service between that city and San Francisco.

A full statement of claims on behalf of in the vessels seized in Behring's Sea during the past season, has been prepared by the Fisheries Department for presentation to the United States Government.

It is reported from Washington that the British representatives will allow American fishermen the privileges they claim in Canadian waters until such time as the dis- turkey during the past season. That's bet of Arbitration.

The Dominion Government are said to Trunk to Montreal.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court on the question of the ownership of mineral lands in the British Columbia railway belt market amounts to $4,000, while the Anarwill be appealed against to the Imperial chists memorial fund is over $30,000. This Privy Council by the Provincial Govern- is not a very flattering comment upon the ment.

It has been discovered that a conspiracy people. has existed for many years between officials lawyers by which the Provincial Treasury has been swindled out of thousands of dol-

Canada has lost $3,000,000 within the past two years through embezzlers who have escaped to the United States with the money. As American embezzlers have taken more than $20,000,000 over into the Dominion in the same period, Canada may still claim that the balance of trade is in her favor .-Philadelphia Press.

Mr. McGibbon, Inspector of North-West Indian agencies, arrived in Ottawa from Regina recently. He states that the Indians throughout the North-West are prosperous and contented and are making master. Young Singhi recognized it as an The industrial schools are working very barracks he whistled the air, until he was satisfactorily.

has been published in London, points out quickwitted. "Heard the band play it." be earned in Canada by artisans, farm labor- | was put into the band. He afterwards deers, domestic servants and everyone else serted and went to Maine, where, after who will work conscientiously and is steady earning a precarious living by shoemaking and thrifty; but there is no room for pau- and barbering, he at last got solidly estabpers, loafers, drunkards, windy agitators or lished as a musician. He was born a Rofools of any sort.

The Stonewall, Man., News says :- Arthur Mollard made a wager of $5 that he could fell, chop, split and pile five cords of wood in ten hours. He commenced work at 7.30, and exactly at 2 30 he had the whole five cords nicely piled up, thus completing the job in seven hours, and winning | both on the same day. the wager with three hours to spare. To get the five cords he was compelled to fell

45 trees. Horse car drivers receive commiseration, but they are in reality healthy men. Fresh air and regularity of life compelled by the time-table produce good results. "There is only one drawback to this business," said one driver, "and that is we don't get exer cise enough." Rheumatism is a pet trouble with the drivers, and some of them get round shouldered from the weight of the clothes of the year puts on everything he has that will go on. The editor of the War Cry, Staff Capt. A. Summer, the official organ of the Army in Canada, was interviewed by a Toronto reporter recently. He was found at the Headquarters on Albert street, the editorial room, as usual, being on one of the upper flats of the building. "Our offithe Salvation Army are short lived. Now the statement will show that it is not correct. Our officers have averaged 500 a year since the establishment of the Army in Canada, that is taking the number on duty each year and dividing that by five-the number of years in operation. This, you will see is only a little over one death in 500 each year which is above the average death rate in the Dominion, "Yes, the War Cry is published in ten or a dozen different languages. We have three offices in India for which we issue the War Cry in three different Indian dialects of the Hindostanee language. It is published in Stockholm in year. the Swedish, in Zurich and Amsterdam in in French, in Rome in Italian, also in the Danish and other languages. We have not got into Japan or China as yet, but we issue the War Cry in New Zealand, South Africa, Australia, Van Dieman's Land, and in the United States in San Francisco and New York. So you see the paper of the Salvation Army is pretty well circulated. Up to this navigate the lower river. week we have published the War Cry in French in Toronto for circulation in Lower | lege. Comstantinople, writes to The New Canada. The French name of the paper is | York Independent :- There is certainly a En "Avant?" We are moving it to Montreal where it will be issued hereafter."

UNITED STATES.

W. K. Vanderbilt owns the English estate of John Hampden, famous as the foe of crowns and the friend of commonalty.

fed in a coffin made from the wood of a there was then. But in England the change cherry tree which he planted for this pur- is wonderful. An American is no longer a rose 60 years ago. In a Virginia newspaper of thirty years woman to two years' imprisonment for teaching slaves to read. A Michigan boy who had 1,000 buttons on a string explained it by saying that his sgo is a long account of the sentence of a father is a minister and "has the sorting of the collection basket." Congressman Townsend, of Illinois, has introduced in the House of Representatives

a bill for the creation of an American zollverein, to include Canada. Owners of vessels seized in Behring's Sea sie said to have prepared claims against the An erican Government for $500,000 damages, lut they have not yet filed them at Washirgton. He claims that it will be indestructible homes in the States which they represent, ther by fire or by shock. Such a car is and Senator Stanford has a half dozen homes "How do you like it?" "Oh, I guess I kin by which she escapes much of the oppression ed away, and it should be the aim of legisreeded.

