

THE DOMINION ELECTIONS.

The result of the Dominion Elections held on Tuesday, resulted as expected, in the Government being sustained by a large majority. The returns as published are not yet reliable, many counties not having been officially heard from. The result as now ascertained gives a Conservative majority in the House of 66. British Columbia and Manitoba elections are yet to take place, but it is expected will not materially alter the result. The following are the returns for North and South Victoria and North Ontario:—

NORTH VICTORIA.
Mr. Hector Cameron has a majority of 265, with Dalton Settlement and Snowdon yet to hear from, which will probably bring his majority to 300.

The crop reports of Europe generally give a promise of an abundant crop this year. The weather lately has been very fine.

ACCORDING to his expressed wish the body of Garibaldi is to be cremated. The Chamber of Deputies of Italy are providing funds for the necessary apparatus.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will be opened for traffic between Prince Arthur's Landing and Winnipeg on the 1st of July. The last rail on this section of the road was laid on Saturday last.

The British House of Lords have refused the second reading of the Bill to legalize Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister, by 128 to 132. The Prince of Wales and several other very prominent and influential personages lent their influence for its passage, but it was resisted.

A good harvest will do more than anything else to avert the crisis which financial men look upon as inevitable. It will stave it off for a year at any rate, and that will give the country breathing time, and thus enable it to take in sail. The words of warning that have been uttered should be laid to heart by commercial men in all parts of the country, so when the storm breaks they will not be altogether unprepared for it. Matters have been tending in the same direction in the United States. These commercial crises come in cycles, and we are gradually nearing the time when the next one is due.—Telegram.

It seems a strange thing that, between Canada and the United States, there should not be some more simple and certain method of extraditing criminals than at present exists, and that such method should cover every wrong coming under a criminal category. Some villain escapes from the United States to this country, and when arrested here, a fight is made in his behalf, as if the whole honour and welfare of the country was involved in securing a safe asylum for such characters, and every possible difficulty is placed in the way of the officers of justice, as if it was really a desirable thing that either country should be made a safe refuge for the criminals of the other. It is high time that this absurdity should be done away with, and that if we cannot have reciprocity in commercial matters, we should have it in the matter of criminals. After suspicion fell on Dr. King, of Brighton, for the murder of his wife, he escaped to the United States, and a brother of his murdered wife followed him, and, quietly placing the muzzle of a loaded pistol to his head, asked which he would prefer, to return to Canada and be tried for the crime, or have his brains blown out. He chose the former, came back to Canada, was tried at Cobourg and hanged, as he richly deserved to be. Between his sentence and execution, his counsel and friends made representations to the American Government at Washington, that he had been taken by force out of the United States, where he had sought an asylum, and been taken to Canada and sentenced to be hanged. The United States did not consider it worth while to go to war with Great Britain for the sake of such a miscreant, and took no notice of the application; but it might have been made a subject of grave complication; and no such chance should be afforded between two countries such as they and we are, with laws almost alike, and linked together by affinity and language, and being, geographically, one country. Our criminal code needs revising and amending in many particulars, and in so revising and amending, the extradition laws should have special attention.—Bowmanville News.

Holloway's Pills.—The changes of temperature and weather frequently upset persons who are most cautious of their health, and most particular in their diets. These corrective, purifying, and gentle aperient Pills are the best remedy for all defective actions of the digestive organs; they augment the appetite, strengthen the stomach, correct biliousness, and carry off all that is noxious from the system. Holloway's Pills are composed of rare balsams, unimixed with baser matter, and on that account are peculiarly well adapted for the young, delicate, and aged. As this peerless medicine has gained fame in the past, so will it preserve it in the future by its renovating and invigorating qualities, and its incapacity of doing harm.

THE Voters' List for the Township of Thorah for 1882 is in the hands of the printer and will shortly be published.

NEWSPAPER advertising is now recognized by business men having faith in their own wares, as the most effective means of securing for their goods a wide recognition of their merits.

MR. GEO. R. PROCTOR met with a rather serious mishap on Tuesday. Getting on the train at Woodville Junction he slipped and sprained his ankle. He is now unable to be out.

OUR Lacrosse Boys played against Millbrook on Monday last, and came off second best. A plucky game was played and the "Checkers (our own club) succeeded in getting the first game, Millbrook taking the next three.

ON Monday last the remains of Mrs. McKay, wife of Mr. Jno. McKay, harness maker of this village, were laid to rest in the Cambridge burying ground. Mrs. McKay had been sick for some time. A large number were present at the funeral.

SUBSCRIPTION for THE BEAVERTON EXPRESS received at the Post Office, Beaverton, or at our office, Jno. McKinnon's Medical Hall. Parties desirous of paying their subscriptions, Mr. Jno. McKinnon has been authorized to receive and give receipts for the same in our absence.

MR. JAS. LAMBERT of Georgia, met with a disaster to his rig on Wednesday last. When in the vicinity of the station the horses took fright at a train and became unmanageable. Mr. Lambert was thrown out and received a few slight bruises, and the horses ran until stopped on Simcoe Street. The wagon was badly broken.

A PURSE has been handed to us, which was found on the streets of Lindsay last Saturday, and from the documents contained in it, evidently belongs to Miss Annie Hogan, Beaverton, or its vicinity. The owner can have the same by calling at Beaverton Post Office and proving property. No charge for this advertisement.

MANY of our readers are possibly not aware that Mr. C. T. Young has removed his woollen mill. Such, however, is the case. He may now be found at the new mill on the north side of the bridge. We state this as a number of his customers have been misled by the supposition that he is still carrying on business at the old stand.

THE traffic returns of the Midland Railway for the week ending June 3rd, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $4,923.92; freight, $15,341.72; total, $20,335.65, as compared with $16,419.81 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $3,915.83; and the aggregate traffic to date is $374,160.79, being an increase of $108,675.87 over 1881.

THE Union Picnic held last Wednesday in McRae's Grove, Lake Shore, turned out rather unpleasant. A large number of persons gathered and everything prepared for a very pleasant afternoon's enjoyment, when it commenced to rain in torrents, and continued until late in the evening. The provisions brought to the ground were nearly all spoiled. Nearly five hundred people were present, we learn.

MR. JEREMIAH LONG, the Returning Officer for North Ontario, had a most arduous task in performing his duties under the new Bill, to find out who were the proper custodians of the voters' lists, and for other purposes connected with the election, he had to make enquiries of the clerks of the peace at Barrie, Lindsay and Whitby. He finds the newly added townships in the north are situated, territorially in the Territorial District of Muskoka; that, for municipal purposes, they belong to the county of Victoria; that, for judicial purposes, they belong to the county of Simcoe; and that for parliamentary purposes, they belong to the county of Ontario.
