

POETRY.

Dead Kathleen.

(An Irish Lament, by Mary M. Shaw.)
The bright sun is shining, the sweet flowers are budding;
The young birds are warbling their music to all;

Awake, my beloved; awake, thou fair dreamer;
Ab, hearest thou not the one cry of my heart?
My passionate kisses but echo in silence;

Can this be my Kathleen, so changed and so silent?
So cold that it seems she's but playing a part?
My whispers of love once could wake the swift blushes;

Love's pleadings now fail to arouse her dull heart.
Ah! I see thy brightness, and birds hush their music;
And hovers, her sweet emblems, bow each mournful head;

Farewell, my beloved! farewell, my heart's dearest.
My fond, faithful dove flown so soon from her nest;
My heart's in the grave, and my thoughts are in heaven.

A Futile Effort.

One might fancy indeed that the feminine muse
Could respond to no theme but of lovers and love.
I shall claim the reverse, and a subject will choose

I shall never allude to the moon or the night,
For even the stork referred to above
Might succumb in these days at the ravishing sight

"Magnetic emotions" discretion refuses,
(Though prized by the gushing and young) and to prove
My mission accomplished—O, bother the muses!

Healthy Home Life.

Much of the ill-health so common in our day
Is the result of a partial or total disregard
Of the condition of health in our home life.

A MAN OF MANY ALIASES.

Sir Everard Neivelle Turns out to be the Son of a Hamilton Butcher.

CHEQUERED CAREER IN CANADA AND OTHER STATES.

The coachman of Mr. C. J. Whitney, who, under the name of Sir Charles Everard Neivelle, won the heart of Miss Lillian Whitney, and induced her to elope with him, has had a career in Canada and the United States for which few parallels can be found.

Mr. Hulme, a son-in-law of C. J. Whitney, arrived in Toronto from Detroit last night to secure evidence against the man, and to-day will search the prison records to get the date of his conviction.

THE BIGAMIST IN BELLEVILLE.

About five years ago "Sir Charles Everard" was in Belleville. He was accompanied thither by a woman purporting to be his wife (and no doubt she imagined that she was).

HIS REAL NAME AND ANTECEDENTS.

The detectives are all astray in their pre-ent discoveries of the name and origin of the bigamist. His name is George R. Newbold, and he is the son of a Hamilton butcher of that name who, some twelve or thirteen years ago, kept a small shop on James street north.

INTERVIEW WITH THE PRISONER.

Whitney's daughter went to Toledo yesterday with Lawyer George W. Moore and Mrs. Fred O. Whitney to see if something could not be learned from Neivelle, who thus far has stubbornly refused to tell anything of his past history.

CLAIMS TO BE SIR ROGER TICHBOURNE.

He said his mother was living in England and thinks him dead. He and the celebrated claimant were in the English army together; they were drummed out for tarring and feathering a comrade.

MARRIED TWICE IN THIS COUNTRY.

but said he had been divorced each time. He says he met Miss Shaw, the woman who came to Detroit with him, at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., but denies that she was married to her.

ing the town as a book agent. He was arrested on the charge of false pretences, but his wife and mother-in-law settled matters. From there Percy went to Jersey City and married the daughter of a rich man, he then going by the name of Perry.

MENTAL ABERRATION OF MISS WHITNEY.

That the genuine and spontaneous sympathy bestowed on Mr. Whitney, his unhappy daughter, and all the members of his family are well placed, has been demonstrated by evidences of mental aberration on the part of Miss Whitney.

Aid to the Injured.

- 1. Bites of all sorts are painful, and if not treated with expedition and skill they sometimes prove very dangerous.
2. One seldom if ever gets a bite when out fishing.
3. If about to be bitten by a dog, while serenading or foraging in a melon patch, immediately take some violent exercise in order to preserve a good circulation.

A Paralytic Who Can Use a Tricycle.

For 15 years the city wigher of Salem has suffered with paralysis in both legs, making it impossible for him to walk unaided or to lift his legs, and even with the aid of a crutch it was exceedingly hard to drag himself along.

Attractive Girls.

Any girl, by baths and wholesome food, and by breathing pure air, can render her complexion clear and soft. With care her hair, teeth and nails can be daintily kept.

Cool.

"Please, sir, can't you give me an old coat?" asked a mendicant of a wealthy merchant. As the mendicant had formerly been the servant of the merchant, the latter said:

One of Lord Beaconsfield's peacocks died at the same time as its master and its carcase was given to a hanger on about the place, who made a small fortune by selling feathers from the tail.

Kitcheen girls are now termed "young ladies of the lower parlor." People who go about grinding knives, scissors and razors are termed "gentlemen of revolutions."