A young woman of Bangor, Me., who had been forbidden by a jealous suitor to go to a dance with a rival, had the jealous swain arrested and lodged in a cell, and she went to the dance with the other fellow.

Coffee John, the proprietor of a Minneapolis restaurant, on a bet of $10, recently ate 500 oysters in two hours. He ate 125 raw, 125 stewed and 250 steamed, and finished with thirteen minutes to spare.

A St. Paul man sued a railroad company for damages for causing his house to be flooded with water. One of the exhibits in the plaintiff's evidence was a photograph repre senting him seated on a huge cake of ice in his dining room.

Turkeys pay in Vermont-when everyhing goes well. A Green Mountain farmer made a net profit of $40.50 from a single hen pute is terminated by the proposed Board | ter than raising wheat, or cattle-if you have enough turkeys.

One who has had a great deal of experihave ordered the Customs officials at Mani- ence with crazy people, says that insanity is toba boundary ports not to grant re-entry specially prevalent in December and June. certificates to persons desiring to ship grain | We fail to see the connection. of course, over the American railways and the Grand but have noticed that the number of weddings is unusually large in those months.

The fund to build a monument to the policemen murdered at the Chicago Haypublic spirit and gratitude of the American

Half a dozen book agents were arraigned of the Montreal Court-house and certain before a Pennsylvania judge for obtaining money through false pretences. The judge held that they had done no more than to tell lars by old law stamps being used over again. falsehoods in order to sell their goods, and that the law would not warrant him in imprisoning them for plain, ordinary lying.

There recently died in Rockland, Me., an Italian musician, F. A. D. Singhi, whose of Russia life was not of the ordinary. He was when a boy apprenticed to an image peddler of Lucca, and with him crossed Europe on foot with a load of images on his head. Un reaching England he run away with and enlisted in the English army and was sent to Canada. While the regiment was at Quebec the band played a selection, widely advertised as the composition of the bandwonderful progress in agricultural pursuits. old Italian melody. That evening at the interrupted by the bandmaster, who asked Prof. Sheldon's work on Canada, which him where he heard that. The Italian was that a good living and something more may he said. The leader was pleased and Singhi man Catholic, became a Methodist and died a Swedenborgian.

FOEIGN.

A blessed old age was the lot of a couple named Beyer at Weimar, Germany. They were near the sixty fifth anniversary of their wedding day when death released them

Two more divisions of Russian troops are to be moved to the Galician frontier. Austria has made railway arrangements by which she can send an ample force to the front in twenty-four hours.

The Czar, in his congratulatory telegram, hopes that the Pope will enable him to harmonize the needs of the Roman Catholic Church in Russia with the fundamental principles of his empire.

Turkey owes Russia $20,000,000 and can't they wear, for a driver during seven months pay the deht. Russia wants the cash and must have it. There's your Eastern question in a pint cup, and Russia is bound to have a leg of Turkey early in the spring.

It is stated that Pope Leo's jubilee gifts include 60,000 chasubles, 12,000 cups, 8,000 crucifixes and a great quantity of other ecclesiastical properties which will be exhibited. Their value is estimated at $15,000,000.

cers are increasing at the rate of about two land in his dominions, and fixes taxes, rents do in the imperial family. Nicholas re- commiseration. And yet, even when ignor- old as he. The German emperor is 90, Dr. hundred a year," said the Editor when ask- and impost as he. from year to year, may mained obdurate, and finally appealed to the ance is offered as an excuse, do we not feel Dollinger is 88, Moltke and Bancroft, the ed about the progress of the army. "We deem fit. His subjects obey without ques- Czar, and induced him as the head of the there should be an instinctive sense of pro- historian, are each 87, Kossuth is 85, and had our eighth death among our officers to- tioning his motive or wisdom, and are family to give his consent to the match. day. Some people say that the officers of generally quiet and easily satisfied. Oc. need scarcely be said that the marriage will casionally, however, they awake from their be a morganatic one. The imperial bridelethargy, and then are the most determined groom is 31 years of age and the bride is 40. and dangerous rebels in the world.

