

The Woodville Advocate.

JOS. J. CAVE, Editor.

WOODVILLE, MARCH 12, 1882.

The Sunday liquor law is disregarded in Orillia, and the Packet says:—Some of our youths are sowing the seed of a harvest of misery to themselves and their friends.

The township of Rama as represented by its Council have recorded the following resolution anent the proposed new County:—"In answer to the communication received from the Clerk of Mara requesting this Council to cooperate with the Council of Mara in protesting against the proposed new County,—this Council cannot cooperate or concur with the views entertained by the Council of Mara; as it is the united opinion of this Council, that a new County, with Orillia County Town, would be of very great and immense benefit, not only to this, but to all the other townships the new County would be composed of.

NOTICE is given that application will be made to Parliament for an Act authorizing a company to build a railway between Montreal and a point on Lake Simcoe, near Beaverton, via West Winchester, Perth, and Smith's Falls, and north from Lake Simcoe to a point on Lake Nipissing near South East Bay, and south to Toronto, and west to Detroit, to be called the Dominion Air Line. This scheme has been under consideration before. We hope to see it granted if its construction is really intended. It would give a very desirable through line to the ocean, just what Ontario is now wanting.

The persecution of the Jews in Russian Poland still continues in all its barbarous atrocity. The terrible indignities and sufferings to which these forsaken "people of God" have been subjected at the hands of their Slavonic masters has its parallel, in modern times, only in the Bulgarian atrocities of the late Russo-Turkish strife. In no other country making any professions of civilization could such heartless persecution have been tolerated, and that too, with the passive consent of the authorities. From the accounts of Jewish refugees who have fled from Kief to England it appears that the most inhuman tortures have been inflicted, and the most unblushing indignities heaped upon these poor sons of Israel. The Government Commission having charge of the Jewish question recommend the expulsion of the Jews from all villages, but that they be permitted to settle in towns having a certain population, provided they are prohibited from trading in spirits or collecting parish taxes. They will be deprived of the right of civil registration, and forbidden to communicate with foreign Jewish associations and there will also be separate schools for Jewish children.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.—On Monday evening last a social was held at Mr. Robert Ringland's residence by a few of his friends and admirers. Mr. Ringland intends leaving here shortly, and going to the North-West. The meeting was called to order and Mr. John Ashman called upon to read the subjoined address. Mr. John Barker presented Mr. Ringland with a handsome Bible and a hymn book. Mrs. C. Connor then presented Mrs. Ringland with a beautiful set of China dishes in behalf of her lady friends of her class, and Mr. John Ringland sr., was presented with a beautiful silk handkerchief. The following is the address read to Robert Ringland and family:—DEAR FRIENDS,—We the members of your class, in presenting to you a few little presents desire to accompany them with such an expression of our regard for you as we have thought might be suitable for the present occasion. To attempt to translate our hearts and give you a true version of our feelings would be simply to attempt the impossible. You may believe us, dear friends, when we tell you that no language that we could command would adequately express the esteem in which you are held by the members of your class, and the congregation with which you have long worshipped. We tender you these tokens of our affection not as an acquaintance of any portion of the debt of gratitude we owe you, but as a kind of recognition of your personal worth and the excellent services you have rendered us. We entreat of you to accept of these little things in that light only, being convinced as we are that you will derive more satisfaction from the assurance that we have a high appreciation of you, than from any gift we could at present possibly present to you. We wish also to impress you with the fact that though you will be in the "Great Lone Land" and far away from our sight you will not be out of our minds. We shall remember you in our homes, in our social gatherings and especially shall we remember you at the "Throne of Grace." Praying that God may be with you and bless you and make you a blessing, we thus take our affectionate leave of you. Signed in behalf of the class,

JOHN ASHMAN.

Mr. Ringland made a suitable reply. Having done justice to the good things provided by the ladies the company passed a social evening and dispersed about midnight.