The last gibbet erected in England was for George Cook, a bookbinder, of Leicester, who was executed for the murder of Mr. Paas, a London commercial traveller.

One of Lord Beaconsfield's peacocks died at the same time as its master and its carcase was given to a hanger on about the place, who made a small fortune by selling feathers from the tail.

DRIVING OF THE DEEPS.

Queer speculations by a Writer on the Great Lakes. (Letter in Montreal Witness.)

These large bodies of water include twenty degrees of longitude west from Quebec to the head of Lake Superior, and cover in their course seven and a half degrees of latitude from Cleveland, Ohio, on Lake Erie, to St. Ignace, on Lake Superior, not reckoning Rainy Lake and Lake of the Woods, which extend two degrees further west, but still belong to the eastern drain.

In view of the gradual but certain diminishing of the waters of this section of country the following will show its effects on the great lakes:

Thus Lakes Superior, Huron, Michigan and Ontario would have a fall to the ocean till reaching the "bottom below" depths as indicated above.

Lake Erie could be drained at any time if the supply was cut off and the outlet deepened, which is now in process of being accomplished by the Niagara river wearing a deep channel into the lake.

The depot of the waters is, therefore, the two great lakes Huron and Michigan, lying north and south, and uncertain whether to pour their waters by a northerly or southerly outlet.

In former ages a great river must have flowed from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi, by way of the Illinois river, the wide bottom lands and high bluffs above and below Peoria show its bed, nor would it now be a difficult work to make an outlet in that direction.

In event of such changes being effected, Lake Ontario and tributary rivers would be the sole feeders of the St. Lawrence till the Ottawa joins in Lake St. Francis. Cut off from the supply by the Niagara, how would the St. Lawrence be affected? Much, no doubt, would depend on the magnitude of the supply from Lake Huron, and Canada would have an advantage over the United States with a better or more defined fall from the greater depression of the section of country between the lakes and the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Warts Made for the Mahdi.

An Austrian dealer in wild animals, writing from Kasasla to friends in Vienna, gives some information about the Mahdi whom he knows personally, and with whom he has frequently transacted business.

Corn Raising.

It may surprise the good people of Canada to learn that the corn crop has been immensely increased in Canada. No doubt the N. P. people will claim this as a product of protection; but PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR alone is entitled to all the credit.

There is no Judge on the English, Irish or Scotch bench who has attained the distinction won by Judge Daly, of New York, of having held the judicial office for forty years. The nearest to it is Lord Fitzgerald, from 1862 to 1892, a Judge of the Irish Queen's Bench, and since a Lord of Appeal. He is 67 years of age. Judge Daly is 68.

Have You Thought About It?

Why suffer a single moment, when you can get immediate relief from all internal and external pains by the use of Polson's NERVILINE, the great pain cure. Nerville has never been known to fail in a single case; it cannot fail, for it is a combination of the most powerful pain subduing remedies known.

The goat plague in the recently inundated districts along the Mississippi is causing much suffering and loss. The goats assail animals weakened by hunger, and, crawling into their mouths and nostrils, sting them to death. They have been known to kill men, even.

—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was first prepared in liquid form only; but now it can be sent in dry forms by mail to points where no druggist can readily be reached, and to-day the Compound in lozenges and pills finds its way even to the foreign climes of Europe and Asia.

A school not twenty miles from Lancaster is presided over by a cross-eyed teacher. A few days ago he called out, "That boy I am looking at will step out on the floor." Immediately 27 lads walked out in front of the astonished pedagogue.

Womankind.

One of the successful druggists of New Orleans is a woman.

New York city has twenty-five widows whose wealth is estimated at from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 each.

It is said that among the wives of Utah there may be found women from nearly every nation except France.

What promised to be a pure love match was broken off the other day when a Philadelphia man discovered that his intended bride had used four eggs in making a pie when eggs were 45 cents a dozen. After worrying about it for a week he concluded that a woman so extravagant would bankrupt him in five years.

In 1848, John Hallock, of Monroe, N.Y., left his young wife. She never saw him nor heard from him again. Last week she saw in an Elmira paper a notice of the death of John Hallock, a wealthy citizen, whose death was a great loss to the community, as it was to his wife and children. She repaired straightway to Spencer, and found that the dead man was her husband. She now claims his estate.

There is a man who knows how to play on two corners at once. The neighbors say they don't object to his knowing how, but he had better not try to do it.

A fashion exchange remarks that "raised figures have an excellent effect." If this refers to the figures on cheques and bank bills the editor of the Fashion Plate is as much out of his latitude as Mark Twain was when editing an agricultural journal. The effect of raised figures generally is to get the raiser retired from fashionable society.