> The London Economist and other British financial journals declare that the speculative activity in England just now is greater than at any time previously since 1879. "Good times" often come without unusual activity in the speculative markets, but speculation seldom comes without "good times." The prospects in England, as in the United States, are that general trade will be active during a large part, if not of all, the coming

The fact that fifteen to twenty-five German, in Wales in the Welsh, in Paris steamers a month are now arriving at the mouth of the Congo, illustrates the growth of commerce in that region since Stanley showed the importance of the great river. One ocean steamer has already ascended the river to Boma, fifty miles from the sea, and the best channels are being marked'by buoys, so that deep-draught vessels may safely

Dr. George Wasburn, of the Robert Colgrowing sympathy with America in England. I have seen more and more of it every time I have been there since my first visit, more than thirty years ago. There is not much change on the Continent, I am not sure they like us as well as they did thirty years ago. There is certainly more abuse George Miller, of Akron, O., will be bur- of America in the Continental papers than stranger there, and the essential unity of the Anglo Saxon race has become a popular and that the nuisance could not be borne. dogma. The peaceful arbitration commission which went to America this year was simply | islature in favor of enforcing celibacy among an outcome of the popular feeling.

Most of the very rich men of the day have three or four houses each, which they keep thoroughly furnished and ready for occupation at a moment's notice. James Gordon Bennett jumps from Paris to New York without notice and he always finds a fire lighted in his bedroom and his cooks have the daintiest viands on his table. Jay Gould can gravitate between Fifth avenue and Irvington, and United States Secretary Whitney has one house in New York, one in Washington city, one at Grasslands near the President's country home and another at the seashore. Almost all of the million-A New York State Yankee proposes to aire United States Senators keep up estabmike a railroad car entirely of wood pulp. lishments in Washington as well as at the any one of which would satisfy a prince.

OUR SPECIAL CABLE.

Lord Randolph and the Czar-The Emperor William's I'lness-The Czar's Troubles -A Typical London Fog.

LONDON, Jan. 17-Doughty little Lore Randolph Churchill has shown signs of brothers and sisters, and their pleasant, merry mounting a high horse again. He has been treated in Russia with such distinguished consideration by the Czar and many of the Grand Dukes. Princes, and nobles that he is in danger of losing his head. If we may trust reports from St Petersburg, his lord ship has been won over completely to the Rusaian side, and is going about declaring hat Lord Salisbury shall never join the central alliance.

Mr. Gladstone is prolonging his stay in Florence, and is having a most cheerful time. His health and strength are increasing rapidly, and the excitable Italians continue to demonstrate on every possible occasion in his honor. He receives many visits, returns few, sees literary men especially, and gains their hearts by proving that he knows all about their work, and by always marching off to get their last book if he happens not to have it.

In erest is concentrated now on the probable tate of Ferdinand, the self-made Prince of Bulgaria. It looks as though a crisis was really coming in that young man's effairs. There is every indication that he will not be able to last until spring, for Germany has turned once more violently against him to accertuate the lovemaking between Bis marck and the Czar, and Ferdinand has nothing to rely upon save a most faint hearted support from Austria, support which is only moral, and which is based solely on hatred

No one is more surprised than his doctors at | to come in contact with it. his marvellous hold upon life, and while it | No doubt persons to whom this disagreedoctor Morell Mackenzie, whose advice effort will be made, and persisted in, to diswho wished to resort to an operation, have caused a permanent cure. It is even | thing connected with their own history in to appear in Berlin. There is no important | Often it is very evident that nothing wrong change in the condition of the Crown Prince. Bulletins are issued constantly, and the to decide how to reply to the doctors express conflicting opinions, but that is all. The Prince speaks resignedly, and shows that he is alive to the interests of his people by expressing the hope that the social world in Berlin may not be mov ed by his illness to suspend its festivities, and thus injure the already not overprosperous tradesmen. The Czar, in the midst of his other troubles, has just had to decide a delicate terms, and with a freedom that would be family matter. Duke Nicholas, his cousin, and one of his aids de camp, has fallen in is a class, to be sure, who really know no love with a middleaged widow. That would not have been anything very unusual for a Russian Grand Duke to do, but Nicholas ample or teaching to rouse them to a sense went further. He actually insisted on Gossip has already coupled the names of young royalties, including Princess Louise of Wales and Grand Duke Michael, the youngest brother of the Czar, Princess Victoria of Wales and the Duke of Sparta, heir to the throne of Greece, and the Prince of Wales's eldest son, who will be King of England some day, to Princes Alexandria, the eldest daughter of the King of Greece.

This big city has just escaped from a week of the most typical sort of London fog. Twenty omnibuses were lost on Tuesday in the borough on the Surrey side of London Bridge and bumped around dismally for hours in total darkness with their loads of terrified passengers, who dared not quit their only asylum. Everything movable has been running into everything else. Traffic on the river has been stopped, commerce of the natural familiarity which springs out and health have suffered, and theives alone have prespered. The keeper of the Zoological Garden monkey house announces solemply this morning in his report to the When held in check by that genuine good Board that his monkeys are suffering from severe mental depresssion. If such is the case with our ancestors you can readily imagine how we feel who have not the resource on foggy days of swinging by long prehen-sile tails, or of eating nuts with four hands. An attempt to tyrannize a young woman has just been made in lower Austria, which will arouse the indignant sympathy of thousands of young women in Canada. The school marms all went and married just as A bill was actually introduced into the Legfemale school teachers. The bill was rejected two days ago, after an interesting and school mistresses contended that it was with the hope of marrying that lots of good girls went into the school-teaching business, and that to cut off the bright hope of marriage would be to keep many bright girls out of the school room altogether.

Old man calling down the stairs to man in the parlor which he prefers for breakfast, mili rolls or Vienna bread.

"Ah, my son," said the minister. "I'm glad to see you in the Sunday School at last. Is this your first Sunday?" "Yes, sir. stand it until after the Christmas tree."

Mrs. Beecher on Familiarities that Breed Confempt.

It is hardly possible that the young can understand or will accept the old maxim that " familiarity breeds contempt" with favor. To their young hearts the term " familiarity" is only associated with real friendships -- the endearments and unre stricted exhibitions of sweet confidences and affection between parents and children, home life. As , general thing they know brings, the beartaches that come when those most trusted are proved false, whose protestations of undying love and confidence be only the guise to inveigle and deceive for their own selfish ends. All this sad know ledge is not common to youth, nor is a judgment, born of experience, easily at tained who can teach them to distinguish between the true and the false.

Few, unfortunately, however, barely reach the early stages of maturity without being compelled to recognize the correctness of this old and homely adage. Too great familiarity, even with the nearest and most intimate friends, may not always be wise or desirable or lead to the happiest results, and beyond a certain line it is a license that refined and

WELL-MANNERED I BOPLE NEVER VENTURE UPON.

It is a fault that is very liable to spring up in childhood, and is, at that early age, looked upon as rather more amusing than an noying, so that in its first stages it is passed by with little notice-merely a childish foi ble. But if this aggressive element is developed in early youth and is allowed to take root and gather strength, until the child is supposed to reach years of discretion, it becomes a settled habit of the most Reports from Berlin announce an improve- offensive nature, especially to persons of rement in the condition of the aged Emperor, finement and delicacy. If parents who, but the improvement is only slight, and un through that unreasonable fondness for fortunately his illness has left signs of men- their children are never able to recognise tal deterionation. A friend writing from any faults, could be sufficiently roused to that kindles the home fire, fond and loving. the Berlin court informs me of a most dis- see in a little child whereunto this habit is tressing and curious result of the Emperor's | inevitably tending, and honestly labor to | never degenerates into that over familiarity malady. He has lost entirely the faculty eradicate that ou insity by which a child is that is the bane to the best and noblest of counting figures in any shape. Prices | led to pry into matters that are the personand the value of morey do not convey the al rights of others, it would soon be held in slightest meaning to his mind, although on restraint and rooted out. But if they blindother topics he is quite hime If. Morphia ly suffer this undesirable trait to take root in large dores was administered during the and gather strength, as the child goes on last illness to reduce exhausting pain and towards maturity, it will then be hard, if procure sleep, but the wenderful old man | not impossible, to eradicate it, and it must always awoke smiling and quite conscious. | become offensive to all who are compelled is expected that some morning he may fail able trait has become a deeply seated habit to wake up at all, the recuperative power have many desirable traits. Kind-hearted which he has already displayed is most as. | to all, it may be, honest and true in all their tonishing. It is universally believed in Ber- dealings, yet few, knowing this weakness in injurious. It is a coarse representation and lin, my correspondent writes, that the their character care to associate with them, Crown Prince is doomed beyond all hope, feeling that it would be impossible to be and a most bitter feeling exists there against near them any length of time before the overruled that of the German surgeons, cuss your own private affairs in the most familiar style, ready, to be sure, to make which, though extremely dangerous, might | full exchange, and open before you everysaid that it would be unsafe for Mackenzie | the most intimate and confidential manner. is intended, and therefore one is at a loss

UNCEASING TORRENT OF INQUIRIES.

There are, however, specimens of overfamiliarity that deserve to be met only by open contempt. What more embarrassing and exasperating than in a public convey- by marriage need to exercise all the gentleance, where, where escape is impossible ness and forbearance, the courtesy and without attracting attention, to have a affectionate politeness that they possess, perfect stranger begin to ask questions and increased and purified by careful nurture. make remarks as it on the most intimate scarcely tolerated in one's own family? There better, who have lived where there was little opportunity for improvement, or any exof the gross impropriety of such liberties. priety sufficient to withhold even a hea-

However charitably one may endeavor to look on such peculiarties, it is pitiable to feel how barren that mind must be, how little man life. Of sovereigns, the Pope is 77, food for thought it must possess, that finds excitement or interest in asking how many well on his 71st year. Of state-men, Mr. yards are used in the dress of a perfect Gladstone will be 79 this month, Mr. Bright stranger with whom they are not likely ever is 76, Prince Bismarck is 72, M. Jules Grevy to meet again, how much the lady gave for is 74, M. Leon Say and M. Leroyer are each it, what size shoes she wears, how many 71; Lord Selborne is 75, Sir Rutherford Alpairs she buys a year, and an interminable | cock is 78, Lord Sherbrooke is 76, and Lord list of inquiries of a similar character.

and have been put through the same or a it is not an uncommon thing.

BUT THERE IS ANOTHER AND WORSE SIDE to over-familiarity which can cause pain too acute for any feeling of contempt, the abuse of the closest family relations. Nowhere else are the laws of good society, if we look no higher, so often set aside or overlooked. breeding and politeness which springs from a sensitive conscience and a pure and noble heart, the familiarity of family love and home relations becomes a playful tenderness that leaves no sting and causes no heartache. But love is often a vain show, instead of a bond to hold the family together the very tenderest of all home relations is viewed as furnishing a license for impoliteness and neglect such as none would dare to approach overcoat. There is considerable warmth in heads of schools there complained that voung a stranger with far less an intimate. "Is a newspaper, that's a fact. Many a man it not my wife? Is it not my child? Who they were getting experienced and useful, shall dare dispute my right to do what I will article in a newspaper; and at such times he

with my own?" If the head of the family -its rulerspeaks unkindly, it is because the bonds that bind them together are his safeguard very humorous debate. The friends of the in family pride, in part, but stronger than during which time the drivers are encamped love that seeks to hide all errors. The wife | cause of the extraordinary price is the scaror daughter, and sometimes sister are often city of vessels to carry the coal. If San spoken to by the "gentleman" of the house Francisco had a northern winter it would as he would not dare to speak to any other woman, however insignificant. But more

> particularly in this BRUTE SENSE OF OWNERSHIP

that other members of the family are expos- lators to restore this class.

ed to. The restraints of society often prove a stronger protection to the wife from her husband's irritabilityand unjust censures, than his professed affection for her. And more's the pity ! It is often the case that polite, deferential attentions will be more frequently profferred outside the family circle than from her husband. Do any need to be told whereunto this tends? The daily papers are full of what may follow.

But cruel, unpatural and mean as this is, it is not always confined to the masculine in little of life except its rose tinted side. The the household. We wish that we could rough and stone places which adversity prove that a lady never "answers back," when "reviled, revileth not again," never returns railing for railing, a sharp retort for a bitter word,, or meets discourtesy with and free and easy approaches, are found to | equal neglect and indifference. We blush to acknowledge that

> THE WIFE IS PERHAPS AS OFTEN RESPONSIBLE for the beginning of evil in this respect as her husband. Public opinion has as strong hold on her as on a man-even stronger, as woman has more of that kind of pride which holds her back from the open exhibition of the irritation that is driving her almost furious than a man. She will not allow the public gossips to hold her up to the gaze of the world if self-restraint is possible.

But all the courtesy and amiability, the deference and respectful attention exhibited in public or to friends outside, are worthless to man or woman it the same is not more earnestly extended to each in the sacred precincts of home. Love that shines in the most kindly acts, respectful attentions, quick to see what may be needed or gratifymg-the most perfect courtesy at home or nowhere. All that is found outside should be but the overflow of that which is unchanging and perpetual in the charmed circle of home. There is where we must seek for the true lady and gentleman. If not fully developed and sacredly maintained there prominently exhibited elsewhere, the sentiment is spurious—a counterfeit. Tenderness may be the exhibition of that spirit which is

THE SPARK FROM GOD'S ALTAR

and carressing as may be its revelation, it

If young people, whether brothers and sisters, husbands and wives, would but give this idea respectful attention, look at it candidly instead of calling it sentimental talk ; if before they quite decide to throw it aside as of no importance they would look around them, not governed by gossiping reports, but by what is going on daily right before their eyes, if they would candidly examine life as it moves on around them they would soon guard against that familiarity which they cannot but see is not the true diamond ; it destroys true refinement, develops the coarser, harder parts of their character, breeds not only contempt, but in the end inevitable coldness and estrangement. This idea once accepted as true, how soon we should see a large increase of refinement, genuine politeness-the gennine gentleman and lady. We should find them wearing these higher and more noble attainments more as an every-day working garment than a fancy dress only exhibited at parties, balls and state occasions, and then folded up and locked out of sight, never more to be paraded till needed for public exhibition.

Those bound together by natural ties or

MRS. HENRY WARD BEECHER.

Old Men.

Recently M. Ferdinand de Lesseps ce'el brated the anniversary of his birthday, and entered upon his 83rd year. He can look around him and see but very few men of The Emperor of China owns every foot of marrying the lady. There was a great to For such one can find some excuse and some anything like equal eminence, who are as Professor Owen is 83; but it is not easy to extend the list. Yet it is astonishing to note the large number of living great men who have passed the ordinary limit of huand King William, of the Netherlands, is Granville is 72. Of generals: MacMahon Does any one think such things seldom is 79, Lebouf is 78, and Bazaine and Cialdini happen? A great mistake! We have lis- are each 76. Of poets: Lord Tennyson is tened to similar questions when travelling, 78, Mr. Browning is 75, and Dr. Oliver Wendell Homes is 78. Of musicians : Verdi similar catechism often enough to know that | is 73 Of engineers: Lord Armstrong is 77, and Sir John Hawkshaw is 76. Of painters: Meissonier is 72, and finally, of showmen, Barnum is 77. Perhaps, however, M. Chevreul, who is fairly started on his 102nd year ought not to be omitted. In any case, the catalogue is far from being a complete one. As it stands, it is sufficiently remarkable. We have mentioned the names of thirtythree persons, the average age of each being over 78. It may be doubted whether, in the history of the world, thirty-three men of as considerable celebrity, and of as great average length of life, have ever before been alive at one time.

> Au exchange says that a folded newspaper placed under the coat in the small of the back is an excellent substitute for an has become heated by simply reading an wants to make it hot for the editor, too.

Coal is twenty dollars a ton in San Francisco. When a coal vessel is due the coal carts assemble on the wharf and await its There is a sense of security from exposure arrival, the delays sometimes covering days, all else is the knowledge of the womanly in close proximity to these vehicles. The not be a good place to be poor in.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, during a visit to Baltimore, in some remarks to the graduate students of John Hopkins University, dedaughter at 11.55 p. m.-Clara! Daughter | manifested to his wife. A brother finds no clared his inability to agree with Mr. -Yes, papa. Old man-Ask that young particular pleasure in talking sharp or domi- George's theory of land tax, as it was in neering over his sister. He is well aware effect robbery of a large number of people of she may resent it, and retort even more their property. But there should be some sharply than he addressed her. For a improvement in the methods of land holddaughter, a father, unless lost to all sense ing. The fine race of peasantry that were of shame, has usually a peculiar tenderness in Europe during the Middle Ages has pass-